CHARGES NEEDY MERE PAWNS IN WPA CASH FIGHT

Uproar Grows Over Extra 150 Million.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—[Special.]—The uproar in congress over President Roosevelt's demand for an extra 150 million dollars for WPA grew louder today. Three developments, showing the administration's strategy in an attempt to whip legislators into line, were revealed. They are:

1 The charge was made—but denied by WPA Administrator F. C. Harrington—that the agency had dropped persons in great need from the rolls in order that the subsequent distress of these persons would bring pressure to bear upon congress.

2. A resolution was introduced by Representative Arthur D. Healey [D., Mass.], an administration supporter, authorizing congress to obtain statements of work relief needs from mayors of cities. Inasmuch as the mayors invariably request more money than even Mr. Roosevelt deems necessary, this move was calculated to put sponsors of the $150,000,000 fund in a strong position.

3 Democratic leaders considered proposing an exhaustive investigation of WPA in return for support of the supplemental fund.

Charges Widows Are Targets.

Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.], ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, made the charge that WPA rolls were juggled to influence congress.

"We know that cuts were made entirely among the most deserving in an effort to bring pressure on congress," said Taber. "They have done such things as letting out widows in Ohio and in New York, instead of cleaning out the political hacks."

Harrington denied this charge, as well as reports heard by other congressmen that WPA had singled out certain areas for reductions to bring reluctant congressmen into line.

Harrington testified before the subcommittee considering the President's request. He supported Mr. Roosevelt's contention that 400,000 persons must be dropped from the rolls early next month and another 600,000 in the first week of May, unless an additional $150,000,000 is appropriated.

Woodrum Holds Whip Hand.

Representative Edward T. Taylor [D., Colo.] presided at the committee hearing in place of Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], who was purged from his place of authority because he opposes granting more money to the agency. However, Woodrum did much of the questioning.

It is expected that Woodrum will decide the action to be taken by the subcommittee. Four Republican members and at least two Democrats on the committee of twelve are aligned with him on his stand that WPA can carry on with the $725,000,000 granted it early in the session. This can be accomplished, they say, by canceling wasteful and extravagant projects and eliminating WPA "career men" who have made a profession of living off the government.

Whether the full committee on appropriations, which consists of twenty-five Democrats and fifteen Republicans, would overrule a decision of the subcommittee remained in doubt. Woodrum beat Chairman Taylor on a similar test last January.

Assail Treatment of Woodrum.

Woodrum's removal from his post was assailed by Representative Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.].

"Members are shocked at the treatment of Mr. Woodrum, who is one of the ablest and most influential members of the house," Cox said. "They are so resentful that the $150,000,000 would be defeated overwhelmingly if voted on today."

The Healey proposal that the subcommittee get its information on WPA needs from the mayors of cities with a population of 5,000 or over came in for some ridicule from members of the economy bloc.

When the WPA appropriation was before congress two months ago, the mayors presented demands ranging from $40,000,000 to $175,000,000 more than the $875,000,000 requested by President Roosevelt. The mayors would be sure to insist that $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 is needed instead of the $150,000,000 now demanded by the President, it was pointed out.

AMBUSH LEADER OF PAINTERS IN W. SIDE STREET

Renewal of Long Warfare Seen.

Charles Youngblood and his wife were ambushed and severely wounded early today in a gangland shooting which police attribute to a renewal of the bloody internal warfare in the painters' union.

Charles Youngblood. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Youngblood, an ex-convict bandit, is business agent of local 147 of the union. He was a friend and associate of James G. Dungan, who was the sixth person connected with the union to be murdered in the last eight years.

Disregard Peril to Wife.

While the assassins are believed to have been gunning only for Youngblood with their .45 caliber automatic pistols, they did not hesitate to shoot Mrs. Youngblood down to accomplish their purpose. Dungan's killers showed a similar disregard when they ambushed Dungan last Aug. 9 in front of his home at 3116 Lowe avenue, as women and children were on the sidewalk at the time.

The shooting of the Youngbloods occurred as they were walking from 2222 Jackson boulevard to their car, parked a few doors east, to go to their home at 2227 Monroe street.

Working for Friend's Widow.

The Youngbloods were helping to remodel Mrs. Marie Rutter's rooming house at the Jackson boulevard address into a three story apartment building. Working with them were Frank Force, who lives with them, and two members of the linoleum layers' union, H. D. Drain of 3344 Ogden avenue, and Vern Styck of 4917 Altgeld street. All were working gratis because of friendship for Mrs. Rutter's late husband, a member of Youngblood's union.

Drain and Styck left first and went to Drain's car. The Youngbloods went down the steps and turned eastward to their car, while Force locked the door, since Mrs. Rutter is away.

Open Fire from Auto.

Suddenly a car that had evidently been parked in front moved slowly westward. As it came abreast the Youngbloods the two men inside opened fire.

Mrs. Youngblood screamed "I'm shot." She crumpled on the sidewalk, shot through the right thigh and left knee.

There was another blast and Youngblood fell, shot in the groin and the left knee.

The gunmen's car raced westward and disappeared.

The Youngbloods' companions rushed them to the office of Dr. Mitchell S. Corbett at 1380 Lake street. He sent them on to the Norwegian-American hospital. There it was found that Youngblood's wife, Loretta, who is 40 years old, has a good chance for recovery. Youngblood, who is 49, was the more seriously wounded.

Denies Trouble in Union.

He denied that there had been any trouble in the union ranks. But he has been arrested several times in recent months as the result of complaints of terrorism.

Among the murder victims connected with the union was Mrs. [illegible] Henneman, wife of George Henneman, secretary-treasurer of local 191. She was shotgunned to death in 1936 as she rode with her husband. Michael [Bubs] Quinlan, gangster, was shot to death in 1934 while trying to muscle into the union. Robert Shields, Roy Thompson, and Frank Carr were others whose murders were blamed upon the union's troubles.

G.O.P. Wants Searle to Head Waste Inquiry

COLOR MAP.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—Speaker Hugh W. Cross of the Illinois house of representatives and Acting Governor John Stelle exchanged letters today over the chairmanship of the joint committee named to investigate spending in the last four years by the Democratic state administration.

The speaker proposed that Representative Clinton Searle [R., Rock Island], who was head of a G. O. P. committee discharged yesterday by a Republican-Democratic house coalition, be made chairman of the joint body.

Stelle replied that the selection of a chairman should be left to the committee and repeated that the choice of a Republican would be satisfactory.

Stelle wrote Cross last week that he hoped "a fair and impartial" committee would be appointed from the house, and not one whose purpose was "mud slinging."

House Group Renamed.

This was believed to be a reference to Searle because of his Republican partisanship. Today Speaker Cross replied to Stelle by renaming the Searle committee in its entirety.

Besides Searle, the house committee will consist of Sam O. Dale [R., Fairfield], Fred W. Rennick [R., Buda], John A. Bingham [R., Galena], David I. Swanson [R., Chicago], Frank Ryan [D., Chicago], and W. O. Edwards [D., Danville].

One Change in Senate Group.

Senator George M. Maypole [D., Chicago], president pro tempore of the senate, announced today that, with one exception, he would reappoint the senate's investigating committee to the joint committee.

BERLIN PLANE FORCED DOWN IN ATLANTIC ON SECRET HOP TO BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, March 15.—(AP)—A German airplane making a secret long distance nonstop flight from Berlin to South America was reported forced down at sea today. The report, picked up by the Air France radio station on the Island of Fernando de Noronha, said the crew was rescued.

At Natal, one of the points at which it had been expected the craft might land, it was reported the plane was forced down near Fernando de Noronha, 125 miles off Brazil's easternmost tip. The German steamer Monte Pascoal was reported to have picked up the crew.

The plane, a Heinkel, left Berlin at 2:06 p. m. yesterday. It passed over the Cape Verde Islands at 9:45 a. m. today and had been expected to reach Natal tonight.

After 25 Years a Job Falls to Old Hickory

The firemen said goodness, they wouldn't know what to do.

The man at the ward office said the WPA men had all gone home.

The man at the forestry office said certainly, it would be attended to the first thing in the morning.

And so Sergt. Michael Burke of the Damen avenue police told Policeman Charles Jackson last night:

"Every one's calling about a tree that the wind has broken off in front of 2106 Grace street. It's going to fall and hurt some one. Go over there and do something."

Scarce as Hen's Teeth.

Policeman Jackson went. He walked two and one-half times around the tree and said with assurance "Catalpa." Then he went from door to door trying to borrow on an ax.

Eventually he found some one with an ax and scrambled ten feet up the tree to the break. The neighborhood rang with blows from his ax until he lost his balance and toppled out of the crotch. Then he borrowed a ladder and chopped again.

"You're chopping on the wrong side," some of the watchers warned him. "Better wait for some one who knows about trees," others said. Every one knew the tree would fall the wrong way.

Where Will It Fall?

At last Policeman Jackson said for the crowd to stand back. He would fell the tree between the sidewalk and the curb, he said, but it was best to take no chances. Then he struck one more blow.

The big tree creaked and fell—precisely where Policeman Jackson said it would fall, between the sidewalk and the curb. He returned the ax with thanks and telephoned the sergeant:

"The tree is down. . . . What? Certainly I chopped it down. . . . Where'd I learn how? Up in Escanaba, Mich., when I was a lumberjack. I've been 25 years on the police force waiting for a job like this. Know what they called me up there? Old Hickory!"

THOUSANDS OF JEWS HIDE AS HITLER ENTERS PRAGUE

MASARYK CALLS ON CZECHS IN U. S. TO PRIZE LIBERTY

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Dr. Jan Masaryk, son of the founder of the Czecho-Slovak republic, last night advised Americans of Czech and Slovak descent to prize above all their American citizenship. It is by the example of their conduct as free citizens in a free country that they can best pave the way back to freedom for their downtrodden brothers in Europe, he said.

Dr. Masaryk, who was his country's minister to Great Britain at the time of the Munich pact that opened the way to Hitler's seizure of the Czech provinces, offered his advice as the son of an American mother. He addressed a protest meeting in Pilsen hall at 26th street and Albany avenue.

Reads Benes Statement.

Before the meeting he read the only statement Eduard Benes, former president of Czecho-Slovakia, has made on current affairs in his native land since Dr. Benes came to America to lecture at the University of Chicago. The statement characterized Hitler's action as "a new, shocking international crime."

The hall where Dr. Masaryk spoke was crowded almost to suffocation. Police finally closed the doors and turned hundreds away. It was a tense, quiet crowd, workers and a sprinkling of professional people from the Bohemian and Slovak colony on the southwest side.

For the most part the crowd sat in almost deathlike silence, as during a funeral. Faces of men twisted grimly and women wept openly as the speaker addressed them in conversational tones.

Rallies Crowd to Flag.

"I am not speaking to rightists or leftists, socialists or conservatives," Masaryk began, "but to descendants of those who came from the country of St. Wenceslaus and John Huss [Catholic and Protestant religious heroes of Bohemia]. Today, being proud American citizens, they must think of themselves only as a people whose ancestral country has been raped, this regardless of their individual faith or political belief.

"I make this plea to you as the son of an American mother. I think I have a right to give you a bit of friendly advice. That advice is—man, woman, and child, one and all—gather around the American flag, which means free institutions of America."

Dr. Masaryk spoke in the Czech language. Once, however, he turned to the Slovak tongue, and referring to efforts of Nazi propagandists to represent the two races as radically different, asked his audience if there was any one in the hall who failed to understand.

"No, we all understand," came answering shouts.

The meeting was arranged by Chicago chapters of the Czech American National Alliance, the Alliance of Bohemian Catholics and the Slovak American Alliance.

Fight for Liberty, Benes Urges.

In his message, read at the meeting, Dr. Benes declared Czechs and Slovaks will continue their fight for freedom and for the ideals of Dr. Masaryk's father, Prof. Thomas G. Masaryk, first president of the republic.

"In September of last year the Czecho-Slovak people — Czechs and Slovaks—were advised and forced to make a unique sacrifice so that other nations could live in peace and security," said Dr. Benes. "The national and state existence of our state is being attacked again.

"In Munich four great powers solemnly promised to guarantee the existence and safety of Czecho-Slovak territory. Today one of those powers has wantonly divided that territory and is occupying it with its army.

"I know that after what has happened the Czecho-Slovak people cannot defend themselves and are obliged to give in to brute force. But you Czechs and Slovaks all over the world who remain free keep in mind that the fight for a free human being and a free people of Czecho-Slovakia has not stopped and will not stop until a free central Europe and the free land of the Czechs and Slovaks will be resurrected."

Fuehrer Expected to Proclaim New German Empire.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 15.—Adolf Hitler—Germany's Cæsar—tomorrow will proclaim a holy German empire, Nazis predicted tonight. They said the new empire will include Bohemia, Moravia, and the newly created republic of Slovakia.

The Fuehrer was reported to have embarked upon a policy designed to restore a German empire which would claim the right to assume guardianship over the othe. populations of central Europe.

[It is presumed that Hitler will adopt the name "Holy German Empire" in imitation of the Holy Roman empire, which was founded in 962 A. D. at the instance of Pope John XII. on the ruins of the empire of Charlemagne. It included at its widest extent what are now Germany, Czecho-Slovakia, Switzerland, Austria, Italy as far south as Naples, and eastern France. The Reformation and rise of nationalism weakened its strength until in 1806 the last emperor, Francis II., resigned and Napoleon abolished the empire.]

Hitler Follows Army.

The forecast of Hitler's intentions was made by Nazis following his arrival in Prague, capital of the shattered republic of Czecho-Slovakia. He entered the city at 7:15 p. m., closely on the heels of the German army which occupied fortresses, cities, and villages of Bohemia and Moravia.

Hundreds of Czechs were arrested by the Germans. Several Czech political leaders were reported to have fled the country. Among them was said to be Gen. Jan Syrovy, one-eyed army idol and world war hero who for a time was premier of Czecho-Slovakia during last September's crisis. Thousands of Jews are in hiding. So are German political exiles.

Jews and German refugees attempted to catch early morning trains to flee the invaders, but the stations already were occupied by the Germans. Many were hauled from trains and put in jail.

No Cheers for Hitler.

Prague's dazed population greeted Hitler quietly. The noisy welcomes which he had received in his conquests of Austria and Czecho-Slovakia's Sudetenland were lacking.

Hitler installed himself and his staf in Hradcany castle, the former official home of the presidents of Czecho-Slovakia. The Nazi swastika flag was hoisted over the castle, which sits on a hill above the ancient city of Prague.

The process of occupying Bohemia and Moravia—the last remnants of the 20 year old Czecho-Slovak republic—was accomplished speedily.

Gen. Wilhelm List, commander of the Fifth army group stationed in Vienna, became the military commander of Moravia. Joseph Buerckel, Nazi commissioner in Austria, was appointed List's assistant for civil affairs.

Henlein Gets New Post.

A few hours earlier Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz, commander of the Third army group, had been given executive power over Bohemia. Hitler selected Konrad Henlein, Nazi chieftain in Sudetenland, as head of the civil administration.

[A British news agency (Reuters) dispatch from Prague said Gen. Rudolf Gajda, Czech Fascist leader, who claims to have a private army of 60,000 men, had been named "Fuehrer" of the Czech people. Gajda, who recently was reinstated in the army after ten years "in disgrace" on political grounds, issued a proclamation demanding "quiet and order." He called for support of the "Czech national committee," which he said had been created. The news agency said the Czech cabinet, headed by Premier Rudolf Beran, had formally resigned. The government submitted its resignation Tuesday, but it was not accepted.]

Hacha Returns to Prague.

The tearing asunder of the one time prosperous nation continued in the east. Hungarian troops resumed their advance in Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenia], which yesterday had declared its independence from the Prague government. Dispatches from Warsaw said they had reached the Polish border at two points.

President Emil Hacha and his foreign minister, Frantisek Chvalkovsky, returned to Prague from Berlin tonight. They disclosed they had surrendered the Czechs to Hitler because of threats to destroy Prague with aerial bombs.

Quote Threats of Leaders.

They said Hitler and Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister for aviation, had warned that if they failed to accept the Nazi ultimatum to yield "we Germans will have a chance to show London and Paris and the rest of the world what the German air fleet can do. In a few hours Prague will be destroyed."

Germany's occupation of Bohemia and Moravia was far from being a jubilant one in the eyes of the Czechs.

In Prague the Nazis began seizing the gold thrifty Czechs had saved to refill their own coffers and to lend money to Premier Mussolini of Italy. Il Duce, it was said, needs cash desperately to finance the colonial ventures he is preparing in an attempt to become master of the Mediterranean.

Throughout Bohemia and Moravia the Germans took control of the broken country's wealthy armaments industry that contains the secret of France's Creusot arms factory. They seized the textile industry and the vast timberlands and food reserves of the Czech countryside.

Men and Women Weep.

Although the Nazi press attempted to convey the impression that the German troops were received with friendliness, eye witnesses in Prague and its neighborhood reported that weeping men and women lined the streets in villages with their fists clenched. Sometimes they shouted imprecations at the Germans. Sometimes they cursed beneath their breath.

When the Germans entered Prague this morning, local Nazis lined up along the streets. They wore armbands and waved swastika flags. Behind them stood Czech police, looking straight ahead. There were boos and catcalls. Whenever the cry of "Pfui" became too loud some of the Germans lowered their rifles, as if preparing to shoot.

In a suburb, German troops on motorcycles were endangered when the Czechs hurled sticks into the spokes of the wheels. Some angry inhabitants threw snowballs at armored cars.

Nazis Roar with Laughter.

The Nazis are roaring with laughter at the English and French for believing that by letting the Germans do as they please with the Czechs London and Paris can save what they got out of the Versailles treaty, such as foreign colonies and territorial concessions.

"In these matters we shall act with the same speed and prepared surprise and with the same thoroughness as we prepared the end of Czech independence," the Nazis said. "The joke on the others is that we told many of them that we were planning a new move, but nobody thought we would have the courage to execute it. They shall see how we will get everything we set out to obtain."

A few conservative Nazis expressed the fear that the crushing humiliation of the Czechs will increase war preparations in other lands. Nevertheless, the vast majority of Germans are as happy about the new conquest as the meat eater who gets his first juicy steak after being on a long vegetable diet.

Memel Next, Nazis Believe.

While Germany was incorporating Bohemia and Moravia into the reich, the right of self-determination was demanded for 140,000 Germans living in Memel.

Dr. Ernst Neumann, leader of Memel Germans, in an address said: "We must shape our political and economic life according to the right of self-determination and secure our vital rights in such a manner that they are no longer exposed to Lithuanian despotism. We will not be intimidated by the threats of our opponents and will obtain that which is due us on the strength of justice, tradition, and blood."

The speech, which received wide publicity in the German press, is believed to foreshadow a Nazi move for restoring Memel to German possession.

[Memel, an area of about 1,000 square miles, was detached from Germany by the Versailles treaty. Under an agreement of 1924, to which Italy, France, Great Britain, and Japan adhered, it was made a unit under the sovereignty of Lithuania, but with a large measure of autonomy. The port of Memel is more or less international in character.]

HELD TO JURY ON RAPE CHARGE.

Everette Mathes, 19 years old, 1514 Chicago avenue, was held to the grand jury in $5,000 bond on a charge of rape yesterday by Justice of the Peace Elmer J. Tone in Morton Grove county highway police court.

Power Realigned

The diagrams below compare the strength of the air forces, armies and navies of the German alignment (including the armed power of the old Czecho-Slovakia) with the combined forces of Britain and France and of Russia, which is considered as a third factor because of Hitler's drive toward the Russian Ukraine.

NAMES BOHEMIA AND MORAVIA TO BE USED ALONE

BERLIN, March 15.—(AP)—The two Czech sections of what was once Czecho-Slovakia have no common name, a German government spokesman explained today.

Through President Emil Hacha they have placed themselves under Adolf Hitler's protection and are now parts of Greater Germany and in all likelihood will be known simply as Bohemia and Moravia, separately, he declared.

DEATH IN CAFE HELD ACCIDENT.

Gustav R. Pearson's death was held an accident by a coroner's jury yesterday. Pearson, who was 47 years old, died Feb. 19 after a fall in a restaurant. He lived at 4350 North Hermitage avenue.

HITLER PRESENTS HISTORY WITH A CONTRADICTION

6 Months Ago He Shouted 'We Don't Want Czechs.'

BERLIN, March 15.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler presented history with a contradiction today when he took the Czechs of Bohemia and Moravia into the German reich as protectorates.

Just a little less than six months ago the Fuehrer stood in Berlin's huge sports palace and shouted into a microphone: "We don't want any Czechs at all!"

This exclamation, which was greeted with great applause, came during the crisis of last September which ended at Munich with the agreement annexing Czecho-Slovakia's Sudetenland to Germany.

In that speech, which was delivered Sept. 26, Hitler also said that his demand for the Sudetenland was "the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe."

Nazis May Revamp Theories.

But today's swift moving events brought 7,000,000 Czechs under German rule despite the Nazi dictum that Germany is not interested in acquiring foreign elements in its population and seeks only to protect or bring back into the reich Germans living outside German borders.

The new state of affairs was expected to bring about a reshaping of Nazidom's theories to the extent of separating the policies of the state and nationality.

Government spokesmen freely admitted that acquisition of the Czechs was a historical turning point and that nothing definite could be stated about how the new situation would fit in with accepted German racial theories.

From the statements of these sources it was indicated the Czechs will form an island of Czech culture within the reich. They will have their own schools, probably with the requirement that German be taught, their own press, and their own societies—in short, cultural autonomy.

Must Accept Nazi Bans.

On the other hand, the Czechs will have to accept the same bans and regulations which apply to Germany.

Details of the new setup, as outlined by a government spokesman, included:

That German money, German postage stamps, and German regulations for imports and exports be used; that the Czech army has ceased to exist; that foreign legations in Prague will be changed to consulates.

Passports of Czech citizens are expected to be German, but possibly with a notation indicating that the holder is of the Czech race. Bohemians and Moravians will fly the Nazi swastika for their flag, but on festive occasions they may also fly their ancient Bohemian and Moravian local flags.

OCTOGENARIAN FALLS DEAD.

Lawrence Rosene, 83 years old, 2720 Logan boulevard, died in his home yesterday, apparently of a heart attack.

EDEN READS FORECAST OF CZECH DOWNFALL FROM HITLER'S BOOK

LONDON, March 15.—(AP)—Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary, read in the house of commons today a passage from the 1938 edition of Adolf Hitler's book, "Mein Kampf," which, he said, "seems to interpret much of the events of the last week."

The quotation is:

"The wise victor will, if possible, always impose his claim on the defeated people, stage by stage, dealing with the people that has grown defeated, and this is every people which has voluntarily submitted to force. He may then rely on the fact that in not one of these further acts of oppression will it seem sufficient reason to take up arms again."

DON'T INTERFERE, FRANCE WARNED IN HITLER NOTE

PARIS, March 15.—(AP)—France, though startled by Nazi Germany's sudden eastward thrust, still concentrated her energies today on preparing for a possible "next crisis" in the Mediterranean area with Italy, backed by Berlin, as the challenger.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet bluntly told the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies that there were "no plans for negotiations" with Italy over Fascist demands for French territory or concessions.

There was every indication that a German hint to Paris that France was expected to keep out of central European developments would be followed to the letter.

Berlin's implied warning came in a note telling the French foreign ministry that Bohemia and Moravia are now linked to Germany. The note was in a brusque tone that seemed to ask, in effect, "So what?" The note declared that the German occupation was being carried out "in full accord with the government of Prague."

IL DUCE NOT TOLD OF HITLER PLANS, DIPLOMATS SAY

ROME, March 15.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini met with his cabinet ministers today for what was believed to be a discussion of Germany's moves in central Europe. Officials were noncommittal on the Nazi occupation of remnants of Czecho-Slovakia, but some diplomats said they believed the Italians lacked advance notice of Chancellor Hitler's intentions.

The Gazzetta del Popolo of Turin interpreted the German expansion of influence as clearing the way for Nazi support of Italian territorial demands on France. The paper said:

"When we present Paris with our bill for a century of French policy intended to drown us in the waters of our own sea [the Mediterranean], France will find . . . Germany free from every eastern worry and ready at Italy's side with all her forces and all her heart."

HUNGARY OPENS PATH TO POLAND; SPLITS RUTHENIA

Soldiers Fight 60 Miles Through Blizzard.

WARSAW, March 16 [Thursday].—(AP)—Hungarian troops, fighting their way through a blizzard and across sixty miles of mountainous terrain in Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenia], today established a common frontier with Poland at Sianki and Lavoczne.

The small detachments, which thus split Chust, the Ruthenian capital, and the eastern tip of demolished Czecho-Slovakia from Slovakia and Prague, were given a warm welcome by Polish troops at the guard stations. Triumphal arches of pine boughs, entwined with Polish and Hungarian flags, were erected even before the arrival of the Hungarians.

One detachment reached Sianki by way of the Ung river valley, and another, farther east, reached Lavoczne by way of the Latorcza valley. Supporting forces were expected to follow later.

[These detachments apparently advanced on lines to the west of where other Hungarians were encountering their greatest resistance.]

Old Dream Realized.

Polish military sources said they were "happy that the 20 year old dream of a common frontier with Hungary has now been realized."

Poland yesterday gave formal diplomatic recognition and appointed an envoy to the independent state of Slovakia, organized only the day before under Adolf Hitler's tutelage.

But Poland generally felt apprehension over the growth of Nazi power to the south. Through the "protectorate" over Bohemia and Moravia and sponsorship of Slovakia's independence Germany's contiguous border with Poland in effect was stretched eastward 200 miles. The press called for inner consolidation in the face of expanding Germany.

Ruthenians Put Up Fight.

BUDAPEST, March 15.—(AP)—Hungarian troops marching northward to occupy Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenia] of the fallen Czecho-Slovak republic were being resisted tonight by artillery and machine gun fire, a foreign office spokesman announced. He admitted there had been Hungarian casualties, but said the number of dead was not known.

Trains and trucks were rushing more Hungarian troops into the region and tens of thousands of soldiers were on the move.

A general of the Hungarian staf said resistance was so vigorous northeast of Munkacs on the Hungarian-Ruthenian frontier that "a field campaign may be necessary."

Snow Six Feet Deep.

Hungarians advanced through snow which in some places in the mountains was six feet deep. Hidden machine gunners harassed them by sporadic fire which covered the mountain roads.

A communique said that bridges and railway lines were being destroyed by Ukrainian bands "recruited in Poland."

More than 100 Ruthenian villages were reported occupied today by Hungarian soldiers.

The fighting was going on despite Czech official acceptance yesterday of a Hungarian ultimatum to withdraw. Unofficial semi-military formations apparently were responsible for at least a part of the bitter resistance.

The Hungarian military command reported that Gen. Leo Prchala, the Czech military commander in the region, had asked for a five day period to withdraw from all Carpatho-Ukraine.

The Hungarian answer was that even more time for withdrawal would be allowed, but that the Czech troops must give up their arms at once. Safe conduct was promised for all Czech soldiers wishing to return to Moravia, Slovakia, or Bohemia.

A Hungarian ultimatum demanding surrender to Hungary's troops brought a conciliatory reply from Ruthenian Premier Augustin Volosin, but Budapest officials refused to halt the invasion.

Besides the fighting in Ruthenia, there was fighting in Slovakia, in the valley of the Vah river. Slovaks were fighting with diehard remnants of the old Czecho-Slovak national constabulary.

Rumania Foregoes Claims.

BUCHAREST, March 15.—(AP)—Assurances were given in official quarters today that Rumania had no desire to annex any portion of Carpatho-Ukraine, which adjoins Rumania. Both Hungary and Poland had asked Rumania whether she had any territorial claims on the territory and received negative answers.

Rumania also denied officially reports circulated yesterday that Rumanian troops had entered Ruthenian territory inhabited by the Rumanian minority and occupied some towns.

MOSCOW WARNS OF RED ARMY'S SUPERBOMBERS

Fly at 50,000 Feet, War Chief Boasts.

MOSCOW, March 15.—(AP)—Klementi E. Voroshilov, war commissar, told the 18th communist party congress in a speech published today that a vastly augmented Red army and air force was ready to punish swiftly any aggression against soviet Russian territory.

Klementi E. Voroshilov.

Voroshilov asserted that fast bombing planes, capable of climbing nearly 50,000 feet, were ready to swoop down on even a distant enemy and could carry three times the weight of bombs possible five years ago. Soviet planes, he said, could drop an aggregate of 6,160 tons of explosives in a single flight.

He did not mention specifically Germany's eastward drive, but said that "this mass of metal, which can be transported a great distance" could thwart quickly any aggressor with "delirious ideas." He said the Red army's strength had been more than doubled since 1934.

Recalls Clash with Japs.

Voroshilov referred to the "Changkufeng victory" last August, when soviet troops clashed with Japanese and Manchukuan forces on the Siberian-Corean-Manchukuan frontier. That he said, was a lesson to those who thought the Red army had been weakened by the "elimination" of "such traitors" as Marshal Michael N. Tukhachevsky, who was shot with seven others for treason on June 12, 1937.

Not Interested in Czechs.

The dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia, once a soviet ally, was called a "continuation of Munich" and a matter in which the soviet union was not directly interested.

The changed military situation in eastern Europe because of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's new advance was discounted here.

From the soviet viewpoint the Czechs themselves are largely to blame for the collapse of their republic yesterday. It was charged that Czech leaders showed too much eagerness to satisfy Hitler.

Jugo-Slavs Protest Paris' Failure to Help Czechs

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, March 15.—(AP)—University students demonstrated noisily in front of the French legation tonight, shouting: "Defend Czecho-Slovakia!" Police dispersed them. The collapse of Czecho-Slovakia obviously worried Jugo-Slav officials dealing with minorities in this country. There were indications that the developments in Czecho-Slovakia would speed a settlement of the Croats' demands for autonomy.

ENGLAND CALLS OFF TRADE TALKS WITH GERMANY

Premier Reveals Czech Loan Is Canceled.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15.—Great Britain no longer is bound by its guarantee of Czecho-Slovakian frontiers, and considers that the Slovaks, not the Munich conference, put an end to the republic of the late President Thomas Masaryk. Prime Minister Chamberlain announced this tonight in the house of commons.

He said, at the same time, that the British are withholding the balance of a loan of $50,000,000 made to the Czechs after the Munich conference last September, in which Britain, France, and Italy agreed that Germany should seize the Sudetenland. The sum of $17,500,000 already has been paid to Prague, Chamberlain said.

Although the British public was startled and shocked by Reichsfuehrer Hitler's seizure of the Czech state with a display of military force, government circles tonight refused to believe the German action brought a general European war any nearer.

Premier Objects Mildly.

Chamberlain, however, did announce that he has called off the visit of Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, and R. S. Hudson, overseas secretary, who were scheduled to go to Berlin for trade talks today. Hudson will leave on Friday, but will go only to Warsaw and Moscow.

In his statement to the commons, which was repeated before the house of lords by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, Chamberlain objected mildly that Hitler, in seizing Prague, had not acted in the spirit of the Munich agreement.

He pointed out that Hitler sent German troops across the border without consulting other signers of the Munich agreement. Chamberlain gave no indication, however, that the British government would make any formal protest.

"Let Us Not Be Deflected."

Standing in what appeared to be the ruins of his Munich policy, Chamberlain defended himself on the grounds that he could not, at the time of the Munich parley, have anticipated what has happened.

"While I bitterly regret what has occurred, do not let us be deflected from our course," Chamberlain said. "Let us remember that the desire of all peoples still remains concentrated on peace.

"The attempt to preserve the state containing the Czechs and Slovaks and also minorities was liable to the same possibilities of change as was its constitution drafted under the treaty of Versailles. It has not survived. It may or may not have been inevitable. I do not wish to associate myself today with any charges of breach of faith."

Recalls Pledge of Aid.

Chamberlain recalled that Sir Thomas Inskip, then minister for coordination of defense, on Oct. 4 had pledged to the house of commons that although no formal treaty guarantee of Czech frontiers had been completed the Chamberlain government felt under moral obligation to treat it as being in force.

Referring to this, Chamberlain said: "In our opinion this situation was altered radically as soon as the Slovak diet declared the independence of Slovakia. The effect of this declaration was to put an end by internal disruption to the state whose frontiers we proposed to guarantee."

Chamberlain's statement and that of Halifax loosed a savage debate in which opposition speakers raked the government with all the pent up wrath of those who felt their worst fears had been realized.

"It is a day of humiliation and shame for us," cried David Grenfell, a Laborite.

Reports were current tonight in London that the next act in Europe's annual spring drama of shock diplomacy will be the seizure of Albania by Premier Mussolini of Italy. The Italians already run the little country of King Zog I., but outright seizure will give Il Duce the spectacular gesture which, more than the concessions he wants from the French, will bolster his prestige.

[Fascists for weeks have been clamoring for concessions from France. They have demanded the French protectorate of Tunisia, the island of Corsica, an interest in the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railway, and in the Suez canal.]

Occupy Land Split by Hitler Coup

While German troops yesterday were marching into Bohemia and Moravia unopposed, fighting raged in two other parts of dismembered Czecho-Slovakia. Slovaks fought diehard elements of the national constabulary. Ruthenians fought to save their state from invaders, but Hungarian detachments battled their way to Sianki and Lavoczne and established a common frontier with Poland.

SWISS FEAR HITLER; SEND NATION'S GOLD TO N. Y. AND LONDON

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, March 15.—The Swiss press, commenting today on the fate of Czecho-Slovakia, reflected widespread uneasiness. The Basler Nachrichten said the troubled political atmosphere has put Swiss authorities on their guard, especially over the country's huge gold stocks.

A large part of the gold, the newspaper revealed, already has been transferred to London or New York. The 40 per cent currency coverage which Swiss law requires must be kept within the country, has been removed from the vaults of the National bank in Berne to a safer secret repository, the paper said.

"In the face of such disasters," the newspaper continued, "every little country will realize the need to avoid anything that might weaken its national unity. It will understand also that its army ought to be ready to confront these sudden aggressions."

Nazis Halt Opera; Horthy, Hungary's Regent, Present

BUDAPEST, March 15.—(AP)—Nazi demonstrators tonight interrupted a performance by the royal Hungarian opera which was attended by Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary. In the first act Nazis in the upper gallery shouted "Free Szalasi!" Ferenc Szalasi is an imprisoned Hungarian Nazi leader.

WOMAN DIES; HUNT RELATIVES.

Mrs. Emma Gilmore, 79 years old, died of heart disease yesterday in her room at 1453 Larrabee street. The police, who found bankbooks showing that she had $750 on deposit, started a search for her relatives.

DANISH CROWN PRINCE AND WIFE TO VISIT CHICAGO

Crown Prince Frederik of Denmark and Crown Princess Ingrid will be guests of Chicago from April 23 to April 26, during the American visit, Mayor Kelly announced yesterday. The crown prince, who is 40 years old, and his wife, a Swedish princess, who is 29, are due at San Pedro, Cal., on April 6. 90 MILLION GOLD CACHE TO STEADY NAZIS' FINANCES

Czech Grab to Aid Shaky Foreign Trade Also.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler's latest seizure in central Europe will give the Nazis control of more than $90,000,000 of Czecho-Slovak gold and additional millions of dollars in foreign exchange credits, foreign trade experts said yesterday. They predicted that these props would, for the present, help to steady Nazi finances, which have become increasingly shaky since Austria was annexed a year ago.

Germany also stands to gain access to quantities of surplus agricultural products, many of which the Czecho-Slovaks have been shipping to Great Britain, France, and other countries. With the control the Nazis now have over Bohemia-Moravia, Slovakia, and possibly Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenia], they can force these puppet states to accept barter deals, foreign trade men said.

Expect Forced Shipments.

The probable result of such deals, they added, will be that these areas will be forced to ship to Germany the goods which the Germans want and that the Nazis in return will pay only with goods they can spare regardless of the Czecho-Slovaks' needs. The little states produce surpluses of wheat and other grains, potatoes, sugar beets, cattle, and pigs.

In addition, the Nazis now will have control over those manufacturing industries of former Czecho-Slovakia which they did not capture as a result of the Munich conference of last September. After Germany's territorial acquisitions from Czecho-Slovakia at that time the Czecho-Slovaks still retained 70 per cent of their iron and steel production, 76 per cent of the brass mills, 64 per cent of the coke ovens, 60 per cent of the textile mills, and 90 per cent of the shoe and lether factories. These now have passed under German control.

Get Control of Skoda Works.

In addition, the Skoda Armament works now will make arms for Germany. The main Skoda works at Pilsen fell just inside the Czecho-Slovakian borders after the republic lost Sudetenland at Munich.

Czecho-Slovakia's central bank on Jan. 31 of this year reported gold reserves of $94,000,000. This is more than three times the German reichsbank's admitted gold of $29,000,000, and more than twice the $46,000,000 in gold gained by Hitler when he annexed Austria.

What use was made of the Austrian gold never was reported by the Nazis, but presumably it was spent to help make up for the 1938 deficit of more than $160,000,000 in Germany's foreign trade balance, trade experts said.

Held $41,000,000 Abroad.

Credits in foreign countries held by the Czech-Slovak Central bank amounted to $41,000,000 on Jan. 31, the bank's statement showed. This sum probably included some blocked credits, but it also included some credits advanced to Czecho-Slovakia by Great Britain to further reconstruction after the Munich settlement.

The Nazis will be able to dictate the use of the foreign credits that are not blocked and thus will be able to offset them against some of Germany's debts abroad or to buy goods needed by the Germans. In addition, the Nazis are in a position to dictate, as they did in Austria, how the foreign credits held by private individuals and companies can be spent abroad.

Germany's foreign trade position will be strengthened by its control over Czecho-Slovak trade, experts pointed out. Czecho-Slovakia has had an export surplus, or favorable trade balance, of more than $35,000,000 a year in recent years.

Economists estimated, however, that the gains from Czecho-Slovak gold, exchange credits, and foreign trade balances, would not be enough to offset Germany's unfavorable trade balance for any great length of time.

One threat to the Nazis is that goods made in what was Czecho-Slovakia will be boycotted in the future by anti-Nazi buyers in other countries just as German goods have been boycotted by many buyers.

Going to Canada

Great Britain's imperial crown of state.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15.—When King George VI. of Great Britain attends parliament in Ottawa on his Canadian visit, he will wear the $2,500,000 imperial crown of state, the first time in history that the crown has left Britain's shores, it was announced tonight.

The decision apparently was made as a result of reports from Alan Lascelles, the king's assistant private secretary who is en route home after consulting Canadians and President Roosevelt regarding the visit. However, it is believed the crown will not be taken to the United States.

The king also will wear the royal robes in Canada's parliament. This will be the first time a reigning European monarch has performed a governmental function on the North American continent. He also is expected to give royal assent to one or two acts, which will mark the first time a royal signature has been attached to Canadian legislation.

MARCH HITLER'S MONTH AND IT'S ONLY HALF OVER

Washington, D. C., March 15.—(AP)—The ides of March have come again for Adolf Hitler. By carrying out his coup against Czecho-Slovakia he added another to the long list of major achievements accomplished in the third month of the year.

The series began in the first year of his régime. It was in March, 1933, that he won the last elections under the Weimar republic and became undisputed dictator of Germany. Two years later, in March, he repudiated the restrictions of the Versailles treaty, restored universal compulsory military service, and announced a new German army of twelve corps numbering up to 500,000 men.

On March 7, 1936, Nazi Germany reoccupied the Rhineland, obliterated the last military clauses of the Versailles treaty, and denounced the treaty of Locarno. On March 11, 1938, Hitler took over Austria. And now, March, 1939, Hitler has assumed a protectorate over Czecho-Slovakia.

Officials, a little stunned by the speed of Der Fuehrer's move and by the lack of any definite reaction from Britain and France, had only this observation to make:

"March is still only half over."

MANN PREDICTS ULTIMATE DOOM OF HITLER POLICY

Rebirth of Democracy in Germany Forecast.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Ultimate disaster for the brutal rule of the National Socialist party in Germany and ultimate survival of the idea of freedom, as expressed through democracy and Christianity—these are the predictions of Dr. Thomas Mann, Nobel prize winner in literature and self exile from Germany. He lectured last night on "Democracy in Crisis" at Temple Sholom [the temple of peace], 3480 Lake Shore drive, before an audience of 2,500. In view of the current European crisis, Dr. Mann revised part of his lecture. He described the present moment as "dramatic, even tragic."

Dr. Thomas Mann.

The European democracies will pay dearly, he said, for their acceptance of the German drive to the east. It is an obvious consequence of the Munich "appeasement" program, he said; a consequence which could have been foreseen by any thinking human.

Step Nearer Final Crisis.

"It is a deeply depressing and brutal reality," he said. "Every step forward in the tragedy is a step nearer the final crisis and catastrophe, which has been imminent in national socialism since the beginning—a logical and moral consequence of the errors, meannesses, and crimes which Europe has committed in these years."

One may feel, he said, that a great nation like Germany cannot be kept down; that the theory of the haves and the have nots had to fall and international justice come to rule. "But," he added, "even truth can become a lie in the mouth of a born liar."

He pictured a new German democratic government in the "not too far future" which will try to win its way back to world sympathy.

Feels Hitler Can't Be Appeased.

Now, he declared, acceptance of the Nazi coups is not only a betrayal of the little democracies and a discouraging blow at the democratic forces within Germany, but it means for the moment the downfall of democracy on earth.

The nations that are hoping that Hitler can be satisfied in any way are under an illusion, he said, comparing his logic with the logic of a blackmailer.

"But the world spirit," he said, "cannot make Hitler its ruler, and the very boundlessness of national socialism leads to its destruction one way or another. The fundamental values of occidental civilization will win in the end."

This situation makes it all the more necessary, he continued, that Americans recall the essence and meaning of the fundamental values of occidental civilization; recall the childhood of democracy and its relationship to the world of Christian ideas.

Calls Two Theories "Twins."

"Socialism and democracy are twin brothers, both rising out of Christian belief in love for mankind," Dr. Mann said. "Democracy puts the accent on freedom, socialism on equality. First liberal and Socialist philosophies were full of religious enthusiasm. New society is dominated by ideas of peace, work, fraternity, welfare. But welfare means happiness of the community as much as of the individual. This is a Christian feeling, a Christianity developed and directed toward the earth as a Christian humanism.

"So democracy may be called the political expression of the Christian feeling, and in the name of Christianity we are defending nothing else than the ethical foundation of occidental life.

"Once a revolution, democracy is today the greatest conservative power on earth. But if it is to win it cannot merely be, it must give battle. The democratic concept of freedom must never include the freedom to destroy democracy. From the close relationship of democracy and Christianity we may conclude, not that they will disappear together, but that they will survive together."

FAIR, WARM DAY WITH GENTLE BREEZE DUE AS WINTRY GALE SEQUEL

Fair and warmer weather and a gentle breeze are expected today in the wake of zipping winds and low temperatures that gave Chicago an unpleasant aftertaste of winter yesterday. Forecaster J. R. Lloyd predicted the mercury would climb to a maximum of 38 degrees in the afternoon.

Considerable damage was done to roofs, trees, and plate glass windows by yesterday's gale, which reached a velocity of 57 miles an hour in short gusts. No winds as strong had been recorded in 1939 or 1938. The lowest temperature was 22 degrees, a marked contrast to the high of 62 on Tuesday.

Firemen were summoned in the afternoon to the New Drake theater at 3648 Montrose avenue, where the wind had loosened a two and a half ton air vent cover. The metal was lashed to the roof to prevent its blowing into the street.

BOYS TO PAY AND PAY AND PAY AS SCALES AT HOP GIVE GIRLS AWAY

Northwestern university law students with plump sweethearts will have an opportunity to soothe, charm, flatter, captivate, and entrance the party hereinafter called the girl friend tomorrow night under circumstances commonly described as being on the spot, out of luck, and behind the eight ball.

By reason of thoughtlessness, neglect, and dereliction in the arts, ways, and wiles of romance the aforesaid students did permit themselves to be made chumps, sillies, and stupes by fellow classmen with thin girls. Admission, tax, cost, and charge will be at the rate of ½ cent a pound per girl. And stepping on those scales is going to make girls weighing over 103 pounds wroth, irate, indignant, and huffy.

TOWNS ISOLATED BY SNOWSTORM, WINTER'S WORST

Escanaba, Mich., March 15.—[Special.]—The worst storm of the winter, bringing snow drifts from ten to fifteen feet deep, today isolated communities, closed schools, and blocked roads in upper Michigan and northern Minnesota. Northwestern Wisconsin also was blanketed by a heavy snow.

All train service in the copper country was canceled. Two Chicago and North Western passenger trains from Milwaukee, Wis., stalled in drifts. The Iron and Copper Country express was stuck between Sands and Negaunee, Mich. A relief train carried hot food to about twenty passengers on the train. The Ashland express was stuck for a while, but reached Ironwood, Mich., this afternoon.

The Milwaukee road announced that all trains to the Lake Superior district had been canceled.

Schools were closed in Escanaba, Newberry, and Calumet, Mich., and for the second day in Superior and Douglas counties in Wisconsin. State police on snowshoes rescued Antrim county, Mich., pupils whose bus was stalled in drifts.

Sister-in-Law of Voliva Sues Husband as Cruel

Mrs. Rose E. Raso of Zion, a sister-in-law of Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, filed suit in the Circuit court at Waukegan yesterday for separate maintenance from Michael E. Raso, a Zion contractor. Six acts of cruelty, beginning in 1934 and continuing to January, 1939, were cited. Mrs. Raso, who is director of a WPA branch in Lake county, asked custody of her three sons and three daughters.

BRITAIN OFFERS 'FINAL' HOLY LAND PROPOSAL; REJECTION EXPECTED

LONDON, March 15.—(AP)—Great Britain tonight submitted to Jews and Arabs her "final plan" for the future of Palestine. It was made clear that the plan, which was understood to recommend creation of an independent Arab dominated state, would not be modified except in minor details.

It was believed that the Jews, who would have a minority status in the proposed state, would reject the plan, and thus terminate the Holy Land peace conference which has been going on here for five weeks.

A British spokesman said the proposals followed closely the original suggestions presented by the British government on Feb. 27. Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald is expected to present the plan to the house of commons next Wednesday or Thursday.

WARSHIP'S PERIL FROM AIR TOLD BY SPYING TEST

Fleet Watched for Day Without Detection.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—[Special.]—A navy patrol plane, with its motors turning over only enough to keep it at a great height, observed the massed maneuvers of the American navy for most of a day without detection, it was learned today.

The plane, muffled so far as it is possible to stifle the roar of motors and propellers, hung over the water and air fleets of the attacking and defending fleets in the war games President Roosevelt observed two weeks ago.

The spying assignment of the plane was one of the developments of the war games, carried out by the navy bureau of aeronautics. To navy and army men the successful achievement of the assignment is one of the most important, if not the most important single development of the navy's games which were designed to test the Atlantic defenses against possible aggression from European dictator nations.

Stirs Old Controversy.

The feat of the patrol plane revived the old controversy as to whether an airplane can sink a battleship and gave a new argument to those supporting air bombers. For this reason many consider the work of the one patrol plane more important than the outcome of naval problem No. 20.

Those who are convinced that an airplane can blow a man-of-war out of the water argued that if a patrol plane can spend a whole day spying on a fleet and escape detection, bombers can hover over a fleet and work their destruction with almost equal ease.

One 1,000 pound bomb—standard equipment for modern bombers—exploding within 5 to 100 yards of a 70 million dollar battleship, they said, could damage the internal machinery so seriously as to make the vessel a cripple in battle.

A direct hit in a vital spot by the same size bomb would sink a capital ship. And direct hits, it was learned, can be expected in amazing numbers, even at great heights with the army's new bombing sight, which is considered one of the nation's most important military secrets.

Percentage of Hits High.

In tests on dry lakes in California, according to reliable sources, army bombs can hit the outline of a stationary vessel with almost every bomb. And the bombers have a high percentage of hits on towed targets outlined as men of war.

Joint army-navy tests in Pacific and other mock war games have shown incontrovertibly that planes can cripple and even sink superdreadnaughts, it was learned. The most extensive tests were made in the joint maneuvers about Hawaii a year ago. This year the army and navy air force did not participate in problem 20.

Army planes are reported to have raised their hit average to heights above 20,000 feet. Height is an important factor in bombing because the higher the plane can get and drop bombs accurately, the greater chance it has of evading enemy anti-aircraft guns and enemy planes.

Army planes drop their bombs while flying at a level keel. Navy planes release bombs in power dives. Both bombing schools claim the advantage, but the navy is not believed to score as high a percentage of hits in tests as the army.

PLAIN CLOTHES COP DONS FANCY TOGS FOR A TIME

Lieut. Louis Capparelli of the Maxwell street police doesn't want his plain clothes men wearing plain clothes all the time. He beamed when he found that four of them were thinking about cantering on the bridle path in fancy clothes indeed—smart whipcord breeches, gay jackets, gayer shirts, and gleaming boots.

The lieutenant appointed Joseph Fiedoral riding instructor in recognition of his experience as an ice wagon driver. Joseph Sansone, Sidney Karopsky, and John O'Gorman were the other horsemen. Sansone demanded a fiery steed and the riding stable man rented him one known as Strongheart.

Strongheart's heart was strong, but his back was too weak for Plain Clothes Man Sansone's 260 pounds. And so he threw Sansone yesterday. Sansone wound up, slightly injured, in St. Anne's hospital, where the clothes are plain all right—white nightshirts.

ADMIRAL STARK NAMED CHIEF OF NAVY OPERATIONS

Other Assignments Made to High Positions.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—(AP)—The navy announced tonight the selection of Rear Admiral Harold R. Stark, 59 years old, as the new chief of operations, top post of the sea service.

With President Roosevelt's approval, a dozen other assignments were made at the same time. Most of the changes take effect in June.

Stark, short, ruddy faced commander of battle force cruisers, has been chief of ordnance and aid to both Secretaries of the Navy Claude A. Swanson and Charles Francis Adams. He will succeed Admiral William D. Leahy, who is to retire June 1 on reaching the statutory age limit of 64.

The chief of operations is appointed for four years and has the rank of full admiral while in the post.

Veteran Aviator Selected.

Precedent was set aside in the selection of Capt. John Henry Towers, whom fellow officers call "The Navy's No. 1 aviator," as chief of the bureau of aeronautics. Towers, a flyer for more than twenty-seven years, at one time was passed over for promotion and faced the possibility of involuntary retirement. Towers commanded the first ocean massed flight in history, that of the navy's Curtis flying boats from New Foundland to Lisbon via the Azores in 1919.

He and others named to head navy department bureaus for four years will have the temporary rank of rear admiral.

Other selections follow:

REAR ADMIRAL THOMAS CHARLES HART, chairman of the general board, to be commander of the Asiatic fleet with the rank of full admiral. He will relieve Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, who retires in October.

REAR ADMIRAL JAMES O. RICHARDSON, chief of the bureau of navigation, to be commander of the fleet battle force, with rank of admiral. The present commander, Admiral Edward C. Kalbfus, was made president of the Naval War college, Newport, R. I.

REAR ADMIRAL CHESTER W. NIMITZ, commander of battleship division one, to be chief of the bureau of navigation.

REAR ADMIRAL CHARLES PHILIP SNYDER, president of the War college, to be commander of battle force battleships, with rank of vice admiral.

VICE ADMIRAL JOHN WILLS GREENSLADE, whom Snyder relieves, to be a member of the general board.

REAR ADMIRAL CHARLES ADAMS BLAKELY, commander of scouting force aircraft, to be commander of battle force aircraft with rank of vice admiral.

VICE ADMIRAL ERNEST J. KING, now commander of battle force aircraft, transferred to general board.

REAR ADMIRAL ARTHUR B. COOK, aeronautics bureau chief, named to command scouting force aircraft.

Native of Pennsylvania.

Admiral Stark, new operations chief, is a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and a 1903 graduate of the naval academy. In the world war he was awarded the distinguished service medal for commanding a spectacular voyage of old destroyers hurriedly dispatched to the Mediterranean from the Philippines to combat German and Austrian submarines.

PRIVATE RUBICONS

By CALEB

IT WAS a great moment in the career of Julius Caesar, at war with Pompey and the Roman Senate, when, in 49 B. C., he and his troops reached the Rubicon. For that little stream marked the frontier between his province and the Empire. If he crossed, he must go all the way—defeat Pompey, win Rome, challenge the gods, and follow his fate to its farthest star.

History students are familiar with the famous exclamation and act which followed. "The die is cast!" he cried—and crossed! And from that moment on began the series of triumphs which marked Caesar, along with Alexander, Hannibal, and Napoleon, one of the greatest generals, builders, and rulers in the world's annals.

Individual lives have their Rubicons, too. Many are concealed from public scrutiny; not always known even to intimate friends.... A famous past editor of the American Magazine, told he had an incurable disease and not many months to live, cast his die to "carry on" as productively as possible up to the last day. And did. Roger Babson, at one time pronounced beyond help with tuberculosis, decided to cross his Rubicon—and still actively heads an important organization. Biography's pages are filled with similar sagas of men and women who faced their private Rubicons, and cast the die, not to yield, but to go on.

"In any crucial situation," says a New York consultant, "the vital thing is to decide. That done, the next vital thing is to act. Wavering, indecision, putting off facing the issue, is in itself a decision—but the wrong one: a decision to do nothing about a matter that can only be handled by doing something." "I am satisfied," a prominent executive is reported to have declared, "if I am right the greater part of the time. But whatever the outcome, I at least make a decision regarding every problem that comes to my attention."

To make decisions, then, is the plain imperative implicit in this whole question of private Rubicons. Whether to cross over or retreat, must, of course, be weighed in the light of circumstances and one's best judgment. To decide, however, needs no weighing—but doing. Gathering the facts, analyzing those facts, seeking counsel of others—are factors contributing to good judgment that may be public. But the Rubicons finally to be crossed by decision are private and must be faced alone.

LEGION RENEWS LIBERTY VOW ON 20TH BIRTHDAY

Message of Commander Carried to Million.

Twenty years ago yesterday in Paris, France, a group of world war veterans organized the American Legion. Stephen F. Chadwick, national commander of the Legion, on its 20th anniversary last night recalled the aims and achievements of the Legionnaires.

Stephen Chadwick.

He spoke in a national radio broadcast. At the same time many of the 11,538 Legion posts, representing a million men and women who served in the army, navy, and marine corps in 1917 and 1918, were gathered in local reunions and celebrations.

The Legion's first duty, Chadwick said, has been to fulfill its obligation to the war dead and the maimed. But, he added, the men and women who fought in the world war, and who cherish a horror of such a holocaust, have also carried on their duty to subsequent generations, and to America.

Right Over Might Their Aim.

"At the inception of the Legion," Chadwick declared, "we declared ourselves as in opposition to the autocracy of both the classes and the masses, and we dedicated ourselves to make right the master of might, and to promote peace and good will on earth.

"We have supported academic freedom and the inquiring mind, but we have denied the right of any man or group of men to tell our children that they are incapable of their own self-government, and, as a consequence, should surrender their liberties to the dictation of either a class or of an individual."

Chadwick spoke of the Legion's insistence on an adequate national defense which should never be allowed to fall into a state of obsolescence. He then referred to the Legion's program for increasing restrictions on immigration.

Must Serve U. S. Needy First.

"Regardless of the feelings of our heart toward oppressed peoples in other lands," he said, "we must devote ourselves first to the distressed peoples of our own nation."

Other Legion posts will observe the anniversary today and tomorrow. The largest and most important observance in this section will be a joint luncheon today of the Union League club and the club post, No. 758, at which Chadwick will speak. The meeting is open to all Legionnaires.

Gen. John J. Pershing will attend the Legion's national convention here next September, Chadwick announced after conferring with Philip W. Collins, executive vice president of the Legion convention. The convention will be the first Gen. Pershing has attended in ten years.

SHERMAN FIRST TO USE POLITICAL TERM 'NEW DEAL'

Political use of the term "New Deal" was invented by General Sherman, editors of the new American English dictionary have discovered. In a letter written in 1863, Sherman said: "Charleston is not taken, the war is prolonged, and there is but little chance of its ending until we have a new deal." The sixth section of the dictionary, published by the University of Chicago press, will appear soon. It comprises words of strictly American origin, slang and colloquial expressions, and mutations of the mother tongue. The sixth section starts with "corn pit" and ends with "dew."

U. S. TAX RELIEF PROGRAM STILL EMPTY PROMISE

President Again Declines to Commit Himself.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—[Special.]—For the second time within a week President Roosevelt refused again today to commit himself to a program of tax revision to encourage business. Treasury officials and congressional revenue authorities outlined their business appeasement proposals at another White House conference, but no conclusions were reached.

Representative Cooper, who attended White House conference.

The conservative Democrats in congress who are demanding drastic reductions in government spending and the repeal or modification of business stifling taxes now are more convinced than ever that congress cannot rely upon the President's coöperation for any action to carry out such a program.

No Sign of Retreat.

In the opinion of the congressional leaders, the administration's much publicized "recovery" campaign, loudly proclaimed by such spokesmen as Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., does not contemplate any retreat from the New Deal fiscal innovations.

Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, disclosed that tentative suggestions for tax revision and estimates on the revenue that would be lost and have to be compensated for were discussed with the President. Besides Senator Harrison, those attending the White House conference included Secretary Morgenthau, John Hanes, under secretary of the treasury, and Representative Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], representing the ways and means committee.

Harrison Tells of Parley.

"There was nothing in the conference that indicated any lack of coöperation," said Senator Harrison. But he quickly added: "I don't want you to conclude from that that the President has approved these suggestions. No conclusions have been reached. There will be further conferences."

Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead [D., Ala.], who laid the administration's "recovery" drive low yesterday by expressing the opinion that there would be no "serious effort for general revision of the tax laws at this session of congress," ran for cover today. He said he had been misunderstood. What he meant to say, he explained, was that no revenue from corporate taxation could be spared.

Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] also expressed doubt yesterday that a tax revision program was in prospect and also "explained" himself today. He took his cue from Mr. Roosevelt, who declared at his press conference yesterday that he was opposed to a tax program that would curtail revenues or impose heavier burdens on small business.

Charlie McCarthy Returns Safely from a Kidnaping

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—New York chuckled today over the press agent stunt in which Charlie McCarthy was kidnaped last night. Police investigated and said two newspaper men had taken the famed radio dummy from the hotel room of his owner, Edgar Bergen, who, they said, knew nothing about the hoax. Charlie was returned unharmed.

JUST ONE WINK TELLS SCIENCE IF SHE FLIRTS

Southbridge, Mass., March 15.—[Special.]—To be really certain of conveying the information intended by a wink, one should know how much time to use in the operation. From now on there can be no excuse for mistakes, for scientists have measured how long each type of wink takes.

The most common type, the flirtatious wink, lasts from three-eighths to one-half a second. The sly wink takes about one-eighth of a second longer. The lackadaisical wink, used to express boredom, takes from three-quarters to one second. Still slower is the highbrow wink. The fastest, of course, is the reflex wink, taking only from one-eighth to one-quarter of a second.

The measurements were made by means of eye movement photography using the ophthalmograph, recently developed to analyze the eyes' reading habits.

NEW LEADERSHIP OFFERED GREEN IN FOUR WARDS

Candidate Assails Tardy Tax Bills.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Republican headquarters reported last night a rush of volunteers to help build precinct organizations for the Dwight H. Green mayoral campaign in four wards where the committeemen have been superseded for the April 4 election campaign.

After a two hour conference the party city executive committee said it does not expect to supplant any more elected ward committeemen, but that wherever a precinct is found that needs strengthening it will send in reënforcements.

Plans were discussed for massmeetings for the final fortnight of the campaign. It was suggested that one rally be held in the Coliseum or the Stadium.

Four Brushed Aside.

The four ward committeemen who were brushed aside from the Green campaign are State Senator Daniel A. Sarritella [1st], Ald. William V. Pacelli [20th], Paul Rothenberg [24th], and Samuel O. Shaffer [29th]. Because they were elected to their posts and cannot be ousted, the party executive committee voted to build up its own force of workers in their wards.

Edward F. Moore, county chairman, said organizations of Negro voters in the 20th ward are among those volunteering to do precinct work. In the 29th Ralph B. Grosh, head of the Young Republican club, sent word the work is already started in every precinct. In the 1st and 24th Moore had a sheaf of messages indicating the response.

A statement applauding the action of the Republican executive committee was made public by Charles B. Goodspead, treasurer of the Republican national committee. Similar statements came from officials of the state Republican organization and city groups.

Assails Delay of Tax Bills.

Candidate Green in three meetings last night dwelt on the 1938 tax bills. He spoke at 637 Webster avenue, 624 Wrightwood avenue, and 7517 Yates avenue.

"The people have every right to demand that the tax bills be sent out at once," he said. "Democratic officials had no trouble getting the bills out on time last year. There is no excuse for the delay this year.

"Obviously these officials prefer that taxpayers should not get their bills until after election. They know when citizens get their bills, calling for a new rate of $9.12 per $100 assessed valuation, they will realize Chicago has the second highest tax rate in its history. The only time the rate was higher was also under the Kelly administration."

Flyer Sees Truck Afire; Summons Help by Radio

Lakehurst, N. J., March 15—[Special.]—W. P. Brett, chief aviation pilot of the Lakehurst naval air station, making a routine weather flight, at 12,000 feet saw the gasoline tank of a truck burst into flames on a road fifteen miles from Lakehurst. He radioed the air station, which called Lakehurst firemen by telephone. Because of the long run the firemen had to make the truck was destroyed before they arrived.

FARMER KILLED IN COLLISION.

Royal Wedding

PRINCESS FAWZIA.

PRINCE MOHAMMED.

CAIRO, March 15.—(AP)—Ablaze with light and spectacular fireworks, Cairo tonight celebrated the marriage of Princess Fawzia, 17 year old sister of King Farouk of Egypt, and Crown Prince Mohammed Riza Pahlavi of Iran [Persia].

The dark-eyed princess did not participate in the brief marriage ceremony, but in accordance with Moslem custom was secluded in another part of Abdin palace. The marriage contract was signed in her behalf by King Farouk. A religious ceremony will be performed in Teheran on April 21 after Fawzia journeys to her new home accompanied by Queen Mother Nazli and her three unmarried sisters.

After today's ceremony the bride joined her bridegroom to acknowledge the cheers of crowds beneath a balcony of Abdin palace. Throughout the nation Egyptians participated in night-long festivities celebrating the marriage.

LITTLE TVA ACT REPEALER WAITS HEIL'S SIGNATURE

Madison, Wis., March 15.—(AP)—The Wisconsin senate voted today to abolish the Wisconsin development authority, a "little TVA" set up under former Gov. Philip F. La Follette in 1937. Legislative action on the repeal measure is now complete, as the house already has passed it. The bill now goes to the governor.

The Progressive minority of both houses staged a losing fight against the measure. An all night filibuster against it last Thursday featured the debate.

The WDA had been acting as agent for rural electrification coöperatives. It was founded as a quasi public corporation to promote public ownership of utilities. A bill setting up a new bureau to care for rural electrification has been reported to the house.

DEMOCRATS PASS PEACE PIPE TODAY MINUS COURTNEY

Wonder if He Will Send Harmony Greeting.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The customary luncheon to signalize that foes of primary days are friends again will be held by the Chicago Democratic organization this noon in the Morrison hotel. Such an affair usually is called a love feast.

Mayor Kelly, the February winner, will be the center of attention. Around him will be County Chairman P. A. Nash and other leaders of the regulars who supported the mayor. It also is expected that almost all the office holders and ward committeemen who supported the loser, State's Attorney Courtney, will be on hand.

Courtney Message Awaited.

The one question in the minds of the regulars is whether Courtney will send a message to the luncheon. An invitation to participate was telegraphed to him at Palm Beach, Fla., and, while it was not expected that he would take a plane to get here today, it was thought that the least he could do would be to send some word that he will do something for the Kelly ticket between now and April 4. Nothing has been heard from him except a brief congratulatory telegram he sent Mayor Kelly primary night.

There is one other chair at the luncheon table about which the central committee managers are curious. Five of the six ward committeemen who supported Courtney last month lost no time in lining up with the winner. But no word has been received from the sixth man. He is City Clerk Peter J. Brady, committeeman for the 18th ward, which is Courtney's own ward. Brady is said to be out of the city, but a message also is expected from him.

Five Come Into Camp.

The five committeemen who have come into camp are Horace G. Lindheimer [5th], John J. Touhy [27th], Martin J. O'Brien [29th], Clayton F. Smith [33rd], and Joseph H. Donahue [47th]. The process of amalgamating their ward organizations and the organizations set up to handle the Kelly campaign in those wards is progressing.

A. J. Horan, chief bailif of the Municipal court, and an associate of O'Brien's in the 29th, issued his declaration of regularity in a typewritten statement. Therefore the situation in that ward is expected to iron out. Horan said he will support Kelly wholeheartedly.

Firemen Revive Baby Girl Found Smothering in Crib

Raynette Squire, 6 months old, lay chilled and apparently lifeless yesterday afternoon in her crib in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Squire, 43 Keystone avenue, River Forest. The baby had become entangled in a rubber sheet and it was covering her face. Chief Carl Soderlin and two firemen took an inhalator to the home and after an hour the tiny girl began to breathe. Last night Dr. Charles Weigel, River Forest health commissioner, said Raynette was as bright and lively as ever.

SHEILA HERRON.

Dr. David Rotman, psychiatrist attached to the Municipal court, will hear the stories of Sheila Herron, 24 years old, of 215 East Erie street; her former employer, Adolph O. Goodwin, 40 East Oak street, and his wife, LaRue. Judge Oscar S. Caplan, before whom Miss Herron appeared yesterday, charged with disorderly conduct following a quarrel over money allegedly due her from Goodwin, continued the case to next Wednesday, pending Dr. Rotman's interviews with the principals. Goodwin is head of the Verbal Vizion company, an advertising concern, and former president of a similar concern for which Miss Herron worked before it went into bankruptcy. Goodwin summoned police to arrest her March 2 in his office at 520 North Michigan avenue.

PAYMENTS DROP ON INCOME TAXES IN CHICAGO AREA

A decided slump in income tax collections for the Chicago area was indicated last night as last minute mail returns poured into the office of Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue. This trend conformed with the statement of treasury officials in Washington who estimated a nationwide decrease due to the business downturn of 1938.

The Washington budget experts predicted that upward of $425,000,000 would be collected this month. Collections were $723,000,000 in March a year ago.

In the Chicago office, from March 1 to March 15, a total of $23,664,938 was paid. These figures did not include last night's late mail returns, which, it was estimated, amounted to $12,000,000.

The largest personal return here, unless tabulators find a larger one today, called for payment of a $540,000 tax, Harrison said. At the other end of the scale were two taxpayers who sent in money orders for 1 and 4 cents.

Propose to Bar Drunks from Sitting at Wheel

Dover, Del., March 15.—(AP)—The Delaware legislature was asked in a bill introduced today to make it unlawful for a drunk even to sit behind a steering wheel—much less drive.

ITEMS ADDED TO INVENTORY FILED BY MRS. DRUGGAN

Terry Druggan's mother mentioned two pigs in the inventory she filed to halt foreclosure on her $90,000 farm near Lake Zurich. She mentioned two cows, two horses, $60 worth of crops, $82 worth of household furnishings, $107 worth of farm equipment, and some securities.

But William T. Kirby, special Federal court master, found in his report yesterday that Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan overlooked some items: Two apartment buildings, a 120 acre farm, control of a beverage company that sub-leases a large building to a brewery, 17 more cows, a black bull, and 7 heifers.

Kirby told of the oversights in explanation of his finding that Mrs. Druggan acted in bad faith. He recommended that her petition to forestall the sale of the form be dismissed. Attorneys for the mortgage holder assert that Druggan, prohibition era beer baron, is the real owner of the farm. His mother is Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan.

Baby Born After Father's Death Dies of Influenza

Rochester, Ind., March 15.—[Special.]—Shelby Jean, 10 months old, daughter of Mrs. Stella Vance, died today of influenza. Her father, Charles Vance, was killed Feb. 11, 1938, in a sawmill accident, and she was born April 24, 1938.

DRAM SHOP SUIT SETTLED; WIFE AWARDED $4,100

A suit under the Illinois dram shop act was settled for $4,100 yesterday. Mrs. Elizabeth Kirby, 1907 Washington boulevard, accepted that sum to drop her $37,500 claim against the Chicago Title and Trust company, the Madison Athletic club, 4715 Madison street, and Forges post, No. 196, of the American Legion. The suit was filed after the death of Mrs. Kirby's husband, Marion, on Dec. 3, 1936.

Kirby, attending a Legion smoker at the athletic club on Nov. 20, 1936, fell down a flight of stairs, fracturing his skull. Mrs. Kirby's suit charged that his fatal fall was the result of drinking he had done in the club.

WOMAN KILLED, 4 HURT WHEN 3 AUTOS COLLIDE

Driver Riding with Fiancee Dies in Crash.

One woman was killed and four other persons were injured early today in a spectacular three car collision on United States route 14 between Crystal Lake and Woodstock.

The woman killed was Mrs. Mabel Peeler, 58 years old, of Crystal Lake. The two women riding with her were critically injured. They are her daughter, Mrs. Paul Peters, society editor of the Crystal Lake Herald, and Mrs. Henrietta Burr of Crystal Lake. The drivers of the other cars, also injured, were E. J. Knox and A. E. Brink, both of Woodstock. All the injured were taken to the Woodstock hospital.

Killed as He Rides with Girl.

Riding with his fiancée, Frank Chiodo, 24 years old, was killed last night in a collision at Wabansia and Nashville avenues. He lived at 1304 North Mason avenue. His fiancée, Miss Ethel Walters, 19, of 1309 North Mason avenue, escaped with slight injuries, as did Joseph Rosenbach of 1339 North Long avenue, driver of the car. The other automobile was driven by Harold Hoban, 26, of 156 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park.

Joseph Trobovich, 47 years old, of 7120 Ellis avenue, was killed last night in a collision at South Chicago avenue and 71st street. The other driver was John Constantopulos of 7037 Wabash avenue.

Co-ed and Uncle Killed.

David H. Jacobson, 34 years old, 4014 Ainslie street, was killed when his automobile was struck by a Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee electric train at the Crawford avenue crossing on the Skokie valley route in Niles Center. His niece, Miss Selma Kaplan, 4938 North Keystone avenue, whom Jacobson was driving to Northwestern university, was so badly injured that she died last night in St. Francis hospital, Evanston. She was a student at the university. Witnesses said the high wind apparently prevented one automatic crossing gate from lowering.

Ernest F. Talmage, 50, of 6745 Chappel avenue, a salesman for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, was injured critically when he was struck by an automobile in front of 435 North Michigan avenue. Park Policeman George Everett said Talmage ran into the street to retrieve his hat which had been blown off by the wind. Talmage dodged one car, but was struck by another driven by Anthony W. Sowers, 1625 East 67th street, who has only one arm.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 177 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 141 were killed in Chicago where 3,687 were injured in the same period.

Safety Court Jails 24 Motorists During Month

Of the 362 motorists who appeared in the Safety court for trafic violations last month, 24 were sent to jail, according to a report yesterday by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court. Fines were imposed on 113, twelve were placed on probation, and twenty-seven lost their driving privileges.

MILLIONS OF FISH DIE IN OGDEN SLIP; PILE UP IN WATER

The Ogden slip has become a death trap for millions of spawning minnows. Many of the tiny fish, which came into the slip a few days ago, have died. A carpet of fish several inches deep covers an area of 75 by 175 feet at the west end of the slip. Other dead ones float along the length of the slip.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, after consulting with Arthur Gorman, engineer of the water purification division, expressed the belief that the fish had died from lack of oxygen in the water. Gorman's department estimated the number of dead fish at between 4 and 5 million.

"Gorman's guess," Mr. Hewitt said, "is that there isn't any chemical in the water, but the oxygen content is low. It is possible the new lock at the mouth of the Chicago river has something to do with the comparatively stagnant condition of the water. If this is true it is another argument for a larger flow from the lake."

Ogden slip is now cut off from the lake by the new controling locks at the mouth of the Chicago river. The locks were put in operation last September to prevent the river from flowing back into the lake as a result of the reduced diversion.

The diversion is controled by works in the sanitary canal at Lockport. On Jan. 1 this diversion was cut to 1,500 cubic feet per second from the previous 5,000 by order of the United States Supreme court. Thus the lake waves, which once agitated the water in Ogden slip and kept it fresh, were cut off and Ogden slip now lies stagnant behind the breakwaters.

Dr. Robert A. Black, acting president of the board of health, said he would have the situation investigated.

HOUSE WILL VOTE ON BOARD TO FIGHT CANCER IN ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—A bill creating a state division of cancer control was approved today by the public health committee of the Illinois house of representatives.

Its action followed at once the appearance of Dr. Anton J. Carlson, head of the physiology department of the University of Chicago, as a witness. Illinois, said Dr. Carlson, is backward in its facilities for treating cancer.

The bill would set up a board of seven members.

MOTORMAN GETS CAR SAFELY TO BARN, THEN DIES

Peter Berkel, a surface lines motorman for thirty-one years, ended his last trip yesterday as every motorman likes to end it—with his car safely in the barn.

He became ill while at work on the Irving Park road line. Calling his conductor at the Elston avenue stop, he told him that he would have to quit.

"But we'll handle this according to the rules," he said. "Get the passengers transferred and we'll go in."

The suggestion was carried out. Then, despite his pain, the veteran motorman drove to the barns at 3606 Elston avenue. As he left the front platform he collapsed from a heart attack. He died a few minutes later as he was being taken to a hospital. Berkel was 61 years old and lived at 6320 North Western avenue.

FALLS FROM TREE; DIES AT 64.

Bloomington, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—Alfred P. Ballard, 64 years old, trimming a tree in a high wind today despite warnings by both his wife and employer, fell from a limb onto a concrete sidewalk and was killed.

Attorney Loses Fee Claim Against Municipal Judges

The Appellate court ruled yesterday that Attorney James Breen has no claim against the chief justice and fifteen associate Municipal judges for his work in litigation whereby the city was ordered to pay the judges $180,617 deducted from their salaries during 1932-1934. Breen has been paid $10,515. He claimed the judges owed him another $9,324. The ruling held he has no legal contract with the judges and that the amount he has received is a sufficient fee.

A New Food For Breakfast!

With a Deliciousness You've Never Known Before

A modern invention gives us a new, modern-day breakfast—definitely more delicious—with definite healthful advantages for both adults and children.

Little Kurnels, as this new product is called, changes people's ideas about how appetizing a breakfast food can be—in one trial.

Little Kurnels have flavor—real flavor. Just try them. You'll be astonished at the improvement over old-type breakfast foods.

A New Kind of Crispness

Little Kurnels have a new kind of crispness. The kind of crispness people have always wanted. Real crispness that doesn't "wilt" in cream or milk—a crispness that helps provide teeth and gums with the exercise so sadly lacking in so many present-day diets.

There is really no way to compare Little Kurnels in taste or appearance with old-type cereals. They are not shreds, not flakes, not biscuits.

Little Kurnels are golden brown in color. New in shape for more pleasant eating—not round—not square. They are dainty, tempting golden nuggets with the wholesome, zestful taste that makes breakfast an event, new and exciting. Fill a bowl, add cream or milk and a little sugar, if desired. Little Kurnels will win you with the first spoonful. Served with fruit, they are an utterly new sensation. No problem now to get youngsters to eat a full bowl of cereal. No problem now to please everyone in the family with this one delightful cereal.

New Health Benefits

But the deliciousness of Little Kurnels is only half the story.

They are made of the two grains you value highest, wheat and oats.

And in line with the modern idea that food should contribute to health, Little Kurnels have been enriched with an important, healthful mineral.

That mineral is calcium. The mineral most likely to be lacking in our diets. The "builder-upper" mineral needed in largest quantities by both children and adults. Among other things, this "builder-upper" mineral is needed by everyone for beautiful teeth, strong bones, properly working muscles. (See more complete explanation in panel below, lower left.)

Remember . . . Get Little Kurnels Today

Go modern for breakfast. Remember to get a package of delicious Little Kurnels at your grocer's today. Start giving your family the benefits of the extra calcium in Little Kurnels. And just watch the happy faces when you start serving this tempting, new breakfast treat. Remember—today—at your grocer's—Little Kurnels.

ENRICHED WITH THE "BUILDER-UPPER" MINERAL*

That Works With Sunshine

More diets are probably deficient in CALCIUM* than in any other element, say leading health authorities.

Yet we actually need more calcium than any other mineral. We need it for building bones. Children need it for development. Adults and children, alike, need calcium every day. It is required for sound, beautiful teeth. It is needed for proper muscular action. Actually, it is the "builder-upper" mineral that works directly with the vitamin that comes to us with sunshine. We must have ample calcium in our diet to get full benefits of the sunshine vitamin (Vitamin D). Many of us who do not get enough sunshine or Vitamin D need calcium all the more.

Those are the reasons why we enriched this wonderful, new, modern-day cereal, Little Kurnels, with calcium, the "builder-upper" mineral.

It's smart to select foods with their health values in mind. Already people, especially children, are showing the benefits of improved diets, richer in vitamins, minerals and nourishment. Make Little Kurnels the standby, ready-to-eat breakfast for your family. Add precious calcium to the diet of your family by serving Little Kurnels frequently. Remember to get an economical box of Little Kurnels—today—at your grocer's.

Today's Smiles Demand Sound Teeth

Teeth cannot possibly have that healthful attractiveness so important to personal charm if the diet lacks adequate calcium. Calcium deficiency often robs teeth of their soundness—something which every man and woman and child should know.

Today's Children Want Tall Bodies

Tall, well-developed, stream-lined bodies are the ambition of today's youth. Calcium is a vital requirement for tall, straight, strong bones. The calcium in Little Kurnels is an extra safeguard for growth and development of your children.

Today's Children Want Fast-Working, Athletic Muscles

Today's children, boys and girls alike, are going in for all kinds of sports. What a fine thing for the development of graceful, healthy bodies! But smooth, fast-working muscles require calcium. Not only children, but adults, too, need calcium. Deficiency means muscle fatigue, lack of muscular co-ordination. Be sure your diet includes sufficient calcium. Little Kurnels for breakfast is an ideal way to add to the calcium intake, important to every member of the family.

Nine so-called Republicans in the house of representatives at Springfield deserted their party a week ago on the crucial issue of economy. Eight of the nine were representatives of Chicago districts.

Nominally the Republicans have a bare majority in the house, but the control is only nominal, as this and subsequent votes have shown. The eight Chicago members who deserted were Republicans only as long as there was something like a committee chairmanship to be gained from party loyalty. As soon as the plums were distributed loyalty ceased.

Downstate Republicans are indignant, as they have every right to be, at the betrayal; but their indignation should not blind them to their own share of responsibility for what happened. Of the eight disloyalists from Chicago six hail from notorious rotten boroughs, to borrow the English phrase, and these rotten boroughs exist precisely because the downstate members of both parties have refused to reapportion the state in the light of population changes. The constitution of the state requires a redistricting after each census, but downstate members, in direct and flagrant violation of their oaths, have blocked every effort to reapportion since 1901.

One result is that Chicago and Cook county are under-represented at Springfield; but an equally important result is that the more progressive elements in Chicago's population have an inconsiderable voice in the legislature while half-abandoned areas in Chicago, areas of tumble-down houses and mean streets, are vastly over-represented.

The last reapportionment was made when the river wards were teeming with newly-arrived immigrants and when transportation services in the city were so poor that the bulk of the population, of necessity, was concentrated close to the loop. The census upon which the 1901 apportionment was based was taken only seven years after the first World's Fair, when cable cars were still tops in transportation and automobiles were the dangerous playthings of the young bloods of the town.

Meanwhile the city has seen astonishing migrations of its population. The 25th district on the northwest side has a population [as of the 1930 census; it is now even larger] of 563,000. The 13th district, extending from 63d street to the Indiana state boundary, has nearly 400,000 inhabitants.

On the other hand, the 1st district, represented by Mr. Broche, one of the disloyal Republicans, has a population of only 44,000. The 2d district, represented by another turncoat Republican, Mr. Adduci, has fewer than 77,000. Mr. Pelka, the so-called Republican from the 15th, represents a district of only 54,000 inhabitants. Mr. Martynowski of the 27th had only 56,000 citizens to betray. Mr. Granata, another of the turncoats, represents the ultimately rotten borough, the 17th district, with a population of fewer than 43,000.

Rotten boroughs generally produce rotten politics and elect rotten representatives, whether Republican or Democratic. The reasons are obvious. For the most part, the more alert and more successful citizens have moved away, to find pleasanter living conditions for themselves and especially for their children. An undue proportion of those who remain are ignorant and backward and therefore easily regimented for political purposes. The proportion of dependent families and delinquent individuals in the rotten boroughs of Chicago, as the relief rolls and the court records prove, is high. It is precisely with such material that rotten politicians build rotten political machines.

Downstate is responsible for the existence of these districts and it is therefore responsible for the cheapsters they send to Springfield.

WOMEN'S LETHARGY IN THE CAMPAIGN.

When woman suffrage was being agitated one of the most plausible arguments for granting the franchise to women was founded on the expectation that if women were given the ballot they would be more interested in the betterment of local affairs and have higher standards of local government and administration than men had shown. The theory was that women as home makers, as well as the actual owners of much property, would bring their influence to bear for good municipal housekeeping.

This expectation has not been realized to any substantial extent and does not seem to be justified at this time. Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman of the Volunteer Women's Committee for Green for Mayor, reports that the committee is greatly concerned about the indifference of women in this campaign. "It may not seem very gallant," she says, "to speak of women as the city's frozen assets, yet, looking over the situation and the indifferent women's vote of the past ten years, one is almost compelled to sum it up in this way."

Yet, as the committee points out, women have a great financial stake in Chicago, paying into its treasury last year $171,000,000 in taxes, or 52 per cent of the entire sum paid. Women own 40 per cent of the real estate and 65 per cent of the savings accounts. The average family spending $1,688 a year hands back $422 in taxes, or 25 per cent, and the committee suggests that these facts, besides many others in the field of municipal housekeeping, ought to insure the active interest and participation of women in this campaign.

Lethargy and indifference in politics are not confined to women, but, as those who did not ardently favor woman suffrage foresaw, it was more than likely to exist among women than among men, and it is plainly the special duty of women who favored the granting of the privilege of the ballot to women and likewise women who were dubious of its benefits but are capable of realizing its responsibilities to work actively to arouse women's interest in political action. It is not enough merely to exercise the privilege.

Women having the vote are as responsible for political conditions and political action as men. If they do not interest themselves in the practical workings of politics, as well as government, the result of increasing the total vote will not raise but may, in fact, lower the level of quality. However that may be, indifference in any large body of voters is a misfortune to any self-governed community and creates a special responsibility for leadership.

ONE BIG, RED UNION.

John Lewis has been pretending that the scheme he put forward a few days ago to establish centralized control over all wings of organized labor in this country is the child of his own brain. Possibly he thinks he figured the thing out for himself, but the evidence to the contrary is overwhelming. His plan is a communist plan, embodied in a resolution adopted by the communist party's central committee 20 months ago. The plan was suggested by Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party, and was published at the time by the communist party's official newspaper. Plenty of the men at John Lewis' elbow regard such resolutions as the law and the prophets.

Likewise Mr. Roosevelt and Mme. Perkins may deny that they knowingly indorsed the communist strategy, but it is doubtful if such a denial can be believed even by the gullible. The Dies committee has disclosed the communist penetration of the labor department, as well as other government departments and bureaus. The appointment of communists to key positions might have been accidental in a few cases, but accidents of that sort don't happen in wholesale lots.

Mr. Roosevelt wants labor votes for his own ends and the communists want control of the labor movement in order to gain a strangle hold on industry and thus promote the overthrow of our government. For both purposes a united labor movement under C. I. O. dominance is essential. Therefore Mr. Roosevelt finds himself in full agreement with communist strategy. He and the communists have a common aim and a common means of attaining it. Both Mr. Roosevelt and the communists want the C. I. O. to come out on top: Mr. Roosevelt because of gratitude for the half million dollars given him by the C. I. O. in his last campaign and because he knows the A. F. of L. is by no means as enthusiastic for him as its rival; and the communists because the C. I. O. has proved itself a ready instrument for the promotion of communism and the A. F. of L. has not.

And so, at Mr. Roosevelt's invitation, the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. were summoned to a so-called peace conference at which the communist plan was put forward by John Lewis as the basis for negotiating a peace. The scheme is an ingenious one because it has a superficial appearance of fairness, but in reality it is anything but fair. The negotiations are being conducted under administration influence and the administration is violently prejudiced in favor of the C. I. O. The C. I. O. is ruthless, aggressive, and determined. Its leaders are confident, as are the communists, that if anything like their plan is adopted the whole labor movement will quickly be captured.

Mr. Roosevelt, the communists, and the C. I. O. realize that their situation is desperate. They are all looking to the success of the present negotiations to rescue them. Mr. Roosevelt has lost the south and the farmers, but he hopes to retain his hold on labor through a communist labor movement. The communists have been shaken by the Dies revelations, but hope to resume the offensive by establishing C. I. O. control of labor's following and labor's treasury. The C. I. O. is slipping as a result of its unsuccessful strikes, the decisions of the courts denouncing labor board tyrannies, and the revelation of the state of public opinion at the November election, in which its candidates were overwhelmingly rejected.

In the light of these facts the revelation that Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Lewis are taking their strategy from the communists should occasion no surprise. The three elements have worked together amicably and effectively in the past. They are doing so again. All that stands between them and the success of the One-Big-Union scheme is the loyalty of the A. F. of L.'s negotiators to the traditions and principles of American unionism.

MAUGHAM ON WRITING.

[Des Moines Tribune.]

What shall we say of Somerset Maugham's formula for becoming a writer?

"Take [he says] a degree in medicine, practice long enough to gain an understanding of human frailties, and then travel for three years. After that they should be prepared to write, granted they have talent."

Charles Dickens was the son of ordinary, middle class parents, and he got little schooling.

Early in life he had to get out and earn a living for himself. He pasted labels in a warehouse for a good many years, much as his hero, David Copperfield, toiled in the warehouse of Murdstone & Grinby.

Then he became a lawyer's clerk and finally a newspaper reporter. He began to publish his "Sketches by Boz," and after that there was no holding him down.

George Bernard Shaw, that spry old revolutionary, got little formal training or schooling in his early years, but newspaper work started him off. Novels, essays, plays, criticism—everything flowed from his pen, and still does.

Jack London was and still is a much-read author in this country. He was the son of a frontiersman. From his early years on, except for intermittent periods at school, his life was one of toil.

He was an oysterman, a sailor, a tramp, he went up to the Klondike during the gold rush, he was a radical, an agitator, and a newspaper correspondent. There was no delicate, nurtured personality developed here, but he could write.

Sinclair Lewis, it is true, was graduated from Yale. But he became a newspaper reporter, and had to unlearn a good many things he had learned in New Haven.

If a man needed a medical education, plus some medical practice, plus a few years' travel experience to write, none but babies born with silver spoons in their mouths would become writers.

Mr. Maugham, we are afraid, is too particular.

CREATURES OF FANTASY.

As a possible successor to the fame of Bunn the Baker of Baraboo, we recently introduced Niminy-Piminy Nims, the WPA printer who announced his return to private industry in a state of lassitude that prevented him from accepting any job requiring haste. He seemed like a promising character, but we didn't get much of a tumble out of him. A magazine of national circulation rang up, asking for his address, and that was all. No doubt Niminy-Piminy Nims is now as busy as a beaver and lost to humorists.

Today we are presenting, as another heir presumptive to the immortal Bunn, the Ko-Ko of Keokuk—"taken from the county jail by a set of curious chances." See his qualifications elsewhere in this column. He has possibilities, but we doubt if he will ever crowd Bunn off his throne. This feat would require several years of propaganda, and we're too impatient for that.

For a creature of fantasy from real life, much more whimsical than such figments as Bunn, we give you Sinclair Lewis, the novelist who is now seeking to hack out a new career as playwright. His curtain speech at the première of "Angela Is Twenty-Two" was, in its stage business and incidentals, like an illustration by "Phiz" to the theatrical episodes in "Nicholas Nickleby."

How history repeats itself! Dick Bartell of the Cubs, received in trade for Billy Jurges, perhaps the greatest fielding short stop since Abner Doubleday invented baseball, has come down with arthritis of the ankles. The Cubs' trading department, over a term of ten years and under various managers, has qualified itself as the subject for a civic commission de lunatico inquirendo.

TYPEWRITER SPRING SONG.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of spring: find a good rhyme
and use it again and again and again when you sing.
The robin sublime and the thrush and the wren repeat and repeat the same thing.
With hoar-frost and rime
on meadow and glen,
men! come to the aid of spring!

Jeanne DeLamarter.

The Ko-Ko of Keokuk, Ia.

"Notice to the public," says a display advertisment in the Keokuk, Ia., Gate City, 3-11-'39. "I will reopen my place of business at 9th and Johnson streets on or about Wednesday, March 15, as I have completed my sixty days in our county jail. Old and new customers will still be appreciated. Yours truly, John Mondorf."

The Skeleton in Cyrano's Closet.

The mention of Samuel Eberly Gross [2-21-'39], "whose plagiarism suit against Edmond Rostand caused international amusement" impels me to inform you that it caused more consternation than amusement.

The absurdity of a real estate dealer writing "the best play since Shakespeare" was freely commented upon. I, too, fell for that viewpoint, but as the case developed I was not quite so sure.

The "deadly parallel" columns, of which there were plenty, showed that not only was the plot of "Cyrano" the same as that of "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," but many scenes were the same, with dialog almost word for word, French for English.

Rostand had possible access to the manuscript of "The Merchant" through Coquelin, to whom Gross submitted his play.

I believe that if S. E. Gross had today as good a case against one of our great movie companies as he had against Rostand he could collect enough damages to build a Masonic temple of his own.

J. W. Farr.

[Note by Linemaster: The parallel was so close that Gross won his suit against Rostand in the American courts, and the decision caused a mighty uproar in Cultureland. Our own suspicion is that Coquelin gave Rostand the plot and situations, adapted into the Bergerac period, and that Rostand followed the suggestions in total innocence. Actor-managers and authors often work together that way—and the former breed is lacking in a sense of literary ethics. Nevertheless, Rostand produced an original work of art.]

ADVICE TO THE TREASURY.

Gentlemen, herewith I file my return
And submit my resources are meager,
Though you seem to think I have money to burn
And to burn it you're willing and eager.

Oh, I know the canal down in Florida needs
Some water, my dear Uncle Sam;
So fill it with gondolas, oysters, or weeds,
But don't say I won't give a dam.

And out in the desert no doubt you could find
A cactus that needs irrigation,
Or maybe some humming birds, homeless and blind,
In search of a new habitation.

So now with my dough and the rest you can get
These problems I trust you'll surmount.
Wherever you send it, one thing I can bet;
It won't go to Maine or Vermont.

So take it and spend it wherever you may,
Henceforth my returns will be brief;
Next year I shall write under Schedule A
"No tax—I have gone on relief!"

Architects Take Off Their Hats to It.

Do you think you can arrange to have some of your old building scouts look at the southeast corner of State and Madison streets? For ten years or more I have been intrigued by the ornamental iron work on this façade at the second floor level.

If your hat blows off into traffic in these March winds, say good-by to it and laugh. Otherwise—well, you may never laugh again. This warning is prompted by a tragic view of yesterday from the front windows of the Tribune Tower.

DO NOT PERMIT LOCKJAW TO DEVELOP.

ONE does not have to step on a rusty nail in order to form a most intimate acquaintance with tetanus [lockjaw] bacillus. Any sort of a wound which permits the spores [seeds] of this organism to plant themselves within the tissues—so that air cannot get to them—may constitute the introduction. As has been stated so often it is not the rust that does the damage. Good clean iron oxide [rust] may do little harm. But a bright or dull spike, tack, or any like object may harbor the microbes.

No season of the year is exempt although it was thought at one time that there were more cases in the summer when youngsters play about in bare feet. Infection during the winter is just as likely to occur and the same precautions must be exercised at all times against this most distressing malady. Fortunately, physicians know what to do. If every patient suffering even a slight wound could be given an immunizing dose of antitoxin at the outset we would save the more than 1,500 lives which are lost each year.

How is the poison spread? As the germs grow the toxin is absorbed by the blood and the lymph—thus extending to the nervous system through the circulation. This deadly chemical [toxin] may be produced within a few hours after an accident and become fixed within the muscles in the vicinity, from whence it may travel later to the blood stream. All of which means that certainly within the first hour or two serum should be given. In fact, the danger is so great that we cannot wait until symptoms have become manifest before applying the neutralizing agent.

But better yet is the administration of tetanus toxoid, which is similar in principle to the diphtheria preparation which has proved so successful in combating the "choker." Four or five doses are required, after which the safety level is high.

Without this safeguard—in even a minor laceration—it may be wise to utilize the serum. But when any part of horse blood is injected it is important that the individual be tested for susceptibility as sometimes serious—even fatal—reactions will take place in those known to be sensitive [allergic]. If a scratch is superficial—that is, if it does not involve the deeper layers—it may be necessary only to remove débris from the region and allow free access of air. Healing ensues, as a rule, without the slightest difficulty.

Once developed, however, lockjaw presents a tragic situation. If symptoms come on quickly we may know that the infection is severe. If they are experienced from six to ten days after an accident the outlook is much more favorable.

The first rule in treating any break in the skin is to sterilize the parts thoroughly with soap and water. A bit of gauze may be employed and even though there is a small amount of bleeding this is no bar to cleansing. Then—regardless of whether the incident is a burn, a cut, or a scratch—if the entire extent of the area has not been reached by the scouring process, surgery may be required to provide a sufficiently large opening so that every particle of rubbish and dead material may be removed. Nail holes, particularly, should be explored to the bottom.

In a group of children whose wounds were thought to be trivial, but who suffered later from tetanus, the locations of the lesions were as follows: A cut on the knee, a blister on the heel from a poorly fitting shoe, a tack perforation in the bottom of the foot, a cut on the head, a puncture on the leg caused by a dry weed, a stubbed toe with injury to the skin about the nail, a splinter in the buttocks from riding on the back of a delivery wagon, etc. Home care in these cases was worthless as none of the injuries was scrubbed adequately.

While fatalities are still high, nevertheless antitoxin, good nursing, and the use of a powerful new sedative—avertin—have changed the picture for the better. But why not avoid the possibility of this affliction by skilled first aid? Later the serum antidote may be given. Even better is the toxoid plan, which will protect every child.

CONTAGIOUS OR INFECTIOUS.

G. A. writes: What is the difference in meaning between "contagious" and "infectious"?

REPLY.

An infectious malady is one in which the parasites or bacteria are introduced directly into the body. For example, this is the manner in which syphilis and typhoid fever are spread. An infectious disease may be contagious or it may not. Diphtheria is both. It may be disseminated by remaining in the room with a victim of the disease [contagion] or by planting cultures of the germs within the throat of one who is well.

SLIPS THAT SPARK IN THE NIGHT.

A. G. writes: When removing a black satin slip at night it crackles with electricity and sparks fly out of it. What is wrong with me?

REPLY.

You must be a devotée of "Mourning Becomes Electra." You are static—not psychic. Static electricity is everywhere. Silk when rubbed will gather a charge which will produce a spark in an effort to reach the ground [to discharge].

USUALLY TEMPORARY.

Mrs. S. writes: When my baby was about 2 months old I noticed that the back of his head was becoming flat. I was told not to let him lie in one position all the time. I was careful about this, but now, at 6 months, there is no improvement. Will his head go back into shape as he grows older?

REPLY.

As a rule this is a temporary condition and, as growth proceeds, it will be corrected. Change his position occasionally. Teach him to lie on his stomach.

PLEURISY.

J. I. writes: I have been in bed for seven weeks with pleurisy. The water is not yet absorbed and I still run a temperature. Isn't this unusual?

REPLY.

If the fluid does not cause symptoms of pressure [shortness of breath], it is advisable not to remove it. The "pond" of water within the pleural cavity acts as a splint, thus providing rest for the lung. The temperature may be the result of absorption of the fluid, although it may be caused by the inflammation which brought on flooding of the pleural sac. In most cases there is a probable relation to tuberculosis.

WHY HAVE NOTARIES?

Chicago, March 10.—I make no pretense of being versed in legal matters; however, the requirement that an income tax form or automobile license application be notarized seems utterly stupid. What reason can there be for forcing an applicant to seek the services of the corner druggist, stationer, barber, realtor, mortician, or banker, or other person authorized as a notary public before an application or form can be accepted?

The 25 cent fee charged for such service is craziness, to be sure, yet I gladly would pay a greater sum to prevent the prying eyes of some incompetent with a notary seal clenched in his fist from scanning personal documents which morally he has no right to see. These thieves of privacy are as unnecessary as vacations for politicians.

Would not a clause inserted in such forms to the effect that the applicant swears the information submitted is the absolute truth, to the best of his knowledge, be legally sufficient?

The writer is a $35 per week laundry man and his objection to notaries is not motivated by any desire to hide a staggering income, but rather by his disgust at racketeering red tape.

E. A. S.

DEPENDENTS OR BOARDERS?

Chicago, March 10.—My mother has been a widow for nearly thirty years, and even though she had eight children to support she never appealed to charity or received any kind of pension. She worked! And as we became old enough we all worked, too! As the years went by five of the children married, leaving three of us still at home. We have all pitched in and contributed the larger part of our incomes to our mother—that is, when we were able to find employment.

Just like every one else we have had it pretty tough the last ten years, but one son has worked steadily. He's had cuts in pay, but he still makes a pretty good salary. Now can any one tell me why he has to pay income tax when he is responsible for our rent, has paid for most of our home furnishings, buys most of our food, and even gives us spending money when we are unemployed?

When these facts were presented to local income tax authorities they told us my mother is running a "boarding house" and her three unmarried children are "boarders" [even though two of us haven't always paid our "board"]. Therefore, the person whom we consider [and is in reality] the head of the house is entitled to no exemptions and has to pay income tax. SPEECHLESS.

TAX PENALTIES.

Chicago, March 11.—It is not very encouraging for a taxpayer who might have been in financial difficulties at the time the taxes were due to find when he is in a position to pay that his bills are now 50 per cent in excess of the actual amount of taxes.

We granted a moratorium to foreign debtors; why can't we meet our own people halfway and charge an interest of 5 per cent on all unpaid taxes?

Will the banks give 12 per cent on your money? No sir! Will they even give 5 per cent? Is it fair treatment to expect and demand more from the taxpayers? WILLIAM BIETY.

MAN AND THE BRUTES.

Chicago, March 10.—The recent expulsion of several normal young men from our state university created the following contradiction in American education: Students are condemned for doing what they are taught. Silly? Then listen.

Our leading state universities offer courses that teach that man is entirely an animal and subject to the same laws of nature. That, therefore, man has no free will and cannot make a free choice any more than any other animal. If this is true then these unfortunate young men could no more refuse to follow their instincts than a dog. And what dog chooses to deny itself a juicy bone? Or why should it?

This is precisely the basic logic of radicals, pink or otherwise. Since there exists no free will there can be no moral law of right and wrong or human dignity upon which the rights of a democracy can be based. Hence follows the philosophy that might is right or the survival of the fittest. For animals, even modified ones, follow their instincts unless restrained by offers of reward or threats of punishment. That leaves one commandment: Thou shalt not get caught. Without free will one cannot act otherwise. So why not dispose of your weaker minorities? Why not relegate women to the status of sexual convenience? Men to the rank of lascivious brutes or monkeys? Children to the position of irresponsible puppies?

Of course such teaching is a great salve to human weakness. Maybe that is why it is so popular even with professors. It permits sexual license without social or moral obligation. It can justify any course of action or fit in with the most debased conduct. That is why the tyrant accepts it as his code and attempts to force it on others.

Yes, there are some deluded, old-fashioned folk who struggle with the law of the flesh and the spirit and thereby refuse to break up the home of his or their neighbor and make the children legal orphans. Or refuse to trample their fellow men because they are weaker or black or yellow, since they see in them brothers and sisters fashioned by the same Creative Intelligence, reverently known as Our Father. Foolishly they aid the unfortunate, nurse the leper, pass up opportunities to rob and plunder, speak the truth when lies would spare them hardship and keep their contracts though they might legally escape them. And all because they believe that there is such a thing as truth and evil and that they can choose freely to do or not to do.

JOINT OWNERSHIP.

Chicago, March 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—"A" purchased some stock. "A" had the stock issued in her name and in the name of "B" [a friend] as "joint tenants with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common." "A" had the stock issued in this manner so that in case of death "B" would inherit the stock without a will. "A," of course, knows that in this case "B" would have to pay [in case of A's death] an inheritance tax to the state of 10 per cent on half the value of the stock, after an exemption of $100.

1. "A" has now been advised that in case "B" dies first that she will have to pay this same tax. Inasmuch as "A" paid for all this stock, she does not believe she should pay a tax on her own money in case "B" died before her.

2. Is there any way this stock can be worded so as to protect "A" and at the same time bequeath the money to "B" in case "A" dies first?

3. Is it possible to have this stock issued under the words "to bearer" and not to any particular individual?

4. Could this stock be issued to say "Mary Jones or Kate Smith"?

M. O.

1. Correct. She has given "B" a one-half interest and if that one-half comes back to her upon "B's" death, it would be subject to the tax.

2. There is no way to provide that there will be only one-half a tax if "A" dies first, and no tax at all if "B" dies first, if that is what you mean to ask.

3. This is for the transfer officers of the corporation to say, but such an arrangement would not be conclusive on the inheritance tax question.

4. See 3. There is an article on joint tenancy of corporate stock in the current number of the quarterly published by the John Marshall Law school, 315 Plymouth court.

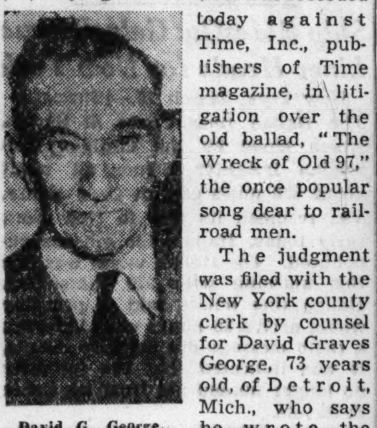
$10,000 VERDICT FOR LIBEL WON FROM TIME, INC.

Writer of 'Old 97' Song Is Winner.

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—A $10,000 judgment for libel was recorded today against Time, Inc., publishers of Time magazine, in litigation over the old ballad, "The Wreck of Old 97," the once popular song dear to railroad men.



David G. George.

The judgment was filed with the New York county clerk by counsel for David Graves George, 73 years old, of Detroit, Mich., who says he wrote the words of the song in 1903.

George sued Time, Inc., for $10,000, charging he was libeled in an article published in the Dec. 31, 1934, issue of Time magazine. The article recounted the ballad writer's litigation with the Victor Talking Machine company over the song.

Word "Fraudulent" Stirs Ire.

In his complaint against Time, Inc., George said he was adjudged the author of the song in 1933 and won an accounting in the United States District court of New Jersey. The decision was reversed on appeal and Time reported "his claim dismissed as fraudulent."

Subsequently the United States Supreme court held the Appeals court lacked jurisdiction because the Victor company had not filed its appeal within the required time.

Execution Is Stayed.

George's complaint said the Time article held him up to "scorn, hatred, and ridicule" and caused him "great pain and mental anguish." Time contended the article was a true report of a judicial decision and was published without intent to injure George.

The publishing company obtained a thirty day stay of execution and sixty days in which to file an appeal. Attorneys for the magazine indicated an appeal would be taken.

At one time George, who is the father of fourteen sons and daughters and is a grandparent some thirty odd times, figured he would reap a fortune as high as 2 million dollars. Last Sept. 16 he won damages of $65,295 from the Victor company, half the net profit the court found the company made on recording the song.

JOHNSON URGES PLANS FOR A NEW JUNIOR COLLEGE

Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson said yesterday that within a few weeks he will ask the board of education to consider establishing another junior college. The proposed college would cost approximately $1,500,000 which could be appropriated in the 1940 budget and would be located on the northwest side.

Chicago has three junior colleges now. Total enrollment rose from 3,833 in September, 1936, to 5,237 in September, 1938, records show. The colleges are Wright, 3400 Austin boulevard; Wilson, 6800 Stewart avenue, and Herzel, 3711 Douglas boulevard.

A new college would relieve crowded conditions at the others, Supt. Johnson said, and would make possible the conversion of one into a municipal liberal arts college offering a full four year course. Establishing a liberal arts college is still years away, he added, but the plans will be made when the money becomes available.

Bakes was convicted last Saturday of attempting to recover grain alcohol by removing the denaturing agent from denatured alcohol. He was found to be the owner of machinery used in the recovery process on farms near Aurora and Oswego.

N. Y. MILK 'WAR' MAY SAVE USERS MILLION A MONTH

Slash to Follow Collapse of U. S. Price Peg.

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—A milk price war expected to result in a slash of $1,000,000 a month from New York City consumers' milk bills appeared near today. This developed in the wake of the collapse of the federal-state marketing agreement, which had brought higher prices to consumers, although they had no voice in the price fixing agreement.

The federal-state order—which, while it lasted, further intrenched Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, as the country's milk dictator—was knocked out by a federal court decision in Albany, which held it discriminatory and confiscatory. A companion state milk order, paving the way for the more comprehensive federal-state order covering production in the seven state milk sheds serving the city, met a similar fate the same week in a state supreme court.

Slash May Come Today.

Indications tonight pointed to a reduction of one cent in the retail price of milk within the next two or three days—possibly tomorrow. This would mean a consumers' saving of at least $40,000 a day.

Advertised brands of milk are expected to drop at least a cent quart immediately. If the smaller distributors attempt to cut that price, marketing experts said, "almost anything may happen."

For the last six months, since the federal-state equalization pool has been in effect, the delivery price for grade A milk has been 16¾ cents, while in Chicago, where a similar milk order is a possibility, the price has been several cents lower—12 cents a quart.

The delivery price for grade B milk here has been 13¾ cents a quart. Unadvertised brands of Grade B have sold in stores for 10 cents a quart for the last month, and previously at 11 cents.

Await Meeting of Dairymen.

Although spokesmen for the two largest distributors denied there will be any immediate cut in price, from reliable sources it was learned the cut is anticipated soon.

Dealers are awaiting the decision of dairy farmers upstate and elsewhere on whether they will accept lower prices. A massmeeting of dairymen has been called for Friday in Syracuse to determine whether to take a cut or not or withhold milk from the metropolitan district.

Sentiment for the "strike" appeared strong, despite the pleas of Holton V. Noyes, state commissioner of agriculture and markets, who reminded producers that the "flush" season in milk production is approaching.

Dr. John L. Rice, city health commissioner, was silent on the threat of a milk strike. He previously had assured the public that the health department can call out plenty of milk from storage and from dairymen outside the milkshed, insuring an adequate supply for nutritional purposes, at least.

ASKS U. S. INQUIRY IN A. M. A. BAN ON COUNTY HOSPITAL

County Commissioner Mary McEnerney yesterday asked the federal department of justice to determine why the American Medical association and the American College of Surgeons have removed the Cook County hospital from the list of institutions accredited for the training of interns. The request was made in a letter sent to Washington.

Miss McEnerney charged that the A. M. A. is making "determined efforts to gain control of a hospital that should not be used as a political football by the association." She also attacked the A. C. S. recommendation for the removal of Dr. Karl Meyer as medical superintendent.

Other members of the county board said Miss McEnerney had acted without consulting them. The hospital and Dr. Meyer have been under fire since a citizen's committee investigated it two years ago. Dr. Meyer, acknowledged to be one of the country's foremost surgeons, was said by the A. C. S. to be unable to devote sufficient time to the hospital because of his private practice. This the doctor denies.

Suicide Verdict Returned in Death of Grain Broker

Melvin Charles Townsend, a grain broker, killed himself while temporarily despondent over ill health. That was the verdict of a coroner's jury yesterday. Townsend, 67 years old, was found shot to death Tuesday night in the basement of his home at 2214 Hartzell street, Evanston. A .22 caliber rifle was beside him. He had been a member of the Chicago Board of Trade since 1913.

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

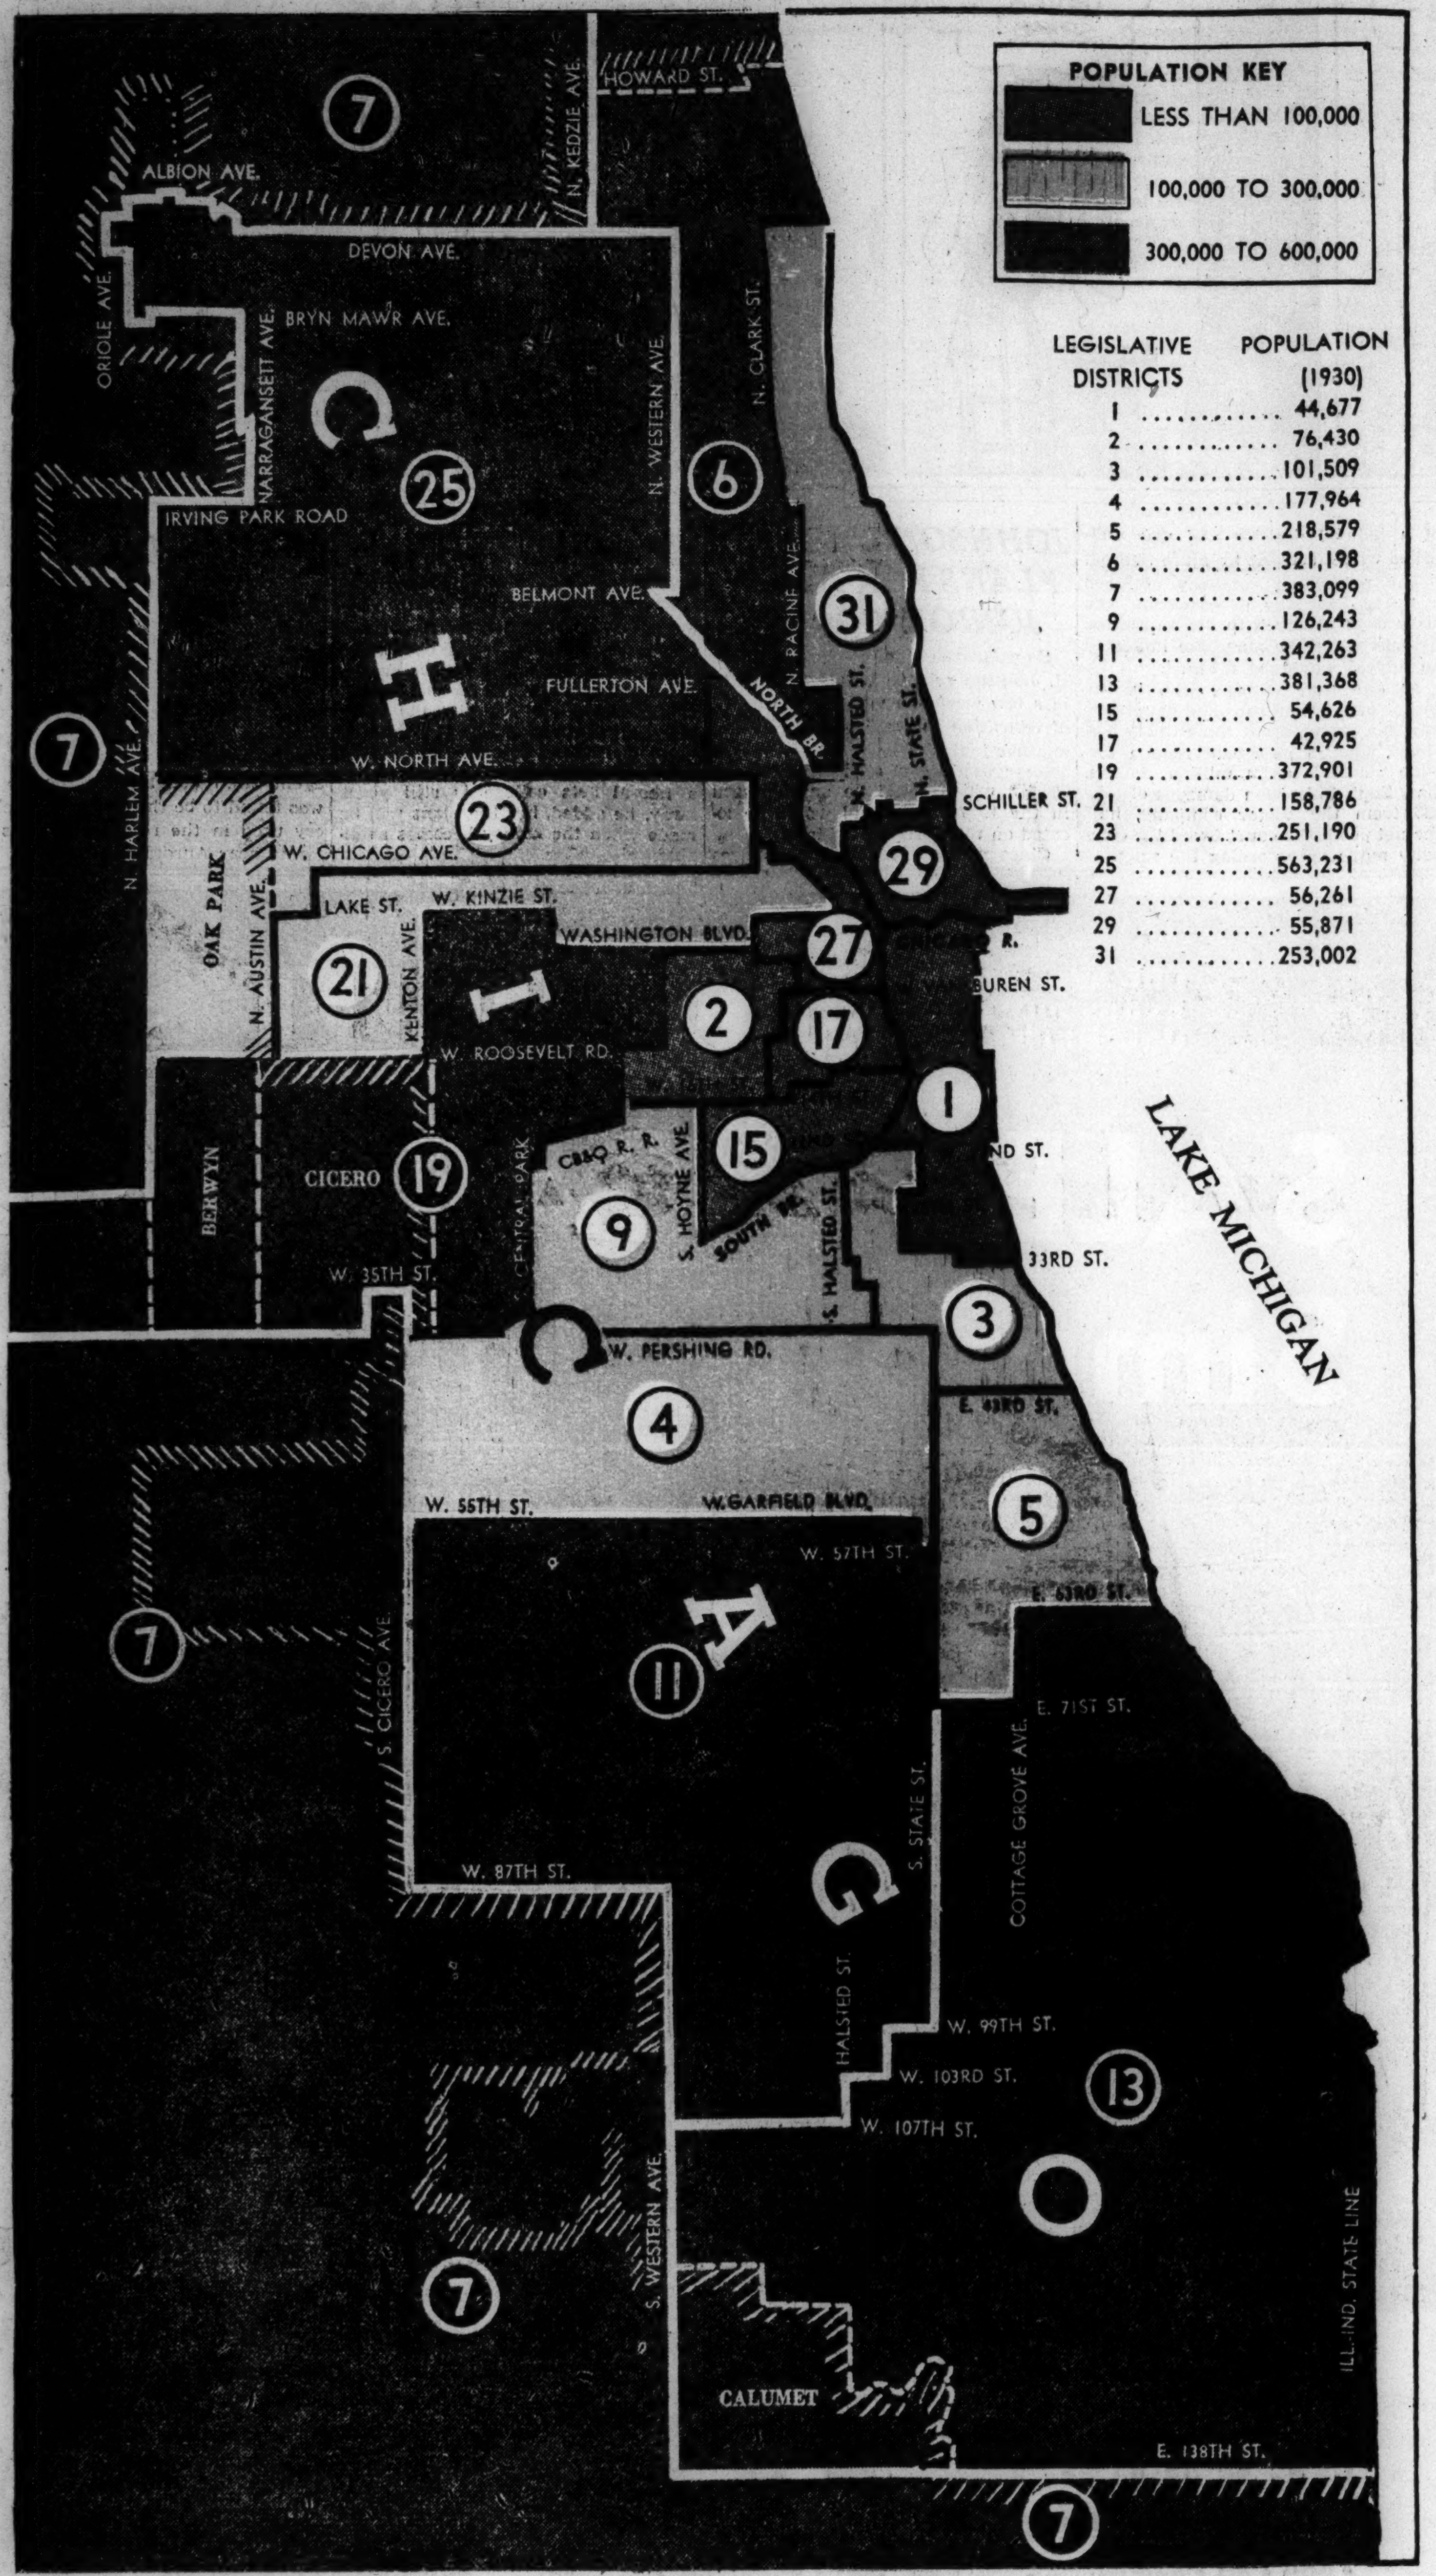
Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

End this curse by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use stops "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ at any drug store.

Unfair Representation in Cook County Legislative Districts



The map illustrates the system of legislative misrepresentation that has grown up in Chicago and Cook county through the refusal of the state legislature to reapportion Illinois legislative districts in accordance with population changes. Although the state constitution requires a redistricting after each census, downstate legislators have blocked every reapportionment attempt since 1901. As a result the outlying legislative districts of Chicago and Cook county have many times the population of the half abandoned districts of central Chicago. However, the outlying districts have no more representation in the legislature than the partly depopulated areas. For example, the 25th district on the northwest side has a population (1930 census; it is larger now) of 563,231. On the other hand the 1st district, including downtown Chicago, has a population of only 44,677 (also 1930 census). Yet the 1st district has the same voting strength at Springfield as the 25th. Under the mandatory provision of the Illinois constitution new districts should have been set up in 1931 on the basis of an average population of 149,621 persons to a district. Eight of the nineteen Cook county districts fall below that mark. Six have more than double that population. The map shows all of all the Cook county districts except the 6th, which includes Evanston, and the 7th, which starts at the Lake county line on the north and swings south around Chicago to the Will county line.

ILLINOIS HOUSE GETS BILL TO FIX PRICES OF MILK

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—Price fixing of milk is proposed in a bill filed in the Illinois house today by nine downstate representatives. It aims to create a milk marketing board of seven members with authority to arbitrate disputes between farmers and dairies and power to set minimum producers' prices. The measure would require that all dairies be licensed by the marketing board, which would have the power to refuse licenses.

The minimum price would be set by the board if two-thirds of the producers in a market area asked for the move. Farmers by a majority vote could revoke the price.

WIFE OF WRITER EDWARD DOHERTY IS FOUND DEAD

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15.—[Special.]—The body of Mrs. Mildred Doherty, former Chicago newspaper woman, was found today on Benedict canyon hillside near Beverly Hills. Nearly 200 policemen, sheriff's deputies, aviators, and Boy Scouts had hunted her for many hours.

Mrs. Mildred Doherty.

The search was started after Mrs. Doherty failed to return from a hike last night. It was believed she collapsed from a heart attack or from exhaustion after a steep climb of half a mile on a hill path. Her face was scratched, apparently when her body rolled downhill, but there was no evidence of violence. Mrs. Doherty was 41 years old.

She was the former Mildred Frisby and the wife of Edward J. Doherty, magazine writer, with whom she had been visiting for five weeks in the home of Richard A. Carroll, aviator and author. Both Mrs. Doherty and her husband were former residents of Chicago and former employés of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Ship RidesOut Gale; Rescue Liner Heads for New York

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—The Italian liner Conte di Savoia, which stood by the disabled Norwegian freighter Beinor all night about 650 miles east of Cape Henry, Va., resumed its trip to New York early today, Italian line officials announced. The Italian vessel was due this morning with 979 passengers. Italian line offices said it probably would arrive 36 hours late. Although a radio message did not give details, it was indicated that the freighter no longer needed aid from the Conte di Savoia.

U. S. COURT FINDS UNION BACK OF SIT STRIKE DAMAGES

Philadelphia, Pa., March 15.—(AP)—Federal Judge William H. Kirkpatrick ruled in court today that the Apex Hosiery company has proved branch No. 1 of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers "authorized" a sitdown strike which the company contends wrecked its mill, one of the largest in the industry.

Breaking into the company's presentation of photographic evidence and lists of losses in its $3,515,872 damage suit against the union, the judge said:

"You certainly have established a prima facie case that the union authorized, maintained, or adopted this sitdown strike."

Counsel for the union had said the strike in which the plant was occupied 48 days in 1937 was "unauthorized" and the "spontaneous act of a few individuals."

The company listed its losses in damaged knitting machines and needles, halted shipments, and destroyed hosiery at more than a million dollars and asked triple damages under an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust act against restraint of interstate commerce.

I SAVE MONEY

I am like thousands of Chicago motorists. I save money by using Sinclair Motor Oil in my car. It lasts longer and protects the engine better because it contains no wax or petroleum jelly. These non-lubricating substances become thin and watery when the engine gets hot. They thin out the oil and make it use up faster.

To remove all the wax and petroleum jelly from Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils, Sinclair takes an important extra refining step. This requires chilling the oil down to temperatures as low as 60° below zero. At this point the non-lubricating substances are removed.

Why not try Sinclair Opaline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil in your car? It will save you money. See your nearby Sinclair Dealer today.

ALD. KONKOWSKI GOES ON TRIAL IN JOB LIST SCANDAL

Four Jurors Chosen After Judge Asks Speed.

The trial of Ald. Frank E. Konkowski [26th] and one of his precinct captains, charged with selling job promises in the recent police civil service list scandal, opened yesterday in the Criminal court.

Questioning of veniremen proceeded slowly during most of the day until Judge William J. Lindsay exhorted the prosecution and defense attorneys to show a little speed. Four jurors then were selected quickly.

Assistant State's Attorneys Thomas Bugan and Emmett Moynihan used six of their twenty peremptory challenges and Defense Attorneys James M. Burke and Charles Bellows used five. Two jurors were excused for cause and one by agreement.

Accused of Taking $600.

Ald. Konkowski's co-defendant is Stephen Idzikowski, 2047 Walton street, a former captain of the 7th precinct in the alderman's ward. He now manages a furniture store at 1009 Milwaukee avenue.

Konkowski and Idzikowski are charged in the indictment with taking $600 from George Fronskawicz, 2432 North Springfield avenue, on their promise to obtain a favorable position for him on the police list. The negotiations began on May 9, 1936, according to the state.

Prosecutor Bugan said witnesses will testify that Fronskawicz paid the money to Idzikowski in the lobby of a loop hotel, and that a few minutes later Ald. Konkowski appeared and remarked:

"You're as good as on the police list now."

Fails to Get on List.

When the list was published last Sept. 14 without Fronskawicz's name, the state alleges, he complained, and Idzikowski returned $100 to him, but refused to part with any more. The state plans to call at least ten other alleged victims.

Ald. Konkowski was defeated for reelection in the primary by two opponents who will hold a runoff in the April election.

SANCTION HIRING OF LAND EXPERTS BY SUBWAY CHIEF

The city council yesterday authorized Philip Harrington, city subway commissioner, to employ special attorneys and real estate experts in connection with acquisition by the city of land needed for subway construction.

Frank S. Righeimer, an attorney for the school board, will be employed at a salary of $50 a day, plus an additional $50 a day when appearing in court, Harrington said. Three real estate experts will be hired at $25 a day, the rate to be doubled on days when they appear in court.

The group will work for the city in connection with purchase of easements under the corners of State and Division streets and Division and Clybourn avenue, where the State street subway will pass under private property in making curves.

The council also authorized Harrington to retain Charles E. De Leuw & Co. to prepare plans for the widening and opening of Congress street between Michigan avenue and Columbus park. Preparation of the Congress street plans is a condition of the P. W. A. grant for the subway project.

OWNERS OF VICE RESORT REALTY FACE JURY QUIZ

State to Expose Profit Takers in Champaign.

Champaign, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—Owners of property in Champaign used for vice dens or gaming houses where students of the University of Illinois were admitted are facing grand jury investigation. Assistant Attorney General Walker Butler and Supt. T. P. Sullivan of the state bureau of investigations said today they intended to find out who profited from the rental of brothels and gambling dives.

The names of the owners of all such property will be given to the grand jury, Butler said, as well as the lessees and rental agents. If any of the property is owned by a trust the names of the beneficiaries of the trust will be ascertained.

Examine Property Records.

Investigators under the direction of Butler and Sullivan started examining the property records in the courthouse today. Transfers of property or any pretended sales or fake deeds will be followed to the end of the trail, the men in charge said.

Since the slaying of William Spurrier, sophomore at the university, in front of a hotel commonly known as a colored vice resort, state authorities have been insistent on a complete exposure of conditions, Butler said. Spurrier was slain Feb. 17, and Mrs. Margaret Strothers, colored, who admitted shooting him, has been indicted for murder. Her trial is scheduled for April 24.

The grand jury which was recalled into session by Circuit Judge John Armstrong after the shooting has been ordered to investigate all phases of vice and gambling as affecting the 12,000 students of the state university.

Prosecutor Is Superseded.

Acting Governor John Stelle has assigned a staf of state police here to aid in the inquiry and he is in touch with Sullivan regularly. Attorney General John E. Cassidy came here and petitioned Judge Armstrong to recall the grand jury and then, by virtue of his office and the permission of the court, he superseded State's Attorney Fred Hamill of Champaign county.

Mayor James D. Flynn of Champaign was under subpena to appear for questioning today. Mayor Flynn on several occasions admitted publicly that brothels were being operated in his city. He said he was attempting to regulate them and he required periodic examinations of the inmates.

Butler did not have time today to question Mayor Flynn. He may do so tomorrow. Flynn is to be asked to explain the attitude of city authorities about vice and open gambling.

JAP BOMBS RAZE MISSION OF U. S. EPISCOPALIANS

SHANGHAI, March 15.—(AP)—The American church [Episcopal] mission school at Ichang, Yangtze river city, midway between Hankow and Chungking, was destroyed Monday during raids by Japanese bombers, it was reported today.

Projectiles were showered on the property, it was said, despite an American protest to Japanese authorities over another bombardment of the mission on March 8.

The Japanese were said to have told American consular officials at Hankow after the previous raid that the American flag and markings on the school property were too small to be distinguished from the air. They acknowledged, however, that they had been told the location of the property.

Headed by South Dakotan.

New York, March 15.—(AP)—The Episcopal board of missions said today that its school in Ichang, China, reported destroyed by Japanese bombs, was superintended by Deaconess Elsie Riebe of Pingree, S. D. The value of the mission was placed at "less than $100,000."

TOKIO THREATENS TO TURN ARMS AGAINST SOVIET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 15.—The Japanese government tonight announced its intention to employ "firm" action to protect its 12 million dollar yearly fishery enterprise in soviet Russian waters.

Whether this means the use of arms was not stated, but it was generally interpreted as such. The government also declared all responsibility for what happens must be borne by Moscow. This decision followed the carrying out today of a soviet threat to auction fishery grounds off the Maritime province of Siberia without Japanese participation.

Tokio charged this violated the Portsmouth treaty, which ended the Russian-Japanese war in 1905. Japan is determined to send forty fishing vessels and 20,000 fishermen into the waters on April 10, as originally scheduled, it was asserted.

It is known that the navy and army are prepared for action.

Your best friend should have told you:

delivered at Flint, Mich.* *Subject to change without notice. Transportation, state and local taxes, if any, optional equipment and accessories—extra.

*The model illustrated is the Buick SPECIAL model 41 four-door touring sedan, $996 delivered at Flint, Mich.

WE'RE talking about that friend of yours who owns a 1939 Buick—

You've heard plenty from him, naturally, about the fresh-as-the-morning-breeze styling of his taut and trim new Buick—and the way it perks abody up just to look it over!

You've listened while he sang the praise of a ride that's like a lullaby—soft and gentle as a tender touch, but sure, unwavering, steady, in cross-wind or at speed.

No doubt you've sensed his joy at those eight eager Dynaflash cylinders, that need only the gentlest sort of hint to hike you straight to the forefront—and the snug and reassuring steadiness of this low-swung, stable stepper's gait!

All of which is well and good, and not to be disputed. But has your good friend told you this:

...That Buick's prices are easily the lowest prices for the value you'll find anywhere on automobile row?

ABLEST OF THE EIGHTS is this mighty Buick Dynaflash Valve-in-Head Straight-Eight, with a cyclone in each cylinder to squeeze full power from every drop of fuel.

...That this far-ranging great-hearted eight—with all the sky-larking life those extra cylinders give it—still costs less than some sixes?

...That factory list figures run anywhere from $51 to $102 less than a year ago—and that they buy worlds more in self-banking Knee-Action, Handishift transmission, 15% softer BuiCoil Springing, visibility stepped up as much as 412 square inches, any number of so-called "extras" such as the Flash-Way direction signal?

If he hasn't told you this, it's plainly time to do two things.

One—ask the nearest Buick dealer for a car you can try out—just by way of checking up on all the things you've heard about it.

Two—get him to give you dollars-and-cents figures on what the model of your choice will cost delivered in your driveway!

That will prove, we think, that Buick's the car and the value of the year. And we're certain-sure it will tell you what your best friend may have forgotten—this shining star is in your reach, so why should you be without it?

Evanston, Oak Park and Winnetka Top List.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

The 1938 real estate tax bills in the suburbs will be generally higher than 1937, it was disclosed yesterday with the announcement of the new rates by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn. The country towns' rates were given out following announcement on Tuesday of the Chicago rate.

The Chicago 1938 rate is $9.12 per $100 of assessed valuation, 4½ per cent more than the $8.73 rate for 1937. The increase in many of the large suburbs in Cook county will be greater than the rise in Chicago.

The 1938 rates for Evanston, Oak Park, and Winnetka average 8 to 9 per cent higher. The Riverside rate is up 7 per cent, and River Forest and Brookfield rates are up 6 per cent.

Few Towns Show Decline.

Other increases range from 1 to 5 per cent. Relatively few of the country towns showed rate declines. As in the case of the Chicago rate, the increases were traceable generally to reductions in assessed valuations rather than to increases in taxes levied by the governments.

City and country town tax bills will now be computed and mailed out over the next three weeks. They will be payable within thirty days after the mailing is completed.

Following is a comparison of the full 1938 rates with 1937 rates for most of the cities and villages in the county. In some instances more than one rate is shown. The taxpayer will pay the rate for the township or school district where his property is located. The school district [SD] or township is noted in brackets.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Prophet Without Honor

School Given Bear

Lester C. Essig Jr. at Lane High school with mounted bear. He killed the animal in Canada with bow and arrow.

Few if any of the pupils of Lane Technical High school ever will come face to face with a live polar bear outside a zoo, but if they do they know now what to do. They will use a bow and arrow!

Two groups of 2,000 pupils each yesterday saw films made by Lester Essig Jr., 15, a Lane pupil, on his Canadian polar bear hunt last summer around the Twin islands in James bay. Today the remainder of the pupils will fill the auditorium twice to see the pictures and hear Lester's story. Lester has formally presented to the school the big polar bear he shot with a bow and arrow last summer. Mounted by a taxidermist, of course!

Each summer since he was 5 years old Lester has gone hunting with his father, a theatrical costumer, who resides at 3200 Sheridan road.

TWO SONS NAMED EXECUTORS OF COWLES ESTATE

Alfred Cowles III. of Colorado Springs, Colo., and his brother, Knight, of 750 Sheridan road, Lake Forest, yesterday were named coexecutors of the $985,000 estate left by their father, Alfred Cowles, director of the Chicago Tribune company for forty-eight years and a civic leader. Their appointments were made as their father's will was admitted to probate by John F. Keeley, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell.

Mr. Cowles died Jan. 15 in his home at 1130 Lake Shore drive. He was 74 years old. His father, Alfred Cowles Sr., was an associate of Joseph Medill, founder of THE TRIBUNE, and his son succeeded him as a director of the company.

The terms of the will place most of the estate in trust for the two sons, Alfred III. and Knight, and for the children of a third son, Thomas, who died several years ago. The will also refers to a provision that previously had been made for a fourth son, John Cheney Cowles of Meriden, N. H. A number of office and domestic employés were remembered in the will, and Miss Genevieve Teuton, his secretary, was bequeathed $50,000.

SET BLUE ISLAND SCHOOL TAX RATE VOTE FOR APRIL 1

The Blue Island Community High school's board of trustees voted last night to hold a special election on April 1 to determine whether the tax rate to support the school will be raised.

Because of a lack of funds the school was closed last week. It had 1,300 students. John Joens, president of the board, said it would not be reopened until after the election—and not then unless the increase were voted.

The present tax rate is 37½ cents per $100 for building, and $1 for educational purposes. The proposal is that 50 cents and $1.50 be the comparable rates. Three times, in recent elections, the Blue Island voters defeated tax raises for the school.

The blood bank at the County hospital, where blood of all types is stored, ready for quick transfusions, was two years old yesterday. Dr. Elizabeth Schirmer, director of the bank, gave a birthday party, complete with a two-candled cake, in her laboratory. There were about forty guests, including members of the administrative staf, nurses, and interns. "The party was fun," said Dr. Schirmer, "but its real purpose was to acquaint the hospital people with the working of the bank. When it was started there were sixty transfusions a month at the hospital. Now there are an average of 400."

POLICEMAN'S SON LOSES LONG FIGHT TO AVOID PRISON

Eugene Sullivan, 27 years old, son of a Gary policeman, yesterday lost a four year fight to keep out of prison.

Sullivan and Harry Flick, 35 years old, were charged on Dec. 14, 1934, with holding up the Crown Point office of the Northern Indiana Public Service company and a Gary cleaning establishment. Early in 1935 they were sentenced by Judge William J. Murray to ten years in prison for the public service holdup. Flick started serving his term; Sullivan appealed and won some forty delays.

A new trial finally was ordered last summer, and both were acquitted. Judge Murray then sentenced them to serve ten years for the cleaners holdup. Yesterday the Indiana Supreme court denied Sullivan's appeal.

MAID SOBS STORY OF SLAYING HER EMPLOYERS' SON

New Castle, Pa., March 15.—(AP)—Angeline Maravola, 22 year old housemaid, wept today as she told a jury at her trial for murder how she shot Michael Rich Jr.

Five women and seven men on the jury heard her tell how she left school to work in the home of Rich's parents and about her first date with him. She described his love-making. Twice during her recital she collapsed, causing court to be recessed.

Miss Maravola's defense is that she loved Rich "more than life" but shot him because he betrayed, refused to marry, and struck her.

FATHER AND SON ARE ACCUSED OF RAPE AND MURDER

Discrepancies in Stories Charged by Detective.

Authorities in Lake county, Indiana, yesterday charged two men with rape and murder in connection with the death of Miss Frieda Borman, whose body was found last Nov. 3 in a field near Griffith, ten miles south of Gary.

The accused are Keith Alson, 22 years old, who was the girl's acknowledged suitor, and his father, Charles Alson, 52. Young Alson works on a farm near Hobart, Ind. His father is superintendent of maintenance for the Sunderman Dairy farm northeast of Crown Point. They were held in the Gary city jail last night and are to be taken to Crown Point, the county seat, today.

The affidavit charging the Alsons with the two crimes was filed in the court of Justice of the Peace Harvey Minas of Crown Point by Detective George Harms of Gary. Harms is a member of the recently organized Lake county homicide squad. Under Indiana criminal procedure the filing requires the grand jury to consider the charges. This may be done next week.

Stories are Investigated.

Harms said the Alsons were suspected after they told a story, apparently carefully rehersed, that contained minor discrepancies. Most of the suspected statements, according to the detective, had to do with the movements of the father and son at the time the girl disappeared from her home in Gary. He said Charles Alson claimed he was visiting another of his sons then, but that investigation showed this statement to be false.

Miss Borman, who was 22 years old, left her home at 1189 Burr street, Gary, on Oct. 30. She registered at an employment agency on that date, and the police were unable to find any trace of her after that until the body was found five days later.

No Marks of Violence.

There were no marks of violence on the body and it was at first suspected she might have died a natural death. Later an examination showed she had been raped and that she had been killed by some poisonous gas.

Keith Alson apparently coöperated with the investigators. He said that he had been with Miss Borman once during the week she disappeared. For several months the investigation lagged. Then the homicide squad, with members from all the police forces of the county, was formed. Its first assignment was to solve the Borman case.

WEYMER DIVORCE BATTLE FIZZLES AFTER 32 ROUNDS

A truce has been called in the marital battles of the Weymers—Ann and Earl—and the suits that each has filed against the other are to be withdrawn today. This surprising news was announced yesterday by attorneys for Mrs. Weymer and her husband, head of an ornamental iron company.

"Definitly," said Ben H. Ehrlich, attorney for Weymer, "this is not reconciliation. My client has merely instructed me to go before Judge Philip Finnegan and withdraw his divorce suit. He says he wants to handle the situation in his own way."

"I don't just know what it's all about," said Norman Becker, counsel for Mrs. Weymer.

During the course of some thirty-two separate court hearings, the Weymer case has run the gamut from charges of cruelty and nonsupport by Mrs. Weymer, who is 27 years old, to those of cruelty, drunkenness, and adultery by her husband.

COURT TO STUDY PLEA TO CHANGE SEPARATION PACT

Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday took under advisement a test case raised by Sidney Adler, a retired attorney, who seeks a readjustment of a separation contract made in 1922. Under the contract he has been paying $10,000 annually to his former wife, Mrs. Sarah Adler Cowley-Brown of the Chicago Beach hotel.

Both Adler and his wife remarried in 1924. One year ago Adler petitioned the court for a reduction of his payments to $5,400 annually. He alleged that of the $10,000 payments, $4,600 annually were alimony and $5,400 part of a property settlement. Mrs. Adler's remarriage in 1924, he charged, should permit him to discontinue the alimony payments in accordance with Illinois laws.

The case was referred to Master in Chancery Otto C. Rentner, who recently submitted a report recommending the reduction and sustaining Adler's stand. Attorney Floyd Thompson, for Adler, and Attorney A. F. Reichman, for Mrs. Cowley-Brown, argued the case before Judge Finnegan yesterday.

SLAYER ADMITS FOURTH KILLING IN FRENCH TRIAL

VERSAILLES, France, March 15.—(AP)—Eugene Weidmann, former German convict and confessed killer in a murder for profit ring, confessed to a fourth slaying in his trial here today.

Weidmann, who is 29 years old, already had acknowledged before a jury the slaying of Jean De Koven, a dancer of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Raymond Lesobre, French real estate agent, and Fritz Frommer, a German. Today he admitted that he had shot to death and robbed a French chauffeur, Joseph Couffy, on Sept. 9, 1937.

Two more killings remained to be discussed before the jury decides whether Weidmann should go to the guillotine. He has admitted to police the slaying of Adame Jeanine Keller, a nursemaid, but contends that Roger Million, on trial as his accomplice, was the slayer of Roger Leblond, a theatrical promoter.

Worthless Check Passer Gets Four Months in Jail

Edward P. Bristol, 19 years old, 1003 Grove street, Evanston, was sentenced to four months in the county jail by Judge James E. Corcoran in Evanston Municipal court yesterday for obtaining money under false pretenses. He was arrested March 5 after he passed several worthless checks and obtained an expensive sedan for a demonstration ride that lasted twenty-four hours before he abandoned it.

3 SAFECRACKERS TAKE IN $25,000, WIND UP BROKE

Loot 50 Places; 2 Admit Postoffice Robberies.

Three young men, known as accomplished amateur athletes in the neighborhood of Cicero and Milwaukee avenues, found they could swing sledge hammers as easily as baseball bats. They became safe crackers. In fifteen months they smashed more than fifty safes in north and northwest side factories, railroad stations, telegraph offices, and postoffice branches.

Last night they were locked up in the North Damen avenue police station. Not one of the three had a dime. And their loot, Capt. Daniel Lynch estimated conservatively, had amounted to $25,000. The prisoners whistled nonchalantly in their cells, except when the postoffice burglaries and federal prisons were mentioned.

All Three Confess.

The three, who confessed their crimes in detail to Capt. Lynch and Postal Inspector Cecil Gant, are: Robert Beaver, 23 years old, 2929 North Talman avenue; David Colwell, 25, of 5633 Lawrence avenue, and Charles Lawson, 24, of 3512 North Keeler avenue. Colwell and Lawson said they are former professional boxers.

Beaver and Colwell were seized early Saturday morning by Policeman Kenneth [Jack] Goudie, son of Capt. Romaine Goudie of the Racine avenue station. Young Goudie saw them in the offices of the F. J. Littell Machine company, 4127 Ravenswood avenue. He captured them as they leaped out a window. Both were armed. Lawson was arrested Tuesday.

Capt. Lynch and postal inspectors then began linking the gang with safecrackings in the district. Beaver and Lawson got $250 at the branch postoffice at 1908 Milwaukee avenue on Dec. 6 and $1,500 at the one at 3855 North Cicero avenue on Dec. 15, the inspectors said. In four more visits to these and other postoffices the two were frightened away empty handed, the two admitted.

Confess Other Robberies.

All three prisoners said they participated in six raids on the Lambrecht Creamery company plant at 4158 Fullerton avenue, netting nearly $1,000. Last June 16 they lowered a safe from a second floor window of the Crane company branch at 3500 Milwaukee avenue and stole a Crane truck to take it away. It yielded $130. Six months later they cracked another safe in the same place for $250, they confessed.

The gang used sledge hammers to knock off the combinations of the safes and break in the doors, except in factories where they found acetylene torches. Then, they said, they laid aside the hammers and cut their way into the safes.

FIVE SENTENCED TO JAIL ALIMONY ROW IN ONE DAY

Five men were sent to alimony row in the County jail yesterday. Three of them, all accused of being in arrears in alimony and support money payments, were committed by Judge Philip J. Finnegan. They are Clifford M. Bogt, a dairy company salesman of Philadelphia, Pa.; George A. Schieman, 568 South Hawthorne avenue, Elmhurst, and Paul Gillespie, 4420 North La Crosse avenue.

Two others were ordered to jail by Judge Robert C. O'Connell. They are Clarence Penwitt, whose former wife, Rose, of 7204 Stewart avenue, charged he was $289 in arrears, and Walter Simo, 6151 Newburg avenue. Simo was sentenced to six months for contempt of court because he appeared before a master in chancery intoxicated and was unable to testify at a hearing to fix temporary alimony for his wife, Anna, who is suing for divorce.

2 HELD TO JURY FOR ROBBERY.

Judge Frank M. Padden of the automobile court yesterday held Joseph Scrozone, 20 years old, 1017 Cambridge avenue, and Anthony Dindia, 18, of 1147 Cleveland avenue, to the grand jury in bonds of $10,000 on charges of larceny and robbery.

Profession of Modeling Full of Illusions

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

The glamor that surrounds the modeling profession today has left the door open to a great many misconceptions as to what actually goes on behind the photographed scene. Almost daily, in this department, we are questioned about the advisability of taking up modeling as a career. Our conscience advises us to set a few of those inquirers of ours straight before they pack up and leave home with high hopes of conquest and no money to tide them over a possible bad period.

True, modeling has taken on an aspect akin to the early screen days, when the praise of kin and acquaintance meant a pretty girl should buy a ticket to Hollywood. Because Hollywood has told them to stay away, as the field is overcrowded, the girls look to modeling now.

Andrew H. Hunter, head of a large model service in New York, compiles the following facts about modeling from records covering a period of years.

"Many prospective models," Mr. Hunter affirms, "have the idea that a model's salary is just a little short of a movie star's. This belief has been fostered largely by schools that want to enroll pupils even if it means creating illusions that must be later shattered. The actual fact is that modeling pays just a little more than regular office work, although most girls are agreed that it is a more pleasant task and has brighter prospects for the future.

"Fashion models' salaries range between $25 and $35 a week in most shops. This scale is similar for both wholesale and retail modeling, although there is a slight fluctuation in some stores featuring the high priced gowns. Of course, even models who are regularly employed can expect additional income from an occasional special show, perhaps the better girls running their incomes up an extra $10 or $20.

Mr. Hunter's records show that approximately 93 per cent of the girls trained in his school are successful in finding jobs. More than half the girls get steady jobs, while the rest receive special assignments that may last a day or several months.

An interesting phase of modeling, reported by Mr. Hunter, is that the age of the girls employed is generally between 17 and 25. The popular idea that a model must be tall, blonde and beautiful is not necessarily true. Girls' heights vary from 5 feet 3 inches to 6 feet, their weights varying with their height.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

One of the most curious features of bridge is the fact that average players cling tenaciously to their high cards as to so many jewels, whereas experts often treat these same cards as so much dross. I do not mean to imply that experts are contemptuous of aces and kings. Far from it! They do, however, attach a variable importance to these treasures. They realize that there are not only times when each will produce a trick, but other times when they will be terrific liabilities. The most classic example of this latter state of affairs is the hand published below. This is by no means the first time the hand has appeared in print, but I have no hesitation in going over it again for the benefit of those thousands of readers who may have missed it upon its first presentation years ago. It is a truly astonishing illustration of what can be done by a defender if his imagination goes far enough. At the same time I hasten to admit that the winning play smacks very much of "double dummy," hence it is presented more as a bridge curiosity than as a serious effort to illustrate master play.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West makes his conventional opening of the spade ten and East goes up with the queen. South must duck, otherwise he will not have the slightest chance to make his contract. He cannot run many tricks without attacking the heart suit and, if he has accepted the spade king on the first trick, East, upon winning with the heart ace, will return a spade through the J-3 and West will run four spade tricks. Thus, it is mandatory for South to make East a present of the spade queen. Given that start it appears an absolute cinch that South can take nine tricks. East, of course, returns a spade, but when West wins with the ace it seems impossible for the opponents to defeat the contract. In fact, I urge my readers to present this as a problem to their unwary friends. Point out that East wins the first trick with the spade queen and that a spade is returned, and then ask whether East-West can defeat the contract against declarer's best line of play. Unless I am very far off the track not one player in one thousand [unless he has seen this hand before] will fail to answer that there is no possible defense. He will point out that South needs only one entry to the dummy for the return of a heart toward the king-queen and that, whether or not East plays low, South can make three heart tricks without difficulty. He will be right, as far as he goes. South does win the third lead of spades and enters dummy with the club ace. He then leads a heart. If East puts up the ace South subsequently takes three heart tricks. If East ducks South wins with the queen and returns the six spot, dropping the ace.

All this is very fine, but does not tell the story! The contract can and will be defeated by a very simple [although highly sensational] discard on East's part. West wins the second spade trick with the ace and continues with the third lead of spades. On this trick East throws away his ace of hearts! Now just let your friends try and make three no trump! They haven't a Chinaman's chance! South cannot take three heart tricks without giving West the lead, and the minute this happens, of course, West rattles off enough spade tricks to defeat the contract.

Potatoes Play Double Role in Lenten Meals

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Potatoes never are more important to a meal than when they appear alone, without their usual meat bodyguard. During Lent many families are asking potatoes to act a double part. Eggs, cheese, flaked fish, and vegetables are combined with potatoes at various meals to make the menu heartier.

These few simple suggestions for giving potatoes a double duty probably will be a starter for many more similar ideas practical for your own household.

Baked Eggs and Mashed Potatoes

[Serves Four]

2 cups hot mashed potatoes
1 canned pimiento, sieved
Salt, pepper
2 tablespoons butter, melted
4 eggs

Blend mashed potatoes with sieved pimiento and spread in a buttered casserole. Make four depressions in the surface of the potatoes and drop an egg into each. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour melted butter over the top of the eggs and potatoes. Cream may be used if preferred. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 20 minutes, until eggs are cooked.

Baked potatoes may be prepared attractively in a similar way. After the potatoes have baked cut off the tops and scoop out the pulp. Mash, adding milk, salt, pepper, and a little butter. Refill shells, piling the potatoes in lightly. Make a depression for the egg in each filling, sprinkle with seasonings, drip over cream or melted butter, and bake in the same manner.

Cheese may take the place of meat in a meal with baked potatoes. After the potatoes have baked split them half way, sprinkle salt and pepper into the openings, and put into each a teaspoon of butter and a fairly thick slice of cheese. Allow the cheese to start melting before the potatoes are served.

Baked potatoes may be served with creamed codfish, creamed tuna, salmon, or shrimp for a Lenten meal. Or the flaked fish may be added to the mashed potato filling and reheated. Mashed potato cakes or puffs made from fresh or leftover mashed potatoes are very good with creamed fish served over them. A cream sauce, to which sliced sautéed mushrooms and hard cooked egg have been added, is good with mashed or baked potatoes.

Other vegetables may be scalloped with potatoes to make a filling main dish. Onions are an old favorite. Onions, tuna, and peas may be added to a dish similar to the following for a one dish meal.

SCALLOPED POTATOES AND ONIONS.

Place alternate layers of sliced raw potatoes and sliced onions in a greased casserole and sprinkle each layer with salt, pepper, and flour. Dot each layer with butter. Pour in milk to about two-thirds the depth of the vegetables, cover closely, and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about an hour. Fifteen minutes before the oven time is up, sliced cheese may be added to the top of the casserole and allowed to melt down through the potatoes and onions.

Chefs Reveal a Fondness for Plain Dishes

The chefs of Chicago know how to create a lot of intricate dishes, but when they leave the kitchen to eat themselves they like their food plain and simple.

Five chefs, picked at random, were interviewed yesterday at the fourth Salon of Culinary Art and the National Food, Cookery, and Allied Trades exposition in the 131st armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. And their five favorite dishes, for eating purposes, were: stew, grated vegetables, filet mignon, plain boiled beef, and boiled beef and cabbage.

Henri Peters, chef of the Colony club, says his favorite recipe is scrambled eggs colony because "we're a night club, and that's what we sell most of." To make this you beat up three eggs with a jigger of cream, scramble, and form them into a ring. Inside the ring place strips of beef-tongue, chickens, mushrooms, diced tomatoes, and chopped chives. As for Mr. Peters, he'll have French stew.

Joseph Van Mullen, executive chef of the Standard club, thinks breast of chicken Belle Helene is his best recipe. This consists of a tartlet filled with fresh mushrooms and covered with breast of chicken fried in butter. Place a whole mushroom on top of that, garnish with asparagus tips and leave the natural gravy on the platter.

And then, because Mr. Van Mullen is naturally a little hungry after that, give him some grated vegetables smothered in olive oil and seasoned with pepper.

Mitchell A. Thompson, who has been a chef for twelve of his thirty-two years, is in charge of the kitchen at the Yar. His favorite recipe is chicken a la Kiev, which he introduced to Chicago, he says, ten years ago. It is chicken-breast stuffed with sweet butter and prepared in a fashion which Mr. Thompson has no intention of bandying about. He says he's told a few other chefs how to make it and that's enough.

What does he eat when he dines out? Filet mignon, rare. "You know what you're getting," he says.

Snail bouguignonne isn't Fernand Pointreau's favorite recipe. He likes all of his seven or eight hundred. But he thinks it's probably the most unusual. You flavor the snail with a little garlic, butter and bread crumbs, cook, and serve them up with the shells.

"To me there is no favorite recipe," says the Hotel Sherman's head chef. His favorite dish, though, is either plain boiled beef or lamb stew.

Pierre Meunier, who knows about a thousand recipes [200 to 250 with eggs as a base], says the most unusual dish he knows he last made 15 years ago, but he can't recall its name. It was Russian. His best recipe, he thinks, is breast of duckling bigarade, which is made with an orange and sherry sauce.

For his own pleasure, however, he'll take his wife's boiled beef and cabbage, which he has every other Sunday. Pierre, now at the Union League club, has been at hotels in Philadelphia, New York, Miami, Minneapolis, and Chicago. Moving around, he says, keeps a chef from falling asleep on the job.

Praise Riding of Mrs. Linn in Hunt Race

BY JUDITH CASS.

FROM Middleburg, Va., comes word of the sensational victory of Mrs. Howard Linn in last Saturday's Piedmont Hunt point to point races at Rokeby, Paul Mellon's estate near Upperville. Mrs. Linn left Virginia immediately after the race to join Mr. Linn at Boca Grande, Fla., but the hunting country still is ringing with praises of her splendid riding and good sportsmanship, our correspondent reports.

"The way she rode was the 'high point' of the day" the report continues. "Riding sidesaddle, in formal attire—blue habit, top hat and veil—her head work was superb. She rode perfectly, never making a mistake, to out-jocky the other ladies, all of whom were riding astride. This was Mrs. Linn's first race and she won over some of the best riders here. Toward the end of the point to point, when a turn in the course seemed hazardous, Mrs. Linn threw discretion to the wind and took a rasping stone wall at an angle, landing safely.

"Ever since Saturday afternoon sportsmen have been talking with admiration and enthusiasm about the performance she put up, each one seeming as proud of her as though he had had some part in her achievement, which is the way of good sportsmen when a sporting event has been done well. Mrs. Linn was riding her French bred hunter, Verquin, a bay, 8 years old, which she bought in England, hunted there in the Leicestershire country for two seasons, and which she has hunted with many packs in this country.

Four Women Finish Race.

"Verquin has been in Warrenton this season and Mrs. Linn has hunted him with several Virginia packs. William Emory of Warrenton trained the horse for the race on Saturday. There was rain and sleet falling in Mrs. Linn's face during the race and mud splashing up all over. She stopped in Middleburg after the races for a hot tub, then motored up to Washington to take a train for Boca Grande. She was beaming with pleasure when she left."

Miss Jane Brooks of Lake Forest was one of the four women who finished the race, the other two being Mrs. June Brainard, who rode Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Loro, and Mrs. Jacobs Wetherell. Garry Webb, now

New Handbags Break Records for Smartness

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Bag collections are breaking all records for color, fabric, size, shape, and capacity. New spring loot will take your breath away because of the high colors, such as fire truck red, all the cyclamen tints, and the almost limitless supply of every shade of green known to the designers. Puffy blistered effects come in kidskins and alligators; some in huge pouch models with good sturdy straps, others in rather thick blocky looking envelopes, and still others with rigid frames and gathered lower sections.

New during the last few days are the gleaming black patent lether beauties with contrast stitching in red and white forming a most effective diamond design over all. Also the brilliantly colored felts to wear with street clothes in tweed mixtures or wool. Colors that formerly were difficult to find are plentiful now. These include rusty henna, carbon blue, several shades of chartreuse, and any number of violet and purple shades. The famous handbag designed by Koret in a new spring book model, thinner than ever before, is a dress parade affair . . . it looks like a rare first edition.

Red patent lether is used for small flat envelopes as well as the larger sized finds . . . these can be matched to red or black straw hats trimmed with a perky bow and band of the same red patent as the bag.

New swanky suedes made of two glamorous new colors, a light and dark beige tone, have gloves to match. These beige tints are new and subtle, one almost a fawn, the other a trifle darker. They are slick finds to match the newest rage in hosiery fashions, the beige chiffons. Most of these bags come in good sized oblongs, sufficiently large to hold all the usual feminine trivia without bulging . . . nothing unusual in the size or styles or even the outlines, but the colors are exceptional.

Through the Looking Glass

The trend in makeups for spring, 1939, is toward the natural and the "pretty" effect. A new shade in lipstick and rouge, a soft, warm rose, fits perfectly into the coming fashion for faces.

This season it's going to be smart to look pretty. Flowers on hats, flower colors in clothes and soft, natural roses in the cheeks will fit right into the fashion picture.

All the fair and the not-so-fair [we're speaking of coloring, not of a sense of ethics] will be crazy about a brand new spring makeup that has just come to town. It's called just rose, which doesn't nearly express the beauty and subtlety of the actual color of it. It's warm, natural, and youthful looking. It's the shade of makeup accessory that can be used for the makeup that doesn't look like one. It harmonizes well with the natural coloring of blondes and most brunettes because this rouge and lipstick don't fight with natural blood color.

The new rose color comes in both dry and cream rouge, in lipstick and even in nail enamel. There are two lipstick cases from which to choose. A new one is a handsome square based case in golden metal—very smart and beautifully made.

The rose makeup is a gorgeous color with blue, either light or dark; with pink, beige, and even some reds. But walk carefully when you match any makeup to red! We found this makeup most attractive, too, with blacks; it gives the face a clean, fresh look that is essential if you are not to be submerged when you wear dark colors. And it is a lovely color with many of the grays. It will make that fashionable color easier for a great many women who find it difficult.

These new makeup accessories are of excellent quality, but are not expensive. You'll find them in several of the shops, and if you prefer the pretty to the harsh effect in faces, you'll surely like them.

Good Morning!

He who'd want to be a test pilot after seeing this picture has something inside of him that I wouldn't even know about.

How does the United States navy prepare for national defense via the air? "Wings of the Navy," photographed at and around the Pensacola Naval Air Training station, shows you the ropes. It is largely facts—with bits of romance and humor thrown in for savor.

With the big hearted coöperation of the government you see raw recruits turned into expert airmen, contemplate the anatomy and performance of fast two seater planes and flying dreadnaughts, watch fascinated as ground crews manipulate the apparatus for launching and landing seaplanes. The air stuff is simply superb.

Fighting squadrons are shown, photographed from lofty vantage. . . . Individual planes carry on in numberless ways, and then there are the scenes when the test pilots get into action. THESE you WON'T forget.

As for the fiction. . . . Irene Dale, engaged to Pilot Instructor Cass Harrington, loses her heart to his student brother, Jerry. [You don't see how she could—BUT she does.] When Cass finds out—well, there's really quite a lot of water under that bridge. . . .

Acting throughout is praiseworthy. George Brent captures most of the sympathy and Frank McHugh most of the laughs.

A commendable picture. Educational AND entertaining.

Elaine Reinhardt Becomes Bride of George S. Moseley

In a quiet ceremony at 11:30 o'clock yesterday in the apartment of her mother, Mrs. Benjamin Rosenthal, in the Ambassador East hotel, Mrs. Elaine Rosenthal Reinhardt became the bride of George S. Moseley. The bride's sister, Mrs. Raymond Tartiere, came from her winter home in Middleburg, Va., and the bridegroom's son, Spencer Moseley, flew home from the Hill school for the wedding.

Mr. Moseley's mother, Mrs. Carleton Moseley of Highland Park, and Mrs. Tartiere's son, Ernest Byfield Jr., were other wedding guests. Judge James G. Barber of Evanston performed the ceremony, and a breakfast followed.

Mr. Moseley and his bride left for California. They will live in Grosse Pointe, Mich., and in Chicago. The bride is a former woman's western golf champion.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Yesterdays of Hollywood.

[Film notables and Hollywood residents are contributing columns while Ed Sullivan takes a vacation.]

BY ROBERT E. LEONARD.

So you want to know what Hollywood was like thirty years ago, do you? Okay, Ed, here goes, and I'll make it good and graphic, bringing it down to spots familiar to you. For instance, that home in Beverly Hills that you occupy. Well, Ed, that spot and the miles that surround it were nothing but a pasture. As a matter of fact, I shot rabbits at a spot which very nearly corresponds with your front door.

And Hollywood proper. Nothing but orange trees, with a few lemon groves sprinkled around for good measure. The Hollywood hotel was as near to being a building as you could find, and that was considered as simply a country tavern. Bungalow courts were the things. No actor or motion picture personality was worthy of the name if he couldn't give a bungalow court as his address. The court was just as necessary as going down to Ocean Park Saturday night, where every one who was some one always showed up to watch the dance contests.

There was one couple in particular we would all wait for. They arrived at the dance hall in a variety of car then known as a "bug." You know, all stripped down and close to the ground. Well, every night this boy and girl proceeded to walk away with the dancing cups. Know who they were, Ed? Bebe Daniels and Harold Lloyd.

And by the way, my friend, I suppose you recall without too much effort the good sized cop who gave you a ticket the other evening? Well, Ed, that cop was Bob Aulburt, who was Hollywood's law, with a capital L, in those early days. And speaking of the law, can you imagine the picture industry taking it in their own hands today? There was a time back there when we were driven to it. A racket known as "picture stealing" developed. Biograph, Vitagraph, Essanay, Lubin, Selig Polyscope, and other companies had to band together to prevent other concerns from getting film. But they got it anyway, and cameras, too. That was bad enough, but to make matters worse, outsiders crept in and photographed the other fellow's pictures.

Then war was declared, and with real bullets. I was aligned with the Selig ranks and, when not acting, took up arms. Our duty was to patrol the location and scare, if not shoot, the renegade cameramen hidden in the bushes or trees. Just as an added safety measure, the names and trade-marks of the various companies were posted on everything within range of the camera, whether the scene was interior or exterior. That was done so that such evidence might be used in court against the maker of bootleg pictures shown in a theater. That's just to give you an idea of the way things stood in those days, a far cry from the regulated industry of today.

Having read in your column on numerous occasions about Hollywood's million and one swimming pools, may I add here and now that thirty years ago the city of Hollywood boasted but one such luxury. That was at Hollywood Junction in the old Kalem studios. All the companies got together to share this pool and chose their bathing girls from the mermaids tempted to take a dip.

That was Hollywood thirty years ago, Ed, a Hollywood that boasted a certain democracy which faded shortly afterward with the introduction of hard boiled shirts from the east. When the shirts came in, class distinction began. Actors were known either as easterners or westerners, and the westerners suffered by way of prestige and salary. The day of the "horse opera" was ended.

Going back like this makes the changes which have taken place since then almost unbelievable. I look around the M.-G.-M. lot at all of the dancing girls employed in pictures and think back on the first dancer ever to be employed in a film. We got her from the old Orpheum theater in Los Angeles to dance in a western saloon sequence. And did we think we were stepping out! We had plenty of complaints on that dancer, though. Theater pianists, it seemed, couldn't keep proper time with her steps. Now we not only photograph the dancers, but put the proper music as an accompaniment in a can with it.

Well, Ed, that's it. Next time you drive in front of your home in Beverly Hills just think back to the day when rabbits dodged bullets in the vicinity of your doorstep. Then you'll get some idea of the progress Hollywood has undergone. And when, and if, you go rabbit shooting today think ahead thirty years to 1969. Maybe the residential section of the city will spread there by that time, who knows?

The Housewife

Now that florists' windows are burgeoning with spring flowers and you're arranging daffodils and tulips and freesias and all the other lovely blooms in bowls for the table, why not try adding a few of the charming pastel tinted tapers? These candles are long and slender and are made especially for flower arrangements. They come in six or seven delicate colors.

We've tried them with flowers and like them. Ours did not drip at all though none of them were in upright positions. But if you're afraid of their dripping simply place them in the refrigerator a couple of hours before using them. Then put them among the flowers and light them.

Gag Going the Rounds.

That the Marx Brothers' Sunday night show, The Circle, is to be shortened a half hour and called the Semi-circle.

Lum an' Abner, in town for a few hours on their way east, were still chuckling over the joke they played on Don Ameche, who went east shortly before they did. Lum (Chester Lauck) and Ameche own a racing stable (called the L. & A., which stands for Lauck and Ameche, not Lum and Abner as is usually thought). So that Ameche would not miss his stable Lum an' Abner stuffed straw and oats into his drawing room on the Santa Fe, and added a few chickens for verisimilitude. This was at Los Angeles. When Ameche got on at Pasadena the chickens had laid three eggs.

A true drunk story Lum tells concerns the gay party which came ashore at Los Angeles after a short cruise. They discovered that there were only seven left, although they had started out with eight. The realization that one of the party must have gone overboard sobered them a little and they put out again to search for him. As their searchlight swept the waters a shout from another boat told that the crew had picked up a man, having seen his head bobbing in the water in their searchlight's rays. They had come alongside and one of the crew had said jokingly, "Where do you think you're going, out here sixteen miles from shore?"

"Goin' to Catalina," answered the other blithely, raising a forefinger out of the water in a truckin' gesture. He meant it, too, and they had difficulty getting him aboard.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

"That which a man worships, fears, loves, and trusts" was the definition of God given yesterday by the Rev. Theodore Heimarck in his noonday address at the Erlanger theater during the service sponsored by the Chicago Lutheran Ministers' association.

Dr. Heimarck also stated that man has a God whether he likes it or not, whether he knows it or not, and whether he chooses it or not.

"The thing which man counts worthy of his life," said Dr. Heimarck, "upon which he lavishes his interest and devotion, and trusts in as the source of all his joy and strength, that is his God. Some folks flatter themselves that they can live by a negative belief; but none can live by what he denies—one lives only by what he believes."

The God to choose, therefore, Dr. Heimarck argued, is the God as revealed in Christ.

The Blind Side

By Patricia Wentworth

[Copyright: 1939: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull.]

SYNOPSIS.

Ross Craddock's father, now dead, turned Craddock house into flats and installed his old maid cousins, Mary and Lucy Craddock, in a flat apiece, on either side of the one occupied by Ross. After Mary's death Lucy prepares to leave for a change of scene. Their cousin, Peter Renshaw, is staying in Mary's flat while he settles her estate. Ross orders Lucy to vacate her flat because she objects to his attentions to her foolish young niece, Mavis Grey. Lucy tells Peter she wishes Ross were dead. He advises her to take the trip. Lucy gives her cousin, Lee Fenton, permission to use her flat while she is away. Lee, who is in love with Peter, has just escaped an unpleasant experience with a married man. Rush, the porter, admits Lee. He mutters belligerently against Ross. After Rush, Lee has a time dismissing Mrs. Green, the charwoman, who says she is ill and needs a drink of brandy. That evening Peter prevents Bobby Foster, Mavis' suitor, from making a scene in a cabaret where Mavis is with Ross. Peter is awakened in the night by a crash. He sees Mavis running from Ross' flat and Ross cut and bleeding. Mavis had thrown a decanter at him. Peter lets Mavis stay the rest of the night and he sleeps on a couch. Later he is again awakened and sees Mavis again coming from Ross' flat. She says she went to retrieve her purse. Lee awakens from a nightmare to find her nightgown and foot covered with blood. Her bloody footprints lead from Ross' door. Lee knows she walks in her sleep. In terror she washes away the blood stains and goes to tell Peter. Ross' valet arrives and finds Ross has been shot and killed. He summons the police.

INSTALMENT XV.

UNDER SUSPICION.

Detective Abbott ushered in Mr. Peter Renshaw.

He gave his name as Peter Craddock Renshaw, and admitted to eight years' service in the Westshire regiment, at present stationed at Lahore in northern India. He was at home on leave and was occupying the flat of his late cousin, Miss Mary Craddock, whose executor he was.

"Now, Mr. Renshaw," said the inspector, "I believe you are Mr. Craddock's next of kin. Do you happen to know whether he made a will?"

Peter did a stupid thing. He said at once and without thinking:

"I'm pretty well sure he didn't."

"And what makes you think that, Mr. Renshaw?"

He was in for it now.

"Well, it was something he said. I can't remember how it came up, but it was something to do with my being my cousin's executor—something on the lines of he hadn't made a will and he wasn't going to, because he didn't give a damn who had his money when he was gone."

"And there was a good deal of money?"

"Quite a piece," said Mr. Renshaw soberly.

The inspector leaned forward.

"You're telling me Mr. Craddock was a wealthy man—and he lived in a little flat like this?"

"Yes, he did. But there were reasons. His father had a lot, but the depression hit them very hard indeed. My uncle had to economize, cut everything to the bone. He died about four years ago. But the reason I said there was quite a piece of money is that a lot of leasehold property fell in this year. I've no idea of the amount, but it was something pretty considerable."

"And if there's no will—you're next of kin and heir at law, I take it?"

"I suppose I am—if there's no will." Peter went on looking at the inspector for a moment, then he turned and looked at Detective Abbott.

Detective Abbott was looking at the ceiling. Something ran a sharp pin into Peter's memory and jogged it. He said to himself, "Fug Abbott, or I'm a Dutchman!" He very nearly said it aloud.

The inspector's voice recalled him to the fact that he was undergoing an official examination, and that he had just said several things that could very easily be used against him.

"Mr. Craddock's solicitor has informed us that Mr. Craddock was very much opposed to the idea of making a will. As far as he knows, no will exists. Would you say that this was common knowledge in the family?"

"It might be."

"Other relatives might expect to benefit by Mr. Craddock's death if he died intestate?"

Peter didn't like the way that this was tending. He said quickly:

"I don't know, but some of the property is entailed. Didn't old Pettigrew tell you so?"

"Entailed upon you, Mr. Renshaw?"

"I am quite sure that Mr. Pettigrew must have told you that. It's all down in old David Craddock's will."

"You seem very well informed as to the provisions of this will."

Peter felt a certain anger, but he kept his voice quiet.

"I told you I was acting as executor to my old cousin. I have had to look up the provisions of my great-grandfather's will. There was some small trust, and there was a question as to whether her share went to her surviving sister, or whether it would have to be shared with a niece."

"The niece's name?"

"Mavis Grey."

"Seems to me, Mr. Renshaw, there's a lot of you in this—all relations. Now I'd like to get those relationships clear, if you don't mind."

Peter took a piece of paper, wrote, drew lines, and handed the result to the inspector.

"The Craddock family tree. We're all there, I think."

David Craddock

Andrew m. Mary Craddock — John Peter — Elinor m. John Lee

Maud m. George Grey — Lucy — Mary — John David m. Marion Ross — Mary m. James Renshaw — Anne m. James Fenton

Mavis Grey — Ross Craddock — Peter Craddock Renshaw — Lee Fenton

The inspector studied it with a good deal of concentration.

"You and Mr. Craddock were first cousins then, and the young lady, Miss Fenton, a bit further afield. Mr. Craddock wasn't married, I take it."

"I never heard of a wife."

"Well, now that we've got all that quite clear, Mr. Renshaw, may I trouble you for your account of what happened last night?"

"Certainly. I came home just before 12 o'clock—"

"Just a moment. You'd been dining out?"

"At the Luxe."

"And you spent the evening at the Luxe?"

"No—I went on to a night club to meet some friends."

"I'd just like the name of the club."

"The Ducks and Drakes. I got back here a little before 12."

"You didn't see your cousin?"

"Certainly I saw him, but I didn't speak to him."

"Now why didn't you speak to him? Were you on bad terms?"

Peter shrugged his shoulders.

"Not bad, not good. We hadn't much in common, that's all."

"I see," said the inspector. "Who was Mr. Craddock with?"

He had seen the question coming and known that he would be bound to answer it. It would be fatal to hesitate. He said at once:

"O, he was with Miss Grey, a cousin."

"Miss Mavis Grey?"

"Miss Mavis Grey."

"Ah! Were Mr. Craddock and Miss Grey still at the Ducks and Drakes when you came away?"

"Yes, they were."

"Go on, Mr. Renshaw."

"I came home, I went to bed, and I went to sleep. I was roused by Peterson's yell. I got on my dressing gown and came out onto the landing. I followed him and Rush into this room and saw my cousin lying dead."

The inspector leaned forward and raised his voice.

"And you picked up the revolver. I want to know what you did that for, Mr. Renshaw."

"I know," said Peter in a candid tone. "I oughtn't to have touched it. Rush ticked me off like anything."

The inspector banged with his fist on the table.

"You took hold of it by the butt, and you took hold of it by the muzzle, and if there were finger marks on either you took very good care to destroy them—and I want to know why."

"Well, I suppose it was the shock. The first thing I knew I'd picked the thing up."

Remembrances on Holidays Help Win Girl

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate. Inc.]

We do wish young men would appreciate the fact that girls do attach a great deal of importance to anniversary and holiday cards and other remembrances. After all, men, if you are squiring a girl around, if you ask her to give you complete monopoly of her time and attentions, you could well afford to remember the lady on Valentine's day, at Christmas time, and on other occasions when more thoughtful suitors are tendering their messages in some concrete form.

Catrina is a case in point. Her young man is off working in another part of the state, but for ten months before he left he was playing the heavy suitor rôle and even now he writes on an average of twice a month, begging the girl to be true to him. Catrina is a demon for punishment with her taste for being remembered on birthdays as well as on other holidays and picking a suitor who obviously never reads that girls like to be thought of on such occasions.

Forgetting your girl at Christmas time is a grievous offense. We don't mean just any girl, of course, but the girl you have led to believe she is tops with you certainly should be remembered with flowers or something. If you can't afford anything much, you can write and tell her your state of finances along with what small remembrance there is within your reach.

Catrina tells of her beau that he would throw a fit of jealousy if she looked at or talked to another man when he was escorting her around town, that if she doesn't write more often than he she gets called down for it.

We suppose women will have to get over reading their sentimental desires into masculine actions, anyway when they choose a man with all the earmarks of the anniversary forgetter.

"MY FATHER."

By the Ten Year Old.

I've just been over in Hank's garage, where he's been helping his father clean the place and do some odd jobs. Gosh, but I'm glad Mr. Henderson isn't my father. It got me thinking about Dad. And I decided that he's pretty swell.

He wouldn't treat a guy that way, make him feel like a washout because he was slow at planing when he'd never used a plane before, and bawl 'im out because he dripped the paint from his brush, and snap at 'im because he didn't know a monkey wrench from a Stilson.

My Dad and I, we have a lot of fun doing things together.

There are lots of things Dad seems to know, like when the coach is assigning positions on Saturday and you just can't miss it, and I guess he knows that you've got too much on your mind to remember eight million things you're supposed to do, like washing your elbows and keeping your shirt tucked in and wiping your feet on the door mat.

Gosh, when you've got a father like that you want to do what he says, and you want to be like him, too, when you grow up.

When I get an eyeful of other guys' fathers I can see my Dad's a pretty swell guy.

Is this your big boy speaking?

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Thursday, March 16.

A temporarily good social and emotional vibration enters the picture today; but remember it is only temporary—make no long distance decisions and moves. Also: Be good to the boss, in thought and act. If you're boss, be kind to the help.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead demands control of self-inflation, exaggerated ideas of worth. Progress possible if won earnestly and practically. Caution with the law. Earn and collect. Danger: From now to May 3 and Dec. 15 to 31.

Tomorrow.

Vibrations getting stronger; be ready for finalities.

Fragrant Gladiolus Arouses Interest at New York Exhibition

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—The development of a definitly sweet smelling gladiolus, called "one of the outstanding achievements of horticulture of the last decade," was announced today at the annual international flower show at Grand Central palace. Several species of the scented flower were shown in the garden center which is sponsored by the Garden Club of America and attracted eager interest.

The scented gladiolus was developed at the Boyce Thompson institute under the supervision of Dr. Forman T. McLean, plant physiologist at the institute. The research has now reached the stage, Dr. McLean explained, where gladioli may be obtained in four scents.

The fragrance of freesia, the lemon, the night flowering jasmine, and the carnation have already been imparted to various specimens.

The fragrant gladiolus was developed by cross breeding of the common, unscented gladiolus with the sweet smelling sweetglads, a delicate dwarf plant unsuitable for garden planting.

Frocks for Warm Weather

FROCK FOR WOMEN.

This pattern provides two sparkling frocks for warm weather wear. Both have a decidedly tailored air about them, and flatter the figure. Washable materials are the best bets for a frock of this type, and both light and dark shades are fashionable, as well as plain colors.

Sketched at the left is a version with neckline tied above a shoulder yoke, the latter extending into sleeves. The sleeves may be long or short, as you please. The bodice derives softness through strategically placed darts just under the shoulder. The waistline may be belted with a contrasting lether belt or with one made of the dress material. The skirt is slightly flared.

The other version of the pattern has a peaked collar on a V neckline. Buttons are used down the front.

Style No. 3376 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with three-eighths yard of 39 inch contrasting.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

San Carlo Company Wins Applause with a Competent 'Faust'

"Faust" fans gathered in the Auditorium last night to hear the Gounod work given its only performance of the present San Carlo season. As Conductor Carlo Peroni and a competent cast put one after another of the opera's enchanting tunes before the audience they were rewarded by applause which kept breaking into the action at all appropriate and some inappropriate places.

Because Dimitri Onofrei is not yet entirely well, Sydney Rayner sang the title rôle and collected a justly large portion of the plaudits. Although he sometimes displayed less fastidiousness of style than this polished French music requires, the general good qualities of his voice more than made up for such lacks.

The part of Marguerite went to reliable Leola Turner. The fact that she turned in a restrained, musicianly performance hardly rates as news. Neither does her finely mannered stage deportment.

Harold Kravitt made a sardonic sulphurous Mephistopheles and did not overdo the comedy parts of the rôle. Stefan Kozakevich was a most soldierly looking, if musically and histrionically somewhat listless, Valentine.

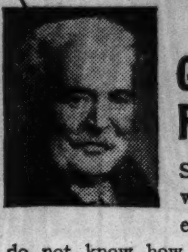
WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR



Some women who are really excellent cooks do not know how to plan entire meals well, or do not enjoy doing it. I always feel planning a menu is like getting the first olive out of the bottle—once you have decided on your meat course, the rest is easy. The other foods just group themselves naturally about the main dish, like so many chorines around the premiere danseuse. Today, I am giving smoked ham the stellar role, and you will see how simply the rest of the meal falls into the pattern.

Why the Orange?

Why is this young bride thinking about an orange as she goes to market? Because she has it firmly in mind to watch for the orange wrapper in selecting her smoked ham today. In other words, she has her heart set on Wilson's Tender Extra Mild Certified Smoked Ham. The name clearly reveals its virtues, because Certified Hams are so tender and so extra mild, but only trying one for yourself will betray its delicious smoky, tangy flavor and its perfect texture.

Menu

Tomato Bisque
WILSON'S CERTIFIED SMOKED HAM
Baked in Gingerale
Glazed Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Broccoli
Sweet-sour Cabbage Salad
Fresh Rhubarb Sand Tarts
Beverage

Your Certified Smoked ham should be brought out of the refrigerator 3 or 4 hours in advance so as to be at room temperature before cooking. Place ham, fat side up, in roaster. Pour 1 cup Gingerale over it. Bake in preheated oven (325-350° F.), allowing 16 minutes to the pound. Then peel off skin, score fat crosswise with sharp knife, into small squares. Dot with cloves, rub brown sugar into the surface and return to oven (400° F.) until brown, basting frequently. For half a ham, allow 19 minutes per pound.

FOR THE SALAD

Grate cabbage very fine, add dressing made from ¾ cup thick sour cream, ¼ cup vinegar, well blended, ½ teaspoon salt, pinch of cayenne, ½ teaspoon paprika, and 1 teaspoon chives or minced onions. Chill, and serve in lettuce cups or in lemon shells as a garnish.

STRAIGHT FROM THE AULD SOD

HERE IS A TIMELY suggestion for a St. Patrick's Day party or supper. A well-shaped Idaho potato is the body for this Irish pig, and a small new potato makes the head. Use toothpicks for short legs. The appetizers are impaled on green cocktail toothpicks stuck all over the pig.

THE APPETIZERS

Cut ¼ inch slices of any—or all—of Wilson's Certified Cheese (there are five popular varieties—American, Brick, Swiss, Limburger and Pimento). Cut the slices with a tiny shamrock (ace of clubs) cutter, and stick a toothpick through the bottom of each.

Wrap short, narrow strips of Wilson's Certified Bacon around stuffed olives. (A pair of kitchen scissors is the ideal way to cut the bacon.) Fasten with half a toothpick. Broil under the broiler until bacon is crisp. Serve hot.

COMMITTEE APPROVES BILL TO ABOLISH RACE BOARD

LANTZ MEASURE SENT TO SENATE BY VOTE OF 14-1

Commissioners Miss Hearing.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—The Lantz bill to abolish the Illinois racing commission was reported out of the state senate's license committee today with a recommendation that it be passed. The committee voted, 14 to 1, to report the bill favorably after a tumultuous session from which George H. Foster, secretary of the commission, was at one time threatened with expulsion.

Senators grumbled that they did not like his attitude in the hearing or that of the commission members, who failed to appear although invited.

In arriving at its recommendation that the commission be replaced by a board of paid members "who are experienced horsemen," the committee went back to the case of J. D. Mikel of Carlock, Ill., whose stable of 42 horses was ruled off the turf for life on Aug. 15, 1935. Mikel was charged with running My Bane, ruled to be a 3 year old, in a race for 2 year olds. Mikel was present with his attorney, Charles J. Michal.

Foster Is Reprimanded.

The lawyer reviewed the case, contending that the commission acted arbitrarily and unfairly, as has been decided by a senate investigating committee.

"The Illinois racing commission, as administered, is the most despotic body anywhere on earch," Mikel's attorney charged.

He asserted that Christopher J. FitzGerald, steward of the commission, had ruled Mikel off the tracks because of personal reasons.

Commission Secretary Foster popped up from his chair several times while Michal was talking, but his interruptions were shouted down by Senator Peter P. Kielminski [D., Chicago], 325 pound chairman of the committee.

"Why aren't the commission members here?" Kielminski said. "I suppose they feel this senate committee isn't important enough for them."

The members are William Schlake, brick manufacturer; Walter C. Peacock, jeweler, and Leo Spitz, all of Chicago.

"There has been absolutely no indifference on the part of the commission," Foster said. He read a prepared statement signed by Spitz, denying that Mikel's suspension was "motivated by any personal animus or ill feeling."

Cites Court Decisions.

Foster emphasized that Mikel had appealed to the Superior court of Cook county, the Appellate court, and the Illinois Supreme court, all of which ruled against him.

"We ought to put in this bill that the courts have a right to review the facts as well as the law in such cases," said Senator John W. Fribley [D., Pana]. "The courts merely passed on the law in Mikel's case."

Foster's statement rebuked the senate committee, whose report assailed the commission. It said:

"The senate report reads:

"'There is great dissatisfaction among horse racing sportsmen in the manner in which the Illinois racing commission has administered the horse racing act.'

"This statement is pure conclusion because there was no evidence to that effect.

"The senate report statement that the racing commission acted arbitrarily and in abuse of its powers in entering its order of life suspension against Mikel is not borne out.

"The senate report statement that the action of the commission has deprived Illinois of great revenues from said sport to the detriment of worthy objects is a conclusion not sustained by the facts."

Income Reaches $2,766,307.

The secretary showed income of $2,766,307 from 1934 to 1938, inclusive, as compared with expenditures of $28,865 for the five year period. The expense figure does not include his own $4,800 annual salary.

Foster also categorically denied senators' charges that delay in allotting dates for race meetings in Illinois has caused some owners to arrange to race their stables in other states. Breeding farms in Illinois have increased from twenty in 1935 to thirty-seven in 1938, contrary to charges made, he said.

"The fact is that we have no commission now," said Senator William J. Connors [D., Chicago]. "Mr. FitzGerald runs the commission and he does as he pleases."

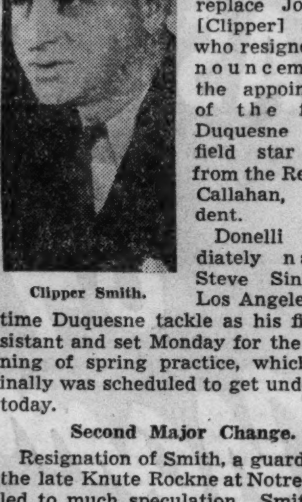
DONELLI NAMED DUQUESNE COACH AS SMITH QUITS

Former Notre Dame Star Resigns Unexpectedly.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 15.—(AP)—Aldo Donelli, assistant football coach at Duquesne university, tonight was appointed acting head coach and director of athletics to replace John P. [Clipper] Smith, who resigned. Announcement of the appointment of the former Duquesne backfield star came from the Rev. J. J. Callahan, president.



Clipper Smith.

Donelli immediately named Steve Sinko of Los Angeles, onetime Duquesne tackle as his first assistant and set Monday for the beginning of spring practice, which originally was scheduled to get under way today.

Second Major Change.

Resignation of Smith, a guard under the late Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, led to much speculation. Smith said the resignation served "the best interests of the university." His contract still had a year to go.

Thus, Pittsburgh saw its second major football coaching change within eight days. Previously, Dr. John Bain [Jock] Sutherland severed connections at the University of Pittsburgh. Sutherland's successor, who probably will be named Tuesday, is expected to be Charles Bowser, onetime Pitt star.

Duquesne university entered big time college football under the leadership of Elmer Layden, who coached there from 1927 to 1933 before moving on to his alma mater, Notre Dame.

Duquesne Beats Pitt.

Joe Bach of Notre Dame took over for one year and Christy Flanagan, another Notre Dame man, followed Layden, and the "little school on the bluff" shook the football world in 1936 when, under Smith, it sent out eleven iron men who triumphed 7 to 0 over a powerful Pitt team that later whipped Washington, 21 to 0, in the Rose Bowl.

Maryland Senate Abandons Plans for Taxing Race Bets

Annapolis, Md., March 15.—(AP)—Plans for the imposition of a flat 4 per cent tax on all bets made at Maryland race tracks were abandoned tonight by the state senate.

The proposal, included in the tax program, will be eliminated by amendment and the present $6,000 daily tax and gross receipts tax will be retained, senators said.

In the Wake of the News

TOMMY GIBBONS, the former fighter and present sherif of Ramsey county, Minn., is chairman of the St. Paul committee which hopes to land the 1940 American Bowling Congress tournament. Tommy, who made quite a hit as an orator at the 1938 tournament in Chicago, although he failed of his purpose then, is confident his city will be chosen when the ballots are cast in Cleveland, March 31. . . . Manager Jim Dykes of the White Sox and Eddie Rommel, American league umpire, started their baseball careers as teammates with the Seaford, Md., club in 1915. The companionship continued after they were graduated to the Athletics, but all that is changed now. Dykes is one of the league's most efficient umpire baiters and Eddie always expects the worst when his path crosses that of the White Sox. . . . California merchants in all lines of business are complaining that horse racing with its accompanying heavy drain on the pocketbooks of the citizenry is ruining them. . . . George Ireland, former Notre Dame basketball star, whose son was born last St. Patrick's day, named him Patrick Michael Ireland. . . . Bob Meyer and Bob Cassels of the University of Chicago basketball team have been teammates ever since they were in the sixth grade. They were stars at Hinsdale Township High school before going to the Midway. . . . Gene Tunney's reaction to the proposed Joe Louis-Tony Galento fight: "There's one battle I wouldn't care to see. Somebody might be killed and it won't be Louis." . . . Alfred M. Landon, former governor of Kansas and Republican candidate for President in 1936, rarely misses a basketball or football game at the University of Kansas. . . .

Tommy Gibbons.

Members of the New York and Washington baseball teams and William Harridge, American league president, will participate in a wreath laying ceremony on the opening day of the season at the tomb of Gen. Abner Doubleday in Arlington cemetery. Gen. Doubleday is called the father of baseball. . . . Big league managers and club owners are in a jam as a result of the new waiver rule. Heretofore a club could withdraw waivers on a player regardless of the number of times asked. Now, when waivers are sought a second time during the calendar year and some club puts in a claim for the player's services, the asking club must relinquish him. . . . When Davey O'Brien was starring for a Dallas high school eleven he was regarded as being too small to play college football. . . .

TITLE GAMES TODAY

Two championship games, one in the Chicago Public High School Basketball league, and the other in the Catholic circuit, will be played this afternoon and evening.

The City league game, on the Marshall High school court, will send the Manley junior quintet, central section champions, against Von Steuben of the north zone this afternoon.

Manley registered seven consecutive victories to win the central section crown for the fourth straight year.

The St. Ignatius-Mount Carmel game for the Catholic league senior championship will be played on the Loyola floor tonight. During the sectional campaign each team won eleven games and lost one. St. Ignatius finished on top in the north section, scoring 400 points to 316 for opponents, while Mount Carmel won the south division title, registering 485 points to 342 for the opposition.

St. George High won the north section junior championship in the Catholic league by defeating Weber, 40 to 30, last night on the Fenwick floor in a playoff game. This victory gave the north shore quintet the right to meet De La Salle, south section title holder, for the league championship. Lineup:

Sox End Camp Labor Today; It's 'Play Ball' from Now On

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 15.—The White Sox are just about at the end of their routine spring training and the players as well as the manager, James Dykes, are more than pleased about it.

Thornton Lee.

For the athletes fighting for recognition it means the arrival of the exhibition season, a competitive period which will restore the spirit that has been drooping since the members of the squad awakened to the fact that they have ripened too quickly.

For the manager it means that barnstorming, which gets under way against the Cubs Friday and continues almost daily, will provide him with a chance to see what all his newcomers can do under fire. So far he has indicated interest in only four or five of them.

Dykes Has Hopes.

To date his hopes of marshaling a better team than his 1938 aggregation, which was jinxed into sixth place by injuries, have been centered in Pitchers Vic Fraser and Art Herring, Infielders Eric McNair and Aloysius Bejma, and Catcher Ken Silvestri. Four of them have had extensive big league experience, so there is a chance they'll at least be good enough for secondary aid.

Silvestri is the only rookie and even he spent a training period with the Sox a couple of years back. His case is important because the Sox's principal need is a regular backstop. He has been given first shot at the job.

Thornton [Lefty] Lee, whose twisted ankle was so bad yesterday that Dykes withdrew him from the trio of pitchers previously nominated to work in the opener with the Cubs, refused to take advantage of the vacation granted him. The ankle felt better, so instead of continuing to rest and thus hurrying recovery as well as avoiding a possible chronic condition, he was back on the mound during batting practice. However, he didn't regain the assignment against Gabby Hartnett's National league champions.

Dykes Cures Brown.

When practice got under way this morning, Clint Brown thought he was an invalid. When Dykes walked into the club house, Brown, between complaints about a 101 fever, was sniffing fumes from one of Dr. Ad Schacht's cure-all bottles. Dykes in an off hand fashion began talking about sissy athletes and what a swell day it was for working off a cold. The next seen of Brown he was on the mound, where he stayed for twenty minutes bearing down.

Although Dykes has softened up a lot of his pet training theories, he is still tough about running. However, he only watches the fellows who don't care for this kind of exercise. Luke Appling is in this class. Luke's idea of training is to take his turn hitting and then hide behind the batting net. That's where Dykes caught him today and eventually Luke was chasing fungoes in the wide spaces. Merv Connors, rookie first baseman, received similar orders after he made the mistake of admitting his charley horse had disappeared overnight.

Only Two Open Dates.

Starting Friday the Sox will have only two open dates available for practice here. One is March 27 and the other March 30, which is getaway day. Dykes may make a holiday of the latter occasion, unless some leisure should be provided during the interval by rainfall.

The first five exhibition games are in five different spots. The day after the Cub affair at Los Angles, the Sox hop to Ontario for a session with the Los Angeles team, which is training there. On Sunday Dykes will have his gang at San Diego for a game with the Coast league team representing that place. On Monday the Pittsburgh Pirates will be played at San Bernardino and Tuesday will be taken up by a trip to Hollywood, where the previous tenants of Los Angeles' Wrigley field will be housed this year.

New York's Powerful Golden Gloves Team Opens Training

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 15.—Inter-city Golden Gloves competition between Chicago and New York has given us westerners no real occasion to cry "wolf" in the last five years. Through the far spread system of Chicago's Tournament of Champions, Chicago's boys and adopted sons have done right well. There is always, however, the poignant memory of that dismal night in Madison Square Garden in 1932 when New York won the first eight bouts on the program. Imagine coming to the intermission without one victory and knowing you only can tie by sweeping all the remaining bouts .

Chicago lost, 12 to 4, that year and today, remembering the fighters we saw last night in New York's Tournament of Champions, we are indeed apprehensive over the outcome of the twelfth inter-city tournament which will be fought in the Chicago Stadium.

They're All Fighters.

We have no desire to scare Chicago's champions, who now are training in the Illinois Athletic club. We believe they are a fine lot of youngsters and, if anything, they possess more ability than the group of their eight immediate predecessors. But folks, these New Yorkers, from Manhattan, Philadelphia, New Jersey, and Virginia are fighters. One or two, like John Forte and Bill Speary, can box as well as punch. But all eight of New York's champions pack dynamite.

It not only is the greatest fighting crew New York ever has sent west. Italians, Welshmen, Irishmen, Rumanians, Negroes—that's the lineup. And the bellwether of the lot is Buddy Moore, a sprightly, solidly built colored lad from De Witt Clinton High school in New York.

He's called a second Joe Louis, a physically obvious but trite comparison, whose merit is that Moore wins by knockouts. He isn't quite as tall, nor does he have as much reach as does Joe, but he does weigh a few more pounds than Louis did when Louis campaigned as a light heavyweight in the amateur ranks. Moore probably never will be as heavy as 200 pounds when he fills out.

Watch That Left, Boys.

These statistics are beside the point. It also is immaterial that he apparently has copied Joe's famous dead pan expression. There's nothing at all phony about the power in Buddy's short left hooks, not dissimilar to Louis' punch, or the smashing right hand blow Buddy shoots to the jaw. Buddy is at heart, we suspect, a cocky youngster who is deeply flattered by this second Joe Louis business. So much so that last night he strutted a mite too much and when he shuffled to his corner after knocking Joe Golombeck of Elon college unconscious, he heard as many boos as cheers.

The New York coaches undoubtedly will tell Buddy he shouldn't hit in clinches and that he should step back before sneaking in a punch after a clinch. The important fact remains that Buddy Moore can fight. And it is important for Moore to know that he will face Tony Novak of Kansas City, a heavier, taller heavyweight, who also can punch with both hands.

BILL LEE AILING; UNABLE TO FACE SOX TOMORROW

Dick Bartell Still in Hospital.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 15.—Ether, both the hospital and the air lane kind, was playing an important part in the lives of the Cubs today as their stay on Catalina Island drew near the end. The lads, however, were able to concentrate on baseball long enough to play the final of the intraclub battles, the regulars beating the Yannigans, 4 to 3, to even the four game camp series.

Thirty-one of the athletes will sail for the mainland tomorrow afternoon. Preceding them back to the North American continent will be Manager Gabby Hartnett and Dizzy Dean, who will fly over tomorrow morning to participate tomorrow evening in a national radio program, a $500 touch each for fifteen minutes of popping off in which all they have to do is read a script written by somebody else.

Lee Has a Pain, Too.

Bill Lee, the National league's leading pitcher in 1938, this morning joined the Cub squad of hospital ether sniffers when he reported a pain in the neck. Bill was scheduled to pitch against the White Sox, Friday in the first game of the exhibition season.

The White Sox, who took a licking in their series with the Cubs last spring, may have a slightly better chance to get a successful start on the reëstablishment of their former jinx rating over the Cubs because Newell Kimball, of uncertain talents, will fill in for Lee. Larry French will start the Sox game.

According to word from Hollywood Rheumatic Richard Bartell still was in the throes of laboratory tests designed to determine the source of the miseries that flit from here to there in his system and currently are centered in his left heel. It may be another 24 hours before Dick can be given the full test tube and X-ray works.

Whitehill Will Stick.

Earl Whitehill, hobbling about the hotel on crutches, will remain with the team. He expects to take the cast off his cracked left ankle in about two weeks. Stan Hack stayed on the sidelines today to further nurse his splinter wrecked right palm. He insists he will start against the Sox Friday.

Dizzy Dean, who rounds out the clinic set, was in fine voice, but did little in the final drill before the game except test his radio tones.

The Regulars got off to a three run lead in the first inning of the intraclub final. With one out, Bryant walked Herman, and Bill went to third on Galan's single. He scored on Leiber's sacrifice fly.

Marty tripled to right, scoring Galan. Marty got home when Merullo fumbled Cavarretta's grounder. The Regulars added their fourth run in the second on a single by Mesner, a walk to English, Merullo's second error, and Galan's sacrifice fly.

Hitch-Hiker Does a Turn.

The Yannigans broke through on Epperly in the third inning. Singles by Bryant and Merullo, a wild pitch, and a single by Rip Russell did the business.

Rankin Johnson, son of an old time Pacific coast leaguer who hitch-hiked from Texas to join the Cubs as an unattached hopeful, pitched the last three innings for the Regulars. He got the side out in order in the fourth inning, but in the fifth the Yannigans got a run on a single by Higbe, Merullo's third hit, and an infield out.

FRISCH JOINS UP; HE, TOO, BECOMES AN ANNOUNCER

Boston, Mass., March 15.—(AP)—Frank Frisch, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, signed a one year contract today to broadcast play by play descriptions of all home games of the Boston Bees and Boston Red Sox during the coming season.

A loophole was left in the contract for Frisch to resign in case an opportunity to manage a major league club turns up, but the former Cardinals' pilot said no such prospect was in view and that he intended to devote his full energy toward his new job.

Frisch said he had declined offers to broadcast games in New York and Cincinnati to come here.

Each team got one hit and no runs during the first six innings as Lefty Lee Grissom of the Reds matched pitches with Vernon Gomez and Red Ruffing. The Yanks' second hit was a double in the ninth by Joe Di Maggio, scoring Tommy Henrich, who walked.

The Reds scored in the seventh on three successive singles off Rookie Marvin Breuer and in the twelfth on Harry Craft's single, a sacrifice, and a long liner to left. Score:

Four of the six tallies were unearned and came after two were out. The Phils rallied in the ninth to score two runs and the game ended with the tying run on base.

Harland Clift belted a homer for the Browns with two on in the first. Norman Deweez hit one for the Phils with one on in the same inning. Score:

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals raised their Grapefruit league standing to .500 today by defeating Casey Stengel's Bees, 1 to 0, in Boston's first exhibition game of the season. Lee Sherrill, Tom Sunkel, and Morton Cooper held the Bees to six hits. Elvin Adams, Cardinal outfielder, singled in the lone run in the sixth inning. Boston lost its best chance in the eighth when Al Simmons struck out with the bases loaded. Score:

The Jersey City team scored in the first inning and held the Giant regulars hitless for five innings. However, the New York shock troops, led by Bob Seeds, tied the score in the sixth and added five runs in the eighth. Score:

TIGER REGULARS WIN.

Lakeland, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers closed their five game intra-squad practice series today with the Regulars beating the Recruits, 6 to 5. Tommy Bridges and Floyd Giebell, Evansville recruit, worked for the Regulars. Bridges yielded three singles and one run in four innings, while Giebell allowed four runs and seven hits. George Gill and Roxie Lawson pitched for the youngsters. Hank Greenberg and Ruddy York each got three hits.

ASK WAIVERS ON WERBER.

Lake Charles, La., March 15.—(AP)—The Athletics today asked waivers on Bill Werber, holdout third baseman, in the hope, Manager Connie Mack said, of trading him to a National league team. To accomplish this all American league teams would have to refuse to put in a claim. In another intra-camp game the "Johnsons" beat the "Finneys," 12 to 9. Sam Chapman hit a homer, a double, and two singles in five times up.

GROVE TESTS ARM.

Sarasota, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—Lefty Grove, the big question mark of the Red Sox, gave his arm the works in a 15 minute mound workout today before Club Owner Tom Yawkey. Afterward Yawkey said he was satisfied with Grove's condition. The Sox play the Boston Bees here tomorrow.

Our Town.

When we're singing the blues about our town
And all of its ills and woes,
Do we ever stop to ask ourselves
If that's as far as it goes?

A town, after all, is but brick and stone—
It hasn't a soul or heart;
It's up to the folks to put THOSE in,
And each must do his part.

Any town is a grand old town
If its people are square and right,
Pulling together, and not apart,
And heading toward the light.

So, let that thought abide with us,
Nor leave us for a minute;
No town on earth is better or worse
Than the folks who are living IN it.

End of an Era

THE Stanley cup, symbol of the world's hocky supremacy, which has been in the possession of the Chicago Blackhawks since last April, was nicely packed and shipped yesterday to President Frank Calder of the National league, who will present it to the new winner some time next month.

Boston, Mass., March 15.—[Special.]—The world's champion [1938] Blackhawks, who can now rest undisturbed and without worriment of any kind at the bottom of the National Hocky league, this afternoon left for Montreal, where they are booked to play the Canadiens Thursday night. After the game they'll depart for Detroit and a final game with the Red Wings. The Detroit game will be played on Sunday, March 19, which marks the end of the season.

Something in Common.

The spectacle of the Hawks ending the season in last place has a parallel in the Detroit Red Wings' finish of last season. Both teams started the season possessors of the Stanley cup. The Wings opened the 1937-'38 campaign with a great array of stars.

Of the six members of the league's mythical all-star team the Detroit team was voted four—Normie Smith, Ebbie Goodfellow, Larry Aurie, and Marty Barry. Then the Red Wings finished the season in last place.

Demarco Thrills Boston Fans.

Although the Blackhawks lost their eighth straight game to Boston on Tuesday night, Boston fans were impressed at the showing of the Hawks' right wing rookie, Ab Demarco, who made the prettiest goal of the game.

Another bright spot of an otherwise drab season for the Blackhawks is the showing of Joe Cooper, who came to the Hawks from the Philadelphia Ramblers in exchange for Alex Levinsky late in the season. Cooper has accounted for six points in fifteen games,

BASKETBALL TEAMS PLAY.

The Illinois Flying Swedes basketball team consisting of seven members of the Dahlquist family of Milford, Ill., will play the Golden Clothes of the Midcity league in Chicago Teachers' college gymnasium 68th street and Stewart avenue, tonight.

SHAMROCKS WIN FROM GAGE FIVE IN A. A. U. MEET

The Shamrocks advanced to the semi-finals in the second annual central A. A. U. basketball tournament at St. Sabina Community center last night by defeating Gage Park, 38 to 29. Rudman led the attack with four field goals and five free throws.

In second round games Barskis Furniture won from the Bill Rands, 29 to 27, and the 124th Field Artillery beat the Pyterek Morticians of South Chicago, 30 to 24. Three quarter-final games will be played tonight.

GOLDEN GLOVERS START DRILL FOR NEW YORK BOUTS

They Must Be in Shape for 3 Minute Rounds.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

A few hours after New York fighters struck the last blows of their Golden Gloves finals, Chicago boxers whipped over the opening punches of their training for the intercity matches in the Stadium March 29.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, William Moon of the C. Y. O. and Freddie Pope of the 124th field artillery stepped into the Illinois Athletic club ring. They wore helmets and oversize gloves. Head Coach Johnny Behr and his assistants took one last look to see that everything was all set. Then Timer Al Krause clanged the bell and the first bout of the training season was on.

For three minutes these agile flyweights slugged, charged and sidestepped. They were scarcely clear of the ring when Al Noto and Vic Saccoia had taken their places. And so it went through an afternoon of unceasing action.

Bear Down in Training.

While the fighters were mixing it up in the ring, the other members of the squad were swarming all over the gymnasium floor, skipping ropes, punching dummies, shadow boxing, and exercising on the mats.

Over near the wall Johnny Behr was showing Tony Novak of Kansas City how to throw a right so as to get maximum power. Meanwhile Assistant Coaches Freddie Caserio and Paddy Kane were circulating among the fighters, making sure that nobody loafed or nobody overdid it.

Before the workout began, Behr had called all the boxers together for a brief talk on the task that lay before them. He pointed out that Chicago always has had a strong Golden Gloves team and that this year's squad would have to work hard to live up to the example set by those who had gone before. He made a plea for team spirit. Then he reminded them that every boy has a chance of making the intercity team up until the last moment before the fights. In support of this he cited the case of Ario Soldati, who once was called in just before the bell to substitute for Joe Louis, who was overweight.

There's Work Ahead.

Yesterday's sparring drill gave the boys their first taste of three minute rounds. During the tournament they had been going only two minutes. Behr warned them that there would be two days during the training period in which they would be required to box five full length rounds.

They will work up to this gradually. Today's schedule calls for only one round. As the boys get back into fighting form the sparring will be stepped up a round at a time until they're able to go five without taxing their stamina.

Each day begins with road work in Grant park. The boys take things easy after breakfast. Following the afternoon hours in the gymnasium they are free for rest and amusement.

The pairings in yesterday's sparring bouts were:

Willie Moon vs. Freddie Pope.
Vic Saccoia vs. Al Noto.
Earl Reid vs. James Joyce.
Matt Mikalovich vs. Joe Dupont.
Bill Pauli vs. Johnny Pleasant.
Roy Lewis vs. Harry Sparrow.
George Hayes vs. Vernell Williams.
Curtis McDaniels vs. Al Tibbets.
Altus Allen vs. Shelton Bell.
Ragon Kinny vs. Walter Bilicki.

New York Has Strong Golden Gloves Team

teenth bout of the Inter-City Golden Gloves tournament, we now predict, will be the best climax of a Chicago show since Otis Thomas licked Max Marek. And we'd rather see it than watch Joe Louis knock out Tony Galento.

Under the rules for inter-city competition, New York's eight champions, unless prevented by injury, must fight Chicago's eight champions. No champion can be changed to competition in the alternate position in any weight. Here, then, is the lineup for the championship inter-city flight:

112 POUNDS—John Forte, Philadelphia, and Vic Saccioa, Detroit.
118 POUNDS—Bill Speary, Philadelphia, and Chester Ellis, Kansas City.
126 POUNDS—Ray Robinson, New York, and Tony Ancona, Detroit.
135 POUNDS—Ennis Johnson, Richmond, Va., and John Pleasant, Chicago.
147 POUNDS—Corkean Dulgarian, Newburgh, N. Y., and Milton Jones, St. Louis.
160 POUNDS—Vince Fratello, Union City, N. J., and Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati.
175 POUNDS—Henry Jones, New York, and Jimmy Reeves, Cleveland.
HEAVYWEIGHT—Buddy Moore, New York, and Tony Novak, Kansas City.

Thirty-two members of the New York intercity squad reported today at the Park Central hotel. They will do road work in Central Park and train in nearby Stillman's gymnasium on 8th avenue. The squad will leave New York March 24, arriving in Chicago the next morning, and will conclude preparations in the Medinah Athletic club.

Twenty-six states sent 23,000 boys in Chicago's Golden Gloves area and forty-six newspapers sent championship teams to Chicago. Ten thousand boxers competed in nine states in the east and south, and seven states were represented in Madison Square Garden.

Thirty-five states were enrolled this year in Golden Gloves, 33,000 boxers, and the climax, the battle for supremacy between the east and the west comes March 29 in Chicago's stadium.

J. P. I. QUINTET WINS IN B. B. Y. O. SECTIONAL FINALS

The Jewish People's institute basketball team defeated the Akibas, 33 to 18, last night in the Boys' Brotherhood Republic gymnasium for the west section heavyweight title in the B'nai B'rith Youth organization tournament.

In a third round north section heavyweight game Leland defeated the Hillmans, 33 to 22. In the 140 pound class the Nonames defeated the Parkrows, 41 to 33, advancing to the finals.

Lake View remained undefeated in the lodge division by turning back Austin, 28 to 18. In other games Garfield Park defeated Cardoza, 26 to 21; Albany Park won from Sachar, 25 to 17, and South Side beat Haym Salomon, 43 to 14.

BORICAN RUNS HALF MILE IN 1:49.8; RECORD

Hanover, N. H., March 15.—(AP)—John Borican, Negro sensation of the indoor track season, turned in his third and fourth record smashing performances and the Fordham mile relay team wiped out a six year old mark in that event in tonight's battle against time on Dartmouth's fast 6 2-3 laps board track.

Borican, whose record breaking feat in the 1,000 meters Saturday appears to have been futile because he was charged with beating the gun, wiped out the eleven year old indoor half mile record when he hit the tape in 1:49.8 while leading the closest of his four Dartmouth rivals, Bob Unangst, who had a ninety-five yards handicap, by ten yards.

Rams Win on Final Leg.

While so doing, Borican automatically became the owner of the 800 meters indoor record also set by Lloyd Hahn, whose time for that and the half mile distance was recorded as 1:51.4 back in 1928.

The Fordham team triumph came after the Rams, who had trailed New York university during the first two legs, gained the advantage on the anchor, and finished in 3:15.2, one and four-fifths seconds under the previous indoor mark set by Pennsylvania in 1933.

Lash Runs 9:01 Two Mile.

Don Lash, the Indiana state trooper, was able to hold his planned schedule for only the first half mile, the time for which was 2:09, with the result that he failed to break his own indoor two mile record by three full seconds while finishing in 9:01 flat.

Lash probably suffered from lack of competition, for he ran his first mile in 4:25.5, only a second behind schedule, while his Dartmouth pacemakers remained in the race. Once they retired, the Hoosier was unable to come anywhere near his carefully plotted pre-race schedule, which called for 8:50.

GRIFFITH WATER POLOISTS DEFEAT BEILFUS, 7 TO 5

Griffith Natatorium defeated Beilfus Natatorium, 7 to 5, in a double overtime period at Blackhawk park last night in a championship playoff of the Chicago Water Polo association. Blackhawk Park beat the Shawnee Country Club, 7 to 2.

In the Class B playoffs Whiting, Ind., triumphed over Independence Park, 9 to 3, and Jackson beat the Jewish People's Institute, 7 to 6.

Padway Tops Vault Field in Armour Games

Wisconsin's supremacy in the pole vault seems destined to continue for another year in the Armour Tech relays as Milton Padway defends his crown and record Saturday evening in the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

Since 1935, when Seely of Illinois established the record of 13 feet 5⅞ inches, Wisconsin has been winning the vault with surprising regularity. Each successive year, with the exception of 1937, when Lloyd Siebert of North Central college triumphed, the Wisconsin athletes have been supreme. Padway expects to top 14 feet. In last week's Western conference meet Padway established a new record by clearing the bar at 14 feet 1⅝ inches, more than two inches better than his existing record for the Tech relays.

Padway will have the kind of competition he needs to keep him on his toes, from a Northwestern sophomore, Edward Thistlethwaite. Ed did 13 feet 9 inches in the conference meet. Earl Stolberg of Marquette, also a contestant, has gone 13 feet 6¾ inches in dual competition this year against Chicago and captured the central collegiate crown at Notre Dame last Saturday.

Charles Bechel of Northern Illinois State Teachers, who for three years successfully defended his high jump crown and who last year established a new record, will not return this year. His record of 6 feet 6 inches, however, seems to be safe, despite the brilliance of the field entered. Chief among the contenders for the crown is Edward Burke of Marquette university. Roscoe Washington of Western State Teachers of Kalamazoo, Mich., is rated next to Burke among the entrants. Washington triumphed over Ed Burke in the central collegiate meet last week when he finished second behind Leonas of Notre Dame.

BROOKLYN PREP QUINTET ENTERS LOYOLA TOURNEY

St. John's Prep school of Brooklyn yesterday accepted an invitation to participate in the sixteenth annual national Catholic high school basketball tournament, which opens in Loyola gymnasium next Wednesday.

The Brooklyn school has one of its strongest teams in recent years. During its regular schedule St. John's won nineteen games and lost three.

SWIM ENTRIES TO CLOSE.

Entries will close tomorrow [Friday] for the Central A. A. U. swimming and diving meet which will be held in the Lake Shore Athletic club pool next Wednesday.

BUDGE IS SEEDED NO. 1 AMONG NET TRENCHERMEN

If eating was a competitive sport, Don Budge would be the holder of two world championships.

He has gained in popularity not only on the tennis courts but in the dining cars and restaurants. It is his tremendous appetite that keeps his energy alive.

For example, here is a typical Budge breakfast menue: A glass of orange juice or two, four scrambled eggs, lamb chops, potatoes, vegetables, cookies and two cups of tea.

Ben Gorchakoff, the last of the amateur champions to join the Budge-Fred Perry pro tour, will be the curtain raiser when the troupe opens at the Chicago Stadium Sunday. Gorchakoff will face Walter Senior, Canadian champion.

The official program for the match here, announced by Stadium officials today, follows:

First match—singles: Walter Senior, Fresno Cal., vs. Ben Gorchakoff, Los Angeles. Second match—singles: Don Budge, Oakland, Cal., vs. Fred J. Perry, England. Third match—doubles: Don Budge and Walter Senior vs. Fred J. Perry and Ben Gorchakoff.

BUDGE WINS AGAIN.

College Park, Md., March 15.—(AP)—Don Budge won his fourth straight professional tennis victory over Fred Perry here tonight, beating the British star in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4. The big Californian was never threatened and repeatedly broke through Perry's service.

4 PRELIMINARIES ARRANGED FOR WHITE CITY CARD

Brown Boxes Dempsey in Main Bout.

While principals in the two bouts of eight rounds which head the show in White City tomorrow ended sparring sessions yesterday — Johnny Brown and Frankie Kainrath in C. Y. O. center and Eddie Dempsey and Jackie Cellura in Trafton's gymnasium—Promoter Sam Abruscato was busy arranging four supporting matches. They are:

Nick Castiglione, Italo-American Youth organization, vs. Johnny Balmer, Peoria [5], 135.

Kelly Cohn, Peoria, vs. Jimmy Santora [4], 130.

James Cummings vs. Jimmy Parks [4], 135.

Pete Ferrand, South Chicago, vs. Young Armando Santiago [4], 135.

Brown meets Dempsey in the No. 1 spot and Kainrath boxes Cellura in the No. 2 position.

Wladek Zbyszko, 41 year old heavyweight wrestler, and Marin Plestina, who gave his age as 48, went 13 minutes 23 seconds to a draw in the windup bout of the mat show in Cicero stadium last night. The match, scheduled to go one hour, ended when the men fought their way out of the ring and were counted out by Referee Ben Rueben. John [Bull] Doehring, former Chicago Bears football player, threw Bob Gessen in 6:50. Other results:

Art Fiflis threw Pierre Le Marr [11:43].
Hans Bauer beat Fred Ledebuhr [20:00].
George Mack and Cowboy Ackley drew [20:00].

Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, remains ineligible for a contest with Maurice Strickland of New Zealand in Chicago Stadium March 31, Edward Foster, executive secretary of the National Boxing association, informed the state athletic board yesterday. The N. B. A., of which Illinois is a member, suspended Pastor for failure to go through with a fight against Red Burman in New Jersey last year. . . . Lem Franklin, one of the hardest hitting heavyweights to come out of Golden Gloves competition, boxed six rounds yesterday for a ten round headliner with Lee Savoldi of St. Paul in Marigold Gardens Monday.

After he meets Norment Quarles on March 28, Tony Canzoneri wants to fight Milt Aron in the Coliseum in April and Al Davis in Madison Square Garden in May. Davis, Brooklyn 137 pounder, who has scored thirty-one straight victories, clashes with Mickey Farber in the Garden tomorrow. . . . Davey Day, Chicago lightweight, will leave tomorrow for New York, where he will attempt to dethrone Henry Armstrong as welterweight title holder March 31. Lew Feldman, who never has weighed more than 135 pounds, will face Armstrong in St. Louis tonight in what is billed as a welterweight title fight. . . . Pete Lello, 1936 Chicago Golden Gloves lightweight winner, may meet Lew Jenkins in White City March 30. Promoter Joe Foley has given up hope of having the Joe Louis-Tony Galento heavyweight championship struggle held here. . . .

Jim Dixon, south side amateur heavyweight, will be the opponent of Math Messmer in a five round bout in Madison Athletic club tomorrow. . . . The Jewish Convalescent home, 15th street and Albany avenue, will sponsor an amateur program tomorrow in its hall, 3256 Roosevelt road. F. M.

OWNERS GIVEN A CHANCE TO LEARN DOG SHOW TRICKS

Special Class to Be Held in Amphitheater.

BY BOB BECKER.

A special class to teach dog owners how to show their pets in the International Kennel club bench show on April 1 and 2 will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the International amphitheater. C. E. Harbison, manager of the show, announced yesterday that any dog owner who wants to exhibit his pet in the show and is anxious to learn the tricks of getting the dog to show to a good advantage may attend the class without charge. They are advised to bring their dogs to the west door of the amphitheater.

Blakeen Jungfrau, the snow white standard poodle holding the title of "outstanding American bred dog of 1938," will be here for the April 1 show, according to the kennel club officials.

Blakeen's Haircut a Sensation.

Her presence will give Chicago fanciers a glimpse of the most remarkable dog haircut they ever have seen either in or out of a regular bench show. We saw Blakeen at the recent Westminster Kennel club show. She gets an intricate haircut before going into a ring and the grooming makes her look like a carved animated snowbank.

In addition to Blakeen many of the other outstanding American breds of 1938 are expected to be here, so the kennel club officials are planning on a special parade of 1938 winning American breds.

New Entries to Compete.

Advance entries indicate that a large number of Chicagoland dogs, many never before shown, will be competing in the classes for local dogs. These classes are attractive to novice handlers and owners who do not want to compete against professional handlers.

Any dog owner who has not registered his pet and yet wants to enter his dog in this local class may do so by paying a listing fee [25 cents] in addition to the regular entry fee of $3 for each class.

The first closing date for the International Kennel club show is March 18. The final closing date is March 25.

No change is contemplated in the board of directors of the University of Illinois Athletic association, university trustees said yesterday in correcting a report published Tuesday that the entire board had been reappointed.

The athletic board remains in office without the formality of reappointments, it was pointed out, until the board itself or some other agency petitions the trustees for a change in personnel, or the trustees deem a change advisable.

SEC'S CHAIRMAN RESISTS PLANS TO MODIFY LAW

'Phoney' as Business Aid, He Asserts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—William O. Douglas, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, today declared himself firmly opposed to the proposal of stock exchanges for modification of the federal securities act.

William O. Douglas.

"I don't want the boys in the street to have another party," he snapped at a press conference. With his next breath he added that if the liberalization program is being offered as an aid to business recovery, "it's a phoney."

Asked whether his declaration constituted a part of the New Deal business appeasement program, Douglas ignored the question and dashed to the White House to report personally to President Roosevelt on his conference. The White House earlier in the day announced that Douglas would have an important statement to make at 4:30 p. m.

Attacks Exchanges' Report.

Douglas attacked the report, prepared by representatives of the sixteen stock exchanges, suggesting amendment of the federal regulations governing stock market operations.

"Stripped of its legal phraseology," Douglas said, "the proposal would bring the pool operator back into the market. This strikes at the very heart of regulation.

"The SEC is unalterably opposed to any attempt to legalize manipulation of the stock market. The finding of congress in 1934 is the conviction of the SEC today, after five years of experience with the law."

Douglas asserted the other four members of the commission concurred with his views. He declared he would fight to the limit any effort to put the exchange program through congress.

Statement of Commission.

In a formal statement, the commission said:

"This proposal [asking a clear definition of manipulation] is presented on the ground that it will aid the capital markets. The SEC is deeply concerned with the problem of maintaining a free flow of capital, from the savings of the investor through to the productive channels of industry.

"But this commission cannot stand idly by while any attempt is made to bring investors back into the market on a 1929 basis. Such a proposal would redound only to the benefit of those whose primary interest is served by an increased volume of trading—the broker to whom more trading means quicker profits, the insider, and the market rigger—not American industry nor American investors. Sound recovery cannot be had through the use of injurious stimulants.

Adds to Uncertainty.

"The recommendation would first make the prohibitions against market rigging dependent upon rules drafted by the commission. The committee asks clarification of the law in the interests of certainty. The proposal, however, only adds uncertainty and confusion by superimposing on the present single statutory test of purpose additional tests of a far more indefinite nature. The committee's suggestion would inevitably involve the commission in a determination of appropriate price levels for securities bought and sold in our markets, if not in the actual evaluation of such securities. Such activities on the part of the commission would be directly contrary to one of the basic philosophies of our federal securities legislation.

"Weakening our safeguards against market rigging will not contribute to business recovery. On the contrary, it will serve to destroy whatever investor confidence has been built up through efforts to clean up the stock exchanges. It will not produce 'healthy buying power.'

"Proposal Protects Insider."

"It is interesting to note that the proposal to permit market rigging and pool operations is accompanied by another proposal which would exculpate the corporate insider who wishes to take personal and private advantage of his inside information.

"Similarly it is interesting to note that some of the other proposals of the committee [such as those dealing with gross sales and cost of sales] go principally to a reduction in the amount of information available to stockholders and the investing public."

Am. Air Lines' Are $213,262 1938 Profits

Increased revenues from both passenger fares and air mail pay enabled American Airlines, Inc., to earn a net profit of $213,262 last year. This was disclosed yesterday in the annual report to stockholders by C. R. Smith, president.

The same report showed that American had asked the Civil Aeronautics authority for an adjustment in mail pay to eliminate what Smith termed an "inequitable differential" in rates paid to American as compared with rates paid to other air lines. The CAA is a government agency set up last year to supervise the aviation industry.

[CAA officials in Washington said yesterday that American Airlines' petition had been received and was being analyzed. Details of the petition will be made public today by the CAA, they said.]

Earns 74 Cents a Share.

American's 1938 profit amounted to 74 cents a share and contrasted with a net loss of $93,628 in 1937. Total revenues of the system gained 11.5 per cent. Operating expenses increased from $10,296,000 in 1937 to $11,076,000 in 1938. The gain was smaller proportionately than the increase in revenues.

In explaining the company's position on the mail pay question Smith presented a comparison of rates now in effect on cross country routes for the three transcontinental air lines, the nation's biggest mail carriers. This showed that the base rate [covering the first 300 pounds carried per plane] paid to American by the postoffice department is 23 cents and in some cases 25 cents per mile for cross country transport. The base rate to another transcontinental line is 30 cents and to the third one, 31 cents, the summary showed.

"A petiton has been filed with the Civil Aeronautics authority seeking an adjustment of this inequitable differential, which primarily affects American Airlines," Smith told stockholders.

Pay Basis Compared.

Officials of the other two lines have previously pointed out that, although American's base rate per plane mile on some routes is the lowest of the three, American's compensation on the basis of pay per pound mile is larger than the pay to the other two lines, considering the total amount of mail carried by each line. A pound mile means one pound of mail transported one mile. A plane mile refers to miles flown, regardless of weight carried.

On the basis of plane miles flown, American is paid the lowest rate of the three lines. On the basis of pound miles it is paid the highest. Here is the comparison based on all mail carried by the three lines in 1938:

	1938 Per plane mile [cts.].	1938 Per pound mile [mills].
American	29.5	1.08
T. W. A.	33.8	0.83
United Air Lines	36.4	0.73

The CAA is expected to make adjustments in mail pay compensation for most of the nation's air lines within the next few months.

Reduce Debt to RFC.

Smith said in the report that American's debt to the Reconstruction Finance corporation incurred in previous years to finance the buying of new planes was reduced during 1938 by $1,333,000 and amounted at the end of the year to only $93,035. Cash on Dec. 31 was $959,000 and total current assets were $2,346,000 against current liabilities of $760,000.

Of American's total revenues of $11,332,000, passenger fares accounted for 65.7 per cent and mail pay for 29.4 per cent. Following is a breakdown of the sources of revenues last year, in 1937, and the percentage change.

Source—	1938. [000 omitted.]	1937.	Per cent increase.
Passengers	$ 7,442	$ 6,598	12.9%
Mail	3,331	2,982	11.7
Express	354	359	*1.6
Other	205	131	55.7
Total	$11,332	$10,070	11.5%

*Decrease.

Smith predicted better results in 1939 for the air line industry.

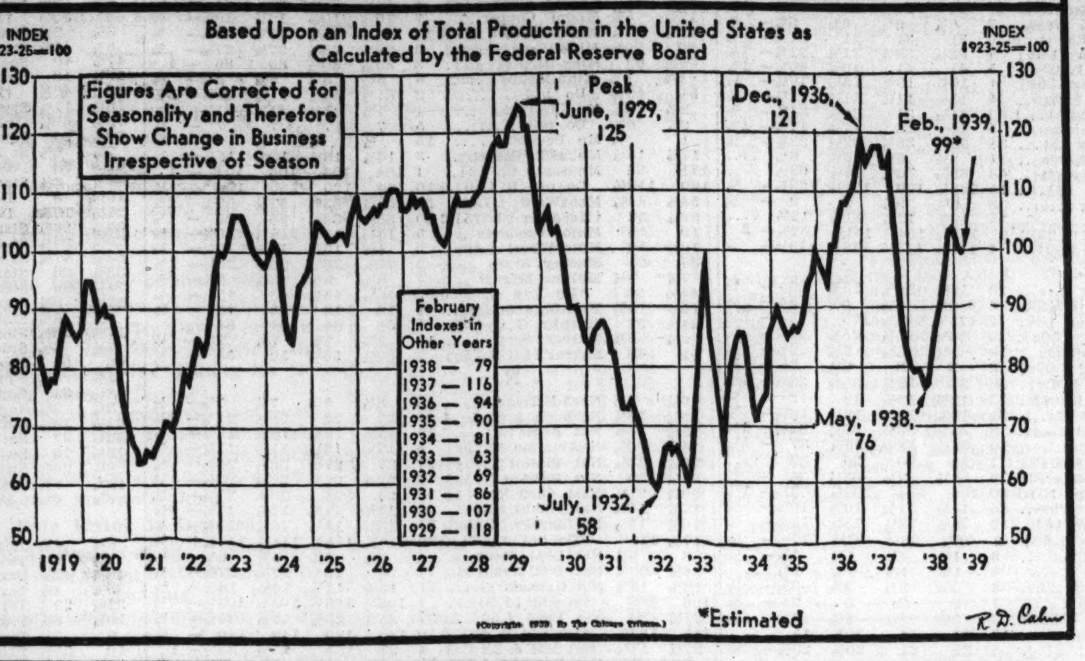
Industrial Production in the United States as Reported by the Reserve Board Governors



Net Earnings of Texas Corp. Fall in 1938

Reduced earnings for 1938, compared with 1937, were reported yesterday by the Texas corporation, Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company. The Northwest Engineering company was one of the few companies reporting to show higher earnings.

T. Rieber.

The report of the Texas corporation, one of the largest petroleum companies in the country, was signed jointly by T. Rieber, chairman of the board, and W. S. S. Rodgers, president. It showed net profit of $23,139,030 for 1938, equal to $2.13 a share, compared with $54,574,319 in 1937, equal to $5.02 a share. Gross operating revenues totaled $348,922,047, against $376,238,307 in 1937.

Complain of Tax Load.

Rieber and Rodgers complained of the "unfair proportion of the country's taxes which is being levied on the petroleum industry and its products." They pointed out that the Texas corporation paid a total of $104,357,012 in 1938. In 1926—the year used by the government as a normal pre-depression year—such taxes were $22,806,211. The increase in twelve years was 357 per cent.

"In 1938 taxes borne by the petroleum industry amounted to $1.05 for each barrel of crude oil produced," the report said. "The average weighted price of a barrel of crude oil in this country in 1938 was approximately $1.15.

"Federal and state taxes on gasoline in 1938 averaged 5.44 cents per gallon compared with 5.40 cents per gallon for 1937. These taxes represent 132 per cent of the wholesale price of 4.125 cents per gallon for mid-continent grade of gasoline at the close of 1938."

Allis-Chalmers company, Milwaukee, which manufactures machinery of many types, had a net profit of $2,553,946, equal to $1.44 a share, in 1938, compared with $7,841,167, equal to $4.42 a share, in 1937.

Reports Causes of Decline.

Otto H. Falk, chairman, and Max W. Babb, president, reported that the decrease in net earnings was due primarily to a decrease of $9,810,178 in billings, high cost of manufacturing due to decrease in production in the latter half of the year, reduction in the selling prices of certain units in the tractor and farm implement division, and because interest on the 4 per cent debentures was paid for the full year 1938 whereas the charge was effective only after September, in 1937. The company's tax bill for 1938 was $3,096,473, equal to $1.74 a share on the common stock.

BIDDERS SNUB CZECH BONDS; PRICES FALL; REST OF LIST WEAK

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—Czechoslovakian issues collapsed in the bond market today as frightened holders offered a relatively small amount in a market almost bare of bids.

All divisions of the bond market reflected fresh concern over the breakup of Czecho-Slovakia and Germany's invasion of Bohemia. Corporate loans meanwhile moved in step with a weak stock market, many trading favorites finishing 1 to 2 points lower.

United States government issues were irregular.

City of Prague 7½s declined 22 points to 48. Czech 8s of '51 dropped 18 points to 45. The Czech 8s of '52 were unquoted presumably in the absence of bids. These losses extended the sharp declines of the preceding day. A week ago Czech 8s of '51 sold at 70.

German government issues closed with fractional gains. Italian 7s finished at 65½, off 1½. Most South American bonds were down 1 to 2 or more points.

RecordsRefute Cargill Charge inSqueezeQuiz

Records submitted yesterday to Federal Referee S. Abbot Maginnis showed no members of the business conduct committee of the Chicago Board of Trade held any short interest in the corn market in the September, 1937, market squeeze.

The referee is hearing charges brought against the exchange by Cargill, Inc., Minneapolis grain firm. The company's Illinois subsidiary and its officers were expelled from the Board of Trade on charges preferred by the business conduct committee.

Charged Personal Interest.

John H. MacMillan Jr., president of Cargill, had attempted to show in earlier testimony that the committee members were personally interested in the market and were prejudiced against his firm.

After the records were presented by Howard Ellis, Board of Trade counsel, an agreement was reached to strike from the record certain testimony given earlier by Cargill relating to the market positions of Board of Trade directors.

Wallace Cites W. C. Durant.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace cited five New Yorkers and two brokerage firms today for alleged violation of the commodity exchange act.

Those cited were Joseph Buchhalter, Alexander Eisemann, William C. Durant, former Wall street operator and founder of General Motors corporation; Catherine L. Durant, wife of William C. Durant; Clement B. Johnson, H. W. Armstrong & Co., and Alexander Eisemann & Co.

The citations grew out of trading operations in grain futures contracts on the Chcago Board of Trade.

STOCK PRICES BREAK ON NEW WAR FRIGHT

Many Shares Sink 1 to 4 Points.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 15.—Stock market prices broke fraction to 4 points today as traders took a more alarming view of central European developments. Most of the damage was done by a wave of selling orders that forced the ticker tape three minutes behind late in the morning.

Taking their cue from London, professional traders here were said to have grown apprehensive and reduced their holdings. Volume was 1,113,100 shares. Reports that British statesmen were assuming a more pessimistic attitude on Germany's invasion of Czecho-Slovakia was an important factor in the war "scare," according to most observers.

After the liquidation had run its course the list turned quiet. There was a modest recovery in late dealings, but the undertone remained nervous.

Another Bearish Factor.

Another factor weighing heavily on the financial district was the remark made after the close yesterday that President Roosevelt had insisted on revenue staying up in the event of any tax law change.

Standard industrial issues were hard hit. The Dow-Jones average for thirty representative issues closed 3.44 points lower at 147.66.

General Motors and Chrysler were particular weak spots, dropping 2⅛ and 3⅞ points, respectively, in active supply. United States Steel slumped 3 points and Bethlehem gave up 3⅛. Republic Steel lost 1⅛.

New York Central, in the rail section, dropped 1⅜ points. The Dow-at $1.55, off 1.20 points. Power and light shares followed the list downward.

General Electric Dumped.

General Electric was dumped heavily to lose almost 2 points. Other heavy machinery issues showed declines running to 3¾ points in Westinghouse.

Anaconda led the coppers lower. It lost 1 point. International Nickel slumped 2¼ points. In the rubbers United States Rubber, Goodyear, Goodrich, and General Tire and Rubber all were down more than 1 point each. Texas corporation was a weak spot in the oils, losing 1¼ points.

Montgomery Ward and Sears-Roebuck lost more than 1 point each.

German Securities Rise.

LONDON, March 15.—[Special.]—Germany's absorption of Bohemia and Moravia today brought moderate buying in Berlin securities markets. Prices advanced 1 or 2 per cent. Shipping, metal, and mining shares were favored.

In London, share prices were generally marked down as traders took to the sidelines. The Paris bourse was steady in late dealings aftes an early selling spell.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—(AP)—The treasury reported today it made $72,500 net purchases of government securities for government investment accounts during February.

29 S. LA SALLE WILL BE SOLD FOR A MILLION

Equitable Life Buys to Unite Offices.

BY AL CHASE.

Approximately one million dollars cash will be paid by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States for the thirteen story office building at 29 South La Salle street, it was learned yesterday. The seller is the 29 South La Salle Street corporation, owned by the Washington National Life Insurance company which has its headquarters in Evanston. George Kendall, president of the Washington National, said negotiations were complete except for a few details.

It is understood that the Equitable Life will consolidate its Chicago offices, at present scattered along La Salle street, in the building. Probably it will be renamed the Equitable Life building.

Building Recently Modernized.

The 29 South La Salle Street building recently was completely modernized. The front was sand blasted and acid cleaned. These improvements are understood to have attracted the attention of the Equitable to the building as a possible headquarters for this area. The Real Estate corporation has been in charge of the building since last September.

The structure was built thirty-eight years ago from plans by Mundie & Jensen. For many years it was owned and occupied by the National Life Insurance company as its headquarters. When that company failed it became the property of the Hercules Life Insurance company. Later the Hercules was taken over by the Washington National Life Insurance company.

Bank a Long Time Tenant.

The Bank of Montreal has been a tenant of the building for thirty years. The Chicago Bar association in October, 1936, leased the twelfth and thirteenth floors for twenty years. The association remodeled and modernized the space on an elaborate scale.

The building is reported to be 82 per cent occupied at present. The full value of the land as fixed by the board of assessors in 1930 was $1,224,258. The building was valued at $300,000. The property fronts eighty-eight feet on La Salle and 209 feet on Arcade place.

Hearing on Pan-American's Atlantic Route Plea Is Set

Washington, D. C., March 15.—(AP)—The civil aeronautics authority announced today it will hear on April 3 Pan-American Airways' application for a trans-Atlantic route. In connection with this application, the authority also will hear Pan-American's request for "fair and reasonable" compensation for flying the mail over the Atlantic route. The company asked for $5,000,000 a year.

Stocks

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago Stock exchange prices declined yesterday as nervousness over the European situation created selling pressure. Losses ranged from fractions to 2 points. THE TRIBUNE average closed at 11.47, off 0.34 from Tuesday. The high was 11.68 and the low 11.42.

Utilities were the most heavily traded group, with both Commonwealth Edison and Middle West easing fractionally. General Motors dropped 2 points to 49 and Zenith Radio dipped ⅞ to close at 18¾.

E. J. Brach moved against the trend, rising 1 point to a new high for the year at 20. Of 119 issues traded, 53 closed higher, 88 declined and 18 remained unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks softened yesterday with the sharp drop in security markets. Trading was slow, dealers said. Continental Illinois and First National shares declined $1.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

The market for hogs advanced on extremely light receipts yesterday. The average price moved up 5 cents to $7.45 per hundred pounds, the first time in nine days that prices have not shown a decline. Cold weather and strong to 50 cent higher prices for fresh pork helped to bolster the market.

Strong to slightly higher prices prevailed for many classes of cattle. The comparatively small supply of steers and yearlings cleared on a strong to 15 cent higher basis.

Moderate supplies and colder weather lifted lamb prices 10 to 15 cents higher.

Commodities

Commodity futures prices moved narrowly yesterday. Trading was quiet. Silk futures were outstanding on the upside. Rubber and copper were conspicuous in the declining group.

Gains in silk ranged up to as much as 3½ cents a pound. The Japanese silk market also was strong. Other commodities to move higher included cocoa and sugar.

Copper futures closed 0.08 to 0.12 cent a pound lower. With the exception of tin, other metal futures were barely steady. Tin, both standard and straits, closed unchanged to 0.30 cent higher.

Zinc closed quiet and unchanged. Trade interests reported that zinc business was back to "normal" after the heavy sales last week, when producers had their best week since last fall.

Wool top futures declined under selling by New York commission houses, with Boston trade interests giving only routine support.

JUDGE ASSAILS ADAMS BLDG. TAX AS DESTRUCTIVE

But Rules Court Cannot Ease County Levy.

Cook county's assessor is, in some instances, exemplifying the truth of the adage that "the power to tax includes the power to destroy"—and there is little the courts can do to remedy the situation.

This summary was contained, in substance, in an opinion handed down yesterday by Judge Evan A. Evans of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting as a district judge in the case of Cook county against the 168 Adams Building corporation.

Judge Evans ruled that he had no authority to lower a tax claim of $500,000 against the building, and refused to hear evidence that assessments from 1928 to 1937 were "fraudulently excessive."

Property's Value $1,000,000.

However, he pointed out that the property has a value of only $1,000,000, after bondholders and creditors gave up claims for $5,000,000, and that the management in recent years has been unable to get revenue enough to pay operating expenses and taxes.

"The facts in the case cry loudly for relief," the opinion related. "Notwithstanding a desire to do so, courts must recognize not only the limits of their jurisdiction, but the futility of reviewing assessments made by local officials. . . .

"This does not mean that the action of the local board of assessors may forever overlook the justice of the trustee's request for remission of a part of debtor's taxes. I refer not to the existence of the remedy, but to the persuasive force of the justice, the merits of the taxpayer's appeal."

Power to Destroy Cited.

Judge Evans said that when the revenues left after operating costs were less by $30,000 than the tax bill, the county assessor was demonstrating the "power to destroy" doctrin.

"This was never meant to apply to business generally," he wrote. "It should be limited in its application to industries which are subject to regulation—businesses like the liquor business, which have possible evils attending their transaction. I suggest that the trustee again appeal to the assessor and restate his position.

But One Alternative.

"If specific relief be unobtainable and the debtor be put to death by its taxes, there exists but one alternative: to wait until the evils consequent upon such action so impair the credit of Chicago real estate outside the state or city that political action changing the situation will follow the swelling demand of property owners."

After confirming the validity of the assessment, Judge Evans ordered the interest on the delinquent taxes reduced from the county's claim of 12 per cent to 5 per cent because the "legal rate of interest in Illinois is 5 per cent."

The case was heard in the federal court because the 168 Adams building, which was once the home of the Midland club, was reorganized several years ago in 77B bankruptcy.

COAL OPERATORS ASK MINERS TO TAKE WAGE CUT

New York, March 15.—(AP)—The soft coal industry, asserting it had lost 340 million dollars since 1925, virtually said "no" today to the major proposals of labor and asked it to accept a 50 cents a day wage cut. The miners asked a 50 cent increase and a thirty hour work week instead of the present thirty-five hour week. Through their spokesman, Charles O'Neill of New York, the operators of the Appalachian area argued that new contract demands of the United Mine Workers of America would cost coal consumers more than 200 million dollars a year.

After a summarization of the plight of the industry the operators' spokesmen moved that terms of the 1935 contract, rather than the 1937 agreement, be incorporated in a new two year contract, effective March 31, when the present two year agreement expires.

The demands of the miners and the counterproposal of the operators were referred by the joint conference of 300 delegates to a negotiating committee of thirty-two for study beginning tomorrow.

BUTTER AND EGG PRICES STEADY IN QUIET TRADE

Butter and egg futures held steady in quiet trade on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Traders were said to be holding off the butter futures market pending clarification of the milk situation.

November storage butter closed at 22½ cents a pound. October refrigerator eggs sold at 19⅝ cents a dozen, and March storage packed eggs at 18⅛ cents.

Cardenas Offers Own Plan to Settle with Oil Firms

MEXICO CITY, March 15.—(AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas today advanced a plan of his own to settle the problem growing out of Mexico's expropriation a year ago of $400,000,000 worth of British and American owned oil properties. He presented the plan to Donald R. Richberg, representative of British and American companies, at the fifth conference the two have held. Details of Cardenas' offer were not disclosed. Another conference was fixed for tomorrow.

William Thomson Is Head of Anglo-California Bank

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15.—[Special.]—William H. Thomson, executive vice president of the California Bank since 1930, has accepted the presidency of the Anglo-California National Bank of San Francisco, it was learned today.

MANDEL'S DECEMBER SALES SET NEW HIGH RECORD FOR NUMBER

Mandel Brothers, Inc., State street department store, reported yesterday to stockholders that the number of sales in December was the largest for any month in the store's history.

Leon Mandel.

Leon Mandel, vice president and general manager, said that both earnings and sales improved in the latter half of the fiscal year ended Jan. 31. The totals for the full year, however, were below the 1937 fiscal period.

Sales last year aggregated $17,798,545, a decrease of 8.2 per cent. Lower prices prevailing in 1938 accounted in part for the sales decline, Mandel said. The year's net profit, as reported earlier, was $144,536 compared with $413,925 in 1937.

"The financial position of the company continues extremely sound," Robert Mandel, chairman, told stockholders. "There was no indebtedness to banks as of Jan. 31, 1939, nor as of the date of this report. Cash and government securities amounted to $1,406,705, against $1,022,719 last year."

BUSINESS RALLY IS REPORTED BY SEVERAL FIRMS

Edward G. Budd Now on Profit Basis.

Continued business gains were reported at stockholders' meetings yesterday by officials of companies engaged in varied lines of activity. Among the corporations that noted an improvement in earnings or reported profitable operations were the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company and Artloom corporation, Philadelphia; Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company, New York, and the United Fruit company, Boston.

Edward G. Budd, president, told stockholders the Budd company is now operating at a small profit. In the first quarter of 1938 it had a loss. The company makes parts for the automotive and other industries and builds streamlined cars.

Artloom On Profit Basis.

The Artloom corporation, which has operated at a loss for some time, in January had a profit before taxes of $29,000, A. S. Mitchell, president, told stockholders. Sales in the first two months of this year have exceeded shipments. The plant is working three shifts a day six days a week and has a backlog of orders totaling $650,000. It makes rugs, tapestries and other materials.

J. D. Creveling, president of Panhandle Eastern Pipe line, said the company's volume of gas sales for the first two months of this year was 27 per cent larger than in the first two months of 1938.

United Fruit Gain Indicated.

First quarter earnings of United Fruit probably will exceed the amount for the first 1938 quarter, Arthur A. Pollan, assistant vice president, told stockholders. Two new directors were elected, Thomas D. Cabot and Charles H. Stockton, both of Boston.

STEEL INDUSTRY IS DISAPPOINTED BY SLOW UPTURN

The steel industry has been disappointed by the hesitant upturn in sales this month, the trade magazine Iron Age reported yesterday.

"Whatever gains are being made in sales of steel products are not in keeping with the expectations for seasonal improvement in March, which frequently has been the peak month of steel production," the summary said.

Recovery in production, however, is expected to continue through the second quarter. The industry's production rate rose 1 point to 56 per cent of ingot capacity this week. The magazine emphasized that this gain was not caused by expansion of sales but by the release of specifications against previous contracts.

Operations declined 2 points to 56 per cent in the Chicago district, but advanced in the Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland-Lorain, and southern Ohio areas.

RFC FIGHTS MOVE OF PAPER FIRM TO QUIT BUSINESS

Utica, N. Y., March 15.—[Special.]—The Reconstruction Finance corporation, a mortgage creditor to the extent of $350,000, has filed an equity suit in federal court here to compel the Dexter Sulphite Pulp and Paper company to continue its business.

The directors' decision to liquidate the company is opposed by the RFC on the ground the directors represent debenture bondholders who thus seek to have their bonds come due now rather than three years after the RFC's mortgage. The RFC charges also that the closing is unnecessary and would throw 410 employés out of work, contrary to the agreement in connection with its loan, made in 1934.

Closing is opposed also by Alice M. Campbell and Florence E. Campbell, holders of 1,061 shares.

Hearing on Order for 'L' Safety Devices Concluded

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday concluded hearings on its citation against the elevated lines to show cause why an order should not be entered requiring improvement of safety devices and cars. The commission cited the company following three train wrecks during the snowstorm of Jan. 30. Chief Examiner Robert H. Farrell said he would make an early recommendation to the commission.

ILLINOIS TRUCK BILL LASHED AT PUBLIC HEARING

Varied Interests Present Their Views.

BY HAL FOUST.

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—A proposed new truck regulatory law for Illinois drew criticism this afternoon from the diverse interests concerned with the freight trafic on the public streets and highways.

It was the first public hearing at this session of the legislature on a bill drafted by a legislative commission, which has been studying the problems of highway hauling for the last two years.

The hearing developed testimony that the existing Illinois commerce commission truck regulations, under the public utility act of 1921, are unenforceable and antiquated.

Rate Fixing Is Opposed.

John C. Watson of the Illinois Agricultural association favored safety provisions of the pending bill but opposed provisions intended to fix the rates for certain types of service.

Chester Moore, director of the Central Motor Freight association, an organization of fleet owners on long haul service, said that the present permits issued by the commerce commission were millstones around the necks of their holders.

"Most operations in this state are without these permits required under the antiquated laws," he said. "These operators, however, are in constant danger of being enjoined for not complying with the commission. If they comply they're vulnerable to unregulated competitors, who then undercut the tarifs posted with the commission."

S. L. Felton of the industrial trafic council of Chicago protested against a provision which would permit the state to inquire into truck hauling contracts. His contention was that such agreements are the private business of employé and employer and of no concern to the public.

Driver Union Against Bill.

Michael J. Healy of Chicago, representing the Highway Drivers, Helpers and Platform Workers' union, said organized labor was opposed to the bill.

The galleries and floor of the house of representatives were crowded by those with personal interest in the future of highway freighting.

Senator Louis Menges [D., East St. Louis], chairman of the commission which drafted the bill, announced that another meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon.

GRAINS ADVANCE; SHORTS COVER ON EUROPE'S STRIFE

Grain prices moved higher yesterday on covering by shorts worried over European developments. After opening unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel lower, wheat rose during early trading and then backed down slightly toward the close. Final quotations on wheat were ⅛ to ⅝ cent higher.

News from central Europe inspired the morning upturn, with buying coming largely from professionals. At its peak on this bulge wheat was ¾ to ⅞ cent above Tuesday's final prices. Liverpool wheat advanced ⅝ to ⅞ cent.

Corn moved erratically within a range of about 1 cent a bushel and closed unchanged to ⅛ cent lower. May corn sold at 47½ cents at one time, or within ¼ cent of the seasonal low point. Price changes in oats, rye, and soy beans were confined to small fractions of a cent.

1938 EARNINGS OF SWIFT INT'L ARE $3,917,500

Exchange Fluctuations Help Profits.

Swift International yesterday reported that its meat packing operations and related activities in South America and Australia resulted in a 1938 net profit of $3,917,500.

Harry McLerie.

The 1938 profit was larger than that of the preceding year. In 1937 the company's net income, converted into American money at the rate used for the 1938 results, amounted to $3,708,052. The 1938 income amounted to $2.61 a share, compared with $2.47 a share in 1937.

Harry McLerie, president, told stockholders that a substantial amount of the 1938 earnings arose from the decline in the value of the Argentine peso last year. The unit was worth 22.8 cents on the open market at the end of 1938, compared with 29.5 cents a year earlier.

Operates in Several Countries.

The company is an Argentine corporation [Compania Swift Internacional], but it operates in other South American countries and in Australia. Its properties in those countries include those formerly owned by Swift & Co., Chicago packing company.

The results shown in the statement are given in terms of Argentine currency. The operating income of 15,917,739 pesos included profit of 6,000,000 pesos arising from the depreciation in the currency. The exact nature of the transactions yielding this profit is not given. An additional 4,370,111 pesos was included in earnings as the gain realized on converting net current asset values of subsidiaries in other countries into Argentine currency.

Encounter Exchange Difficulty.

President McLerie said the company encountered exchange difficulties on its Brazilian business.

"The Brazilian exchange control regulations," he said, "now require exporters to bring back to Brazil the full amount of the proceeds from the sale of products exported from that country."

Most of the company's meat products are shipped to England and continental Europe. The United States buys the bulk of the skins, wool, hides and fertilizers sold by the company.

Brazil's restrictions, he said, make it more difficult for the company to withdraw the surplus earnings from the subsidiary operating in that country.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by Frank Ridgway

Tithes Irk Farmers.

March 15, 1939.

FARMERS who operate their land under the government's Agricultural Adjustment administration program are becoming concerned over the money taken out of their federal checks to pay administrative costs. It irritates many farmers when they learn of the tithe they are paying to cover administrative costs in the counties. The county costs usually run about 10 per cent of the farmers' government payments.

Some chafe a bit when they see a neighbor driving from farm to farm, getting $5 a day and an additional 3 cents a mile for the use of his automobile, to tell tenants and land owners how to operate their farms.

In Kendall county, for example, the cost of administering the general AAA plan, government corn loans, and the federal crop insurance program amounted to $11,563 for last year. This is about 9 per cent of the farmers' total payments for coöperating on the crop control program. State and national administrative expenses are in addition to these county costs.

County Expenses Deducted.

Deductions from the farmers' AAA checks were made to cover the county expenses. County committee members were paid a total of $1,881 and the forty-five township or community committee members and their alternates were paid $2,307.

The total overhead costs run about the same regardless of the number of farmers complying within a county. All the regular farms in the county are surveyed, crop maps are prepared, and crop allotments are computed for all farmers whether or not they comply with the AAA plan and thereby qualify for government payments. But only those who coöperate with the government pay the administration costs.

For the 1938 program the burden of the cost in Kendall county fell on about 450 farms, involving 630 land owners and tenants. The coöperating farms represent approximately 40 per cent of the acreage of cropping land in the county. In addition to paying their neighbors who are employed by the government for the surveys, maps, and allotment computations made for their own farms, they paid for the work done on the county's other 850 farms where about 1,170 individual owners and tenants did not coöperate in the AAA plan last year.

One Farm Pays $178.

When the average farmer in Kendall county recently received his government AAA check for 1938 compliance he found that approximately $20 to $25 had been deducted for county administrative costs. On one farm of 160 acres the farmer's share of the cost totaled $31. The largest farm in the county paid $178 as its share of the AAA cost.

With the government offering greatly to increase federal payments and encourage more farmers to comply with the AAA plan for 1939, the administrative costs per farmer are expected to be lower this year than last. The costs per individual farm decreases as the number of participating farmers increases.

Farmers are expected to take more interest in seeing that administrative costs are held down this year because they have learned that the more it costs to administer the plan the less they get.

Administrative costs of the AAA program run into hundreds of thousands of dollars for states and many millions of dollars for the nation. These costs will be discussed in a later article.

BOARD OF TRADE DIRECTORS SEEK TO HIKE REVENUE

Fee Increases and Other Changes Proposed.

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday recommended to the membership a series of amendments designed to produce additional revenue. The directors, who are trying to increase the board's income and cut its expenses, recently adopted a number of economy measures for operating the exchange.

The amendments would raise the transfer fees on memberships, would authorize "split" quotations in the execution of orders, and would set higher commission rates for the execution of orders of job lots of grain futures originating outside of Chicago. A vote by the membership is necessary before the amendments can become effective.

Trading Is Slack.

Economy measures and efforts to increase revenue were said to be necessary because of the absence of large trading in grain futures. Volume on the board last year was the lowest since 1921. No record was kept prior to that year. Trading volume has not improved this year.

The new commission rates provided by the amendments will be not less than $3.50 per 1,000 bushel unit to nonmembers and $2 per unit for members. The present rate is ¼ cent a bushel to nonmembers and ⅛ cent a bushel to members.

An increase in the transfer fee on memberships from the present 5 per cent of the purchase price to 10 per cent is provided by one amendment. It provides that the fee will be not less than $400 nor more than $1,000. The existing schedule provides a minimum of $250 and a maximum of $500.

Will Apply on Debt.

Fees to be derived from a change in ownership of a membership will be used to reduce or retire the mortgage indebtedness of the Board of Trade Safety Deposit company, which owns the Board of Trade building. About 125 memberships are transferred annually.

"Split" quotations, provided in another amendment, were outlawed some years ago. The "split" quotation permits a broker who receives an order for 10,000 bushels to buy or sell 5,000 bushels at the contract price and 5,000 bushels at ⅛ cent above or below the contract price.

A vote will be taken on March 27 on the proposed amendments.

G. L. Ohrstrom's Illinois Broker License Canceled

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes yesterday canceled the registration of G. L. Ohrstrom & Co., Inc., 141 West Jackson boulevard, as security broker in Illinois. The firm's registrations in Illinois and New York were revoked recently by the Securities and Exchange commission on charges of creating a false market for capital stock of Sweet's Steel company.

EASTERN MAKES PROFITS.

Investors' Guide: My broker is advising me to buy some stock in Eastern Air Lines, and I should like a report from you on the company before I part with my cash. Does the line depend largely on passengers or air mail for its revenues? How does it compare in size with other major air lines? As I understand it, Eastern does not have transcontinental service. Please tell me something about its profit record.—A. C.

Answer: In contrast to most air lines, which have either lost money or had erratic earnings records, Eastern Air Lines has steadily increased its profits in the last four years. Control of Eastern was sold about a year ago to Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, world war ace, and a group of bankers, but the company was set up on its present operating basis in 1934. Here is its operations record:

	Revenues.	Net income.	Net inc. per shr.
1938	$5,658,000	$354,000	$0.85
1937	4,799,000	197,000	.47
1936	3,935,000	183,000	.44
1935	3,262,000	33,000	.08

Because of its winter vacation business, Eastern's most profitable operations are in the winter months, when most of the lines are operating at a low point. Eastern carries winter travelers wanting warmth from New York to Miami, Houston, and other southern points.

It also has a Chicago to Miami run. What this winter business means in profits is indicated by the fact that $216,000, or 60 per cent of the 1938 profit was made in the last three months of the year. Except for Texas stops, Eastern planes do not fly west of Chicago.

On many schedules Eastern has little competition from other lines and is not forced into costly passenger fare reduction rates. Its "inverted peak season" enabled it to lease five planes for the 1938-'39 winter from United Air Lines, thus cutting down on new equipment expenditures. This will in turn mean the saving of depreciation charges which are heavy on airplanes chiefly because of rapid obsolescence.

Of the major air lines Eastern receives a larger proportion of revenues than any other from passenger fares. Last year passenger fares were nearly 70 per cent of total revenues and mail pay was only 27 per cent.

Of the domestic air lines Eastern is fourth in size on the basis of revenues. Its receipts were about 14 per cent of total revenues for all air lines last year.

No dividends have been paid on the common stock issued a year ago when the Rickenbacker group took over the line. Eastern's cash of $1,288,000 on Dec. 31 was nearly twice current liabilities of $655,000.

Salesmen.

MEN FOR A PERMANENT CONNECTION
My company has authorized me to contact 6 men immediately who live on the north or northwest side of Chicago and suburbs, test them out for several days while in training, without any expense or cost whatsoever to these men, and place them immediately in our north side branches on a permanent basis with liberal participation in the profits with no investment.
Steadiness and good character needed, not ability to talk, nor a clientele, nor any previous experience. We are not advertising for salesmen, because our very successful method of putting our prospect into the market is so unusual that it must be taught especially, but it is so simple to learn that no time need be lost in getting started. While getting started men of average ability must be willing to get along on a reasonable weekly percentage.
You learn from practical men earning substantial incomes every week. We do not require men with electrical device sales experience because this work is so different from sales jobs as interpreted by the great majority of men. However, to be accepted you must be willing to work hard and study to qualify for the larger pay schedule. Call Thursday, 10 to 10:30 a. m. only, Sheridan Plaza Hotel, Sheridan and Wilson. Ask for Mr. Ganz.

Immediate Opportunity
FOR CHICAGO MEN, ALSO FOR MEN LIVING IN ILLINOIS—INDIANA—WISCONSIN.
NEW, AMAZING PRODUCT THAT ENJOYS THE SAME POSITION IN ITS FIELD TODAY AS THE ELECTRIC LIGHT DID TO THE KEROSENE LAMP YEARS AGO.
Under the unique merchandising plan men who qualify will be set up in business for themselves and assisted in getting started successfully.
Under the co-operative plan branch dealers get phenomenal results; earnings as high as $20 daily.
Permanent. No investment necessary. No lean seasons. We can train any intelligent, clear thinker to sell this electric product and assure him of at least $40 commissions first week.
If you are wide awake and want a business that pays big earnings, investigate this unusual opportunity.

"How I Got a Loan of $100 without embarrassment or delay."
"I needed $100 in a hurry. I dreaded to ask friends for a favor. And I had no security for getting a loan at a bank. What was I to do? Fortunately I heard about Household Finance and so went to a nearby office. The manager was courteous and friendly. He merely asked me a few simple questions. The next day I got the money with 20 months to repay. Only my wife and I signed the papers. I was delighted to get a loan so simply and promptly."
Whether you are married or single, if you need a loan of $20 to $300 the manager of the Household office near you will be glad to discuss your problem with you in complete privacy and without obligation. Why not phone or visit him today?

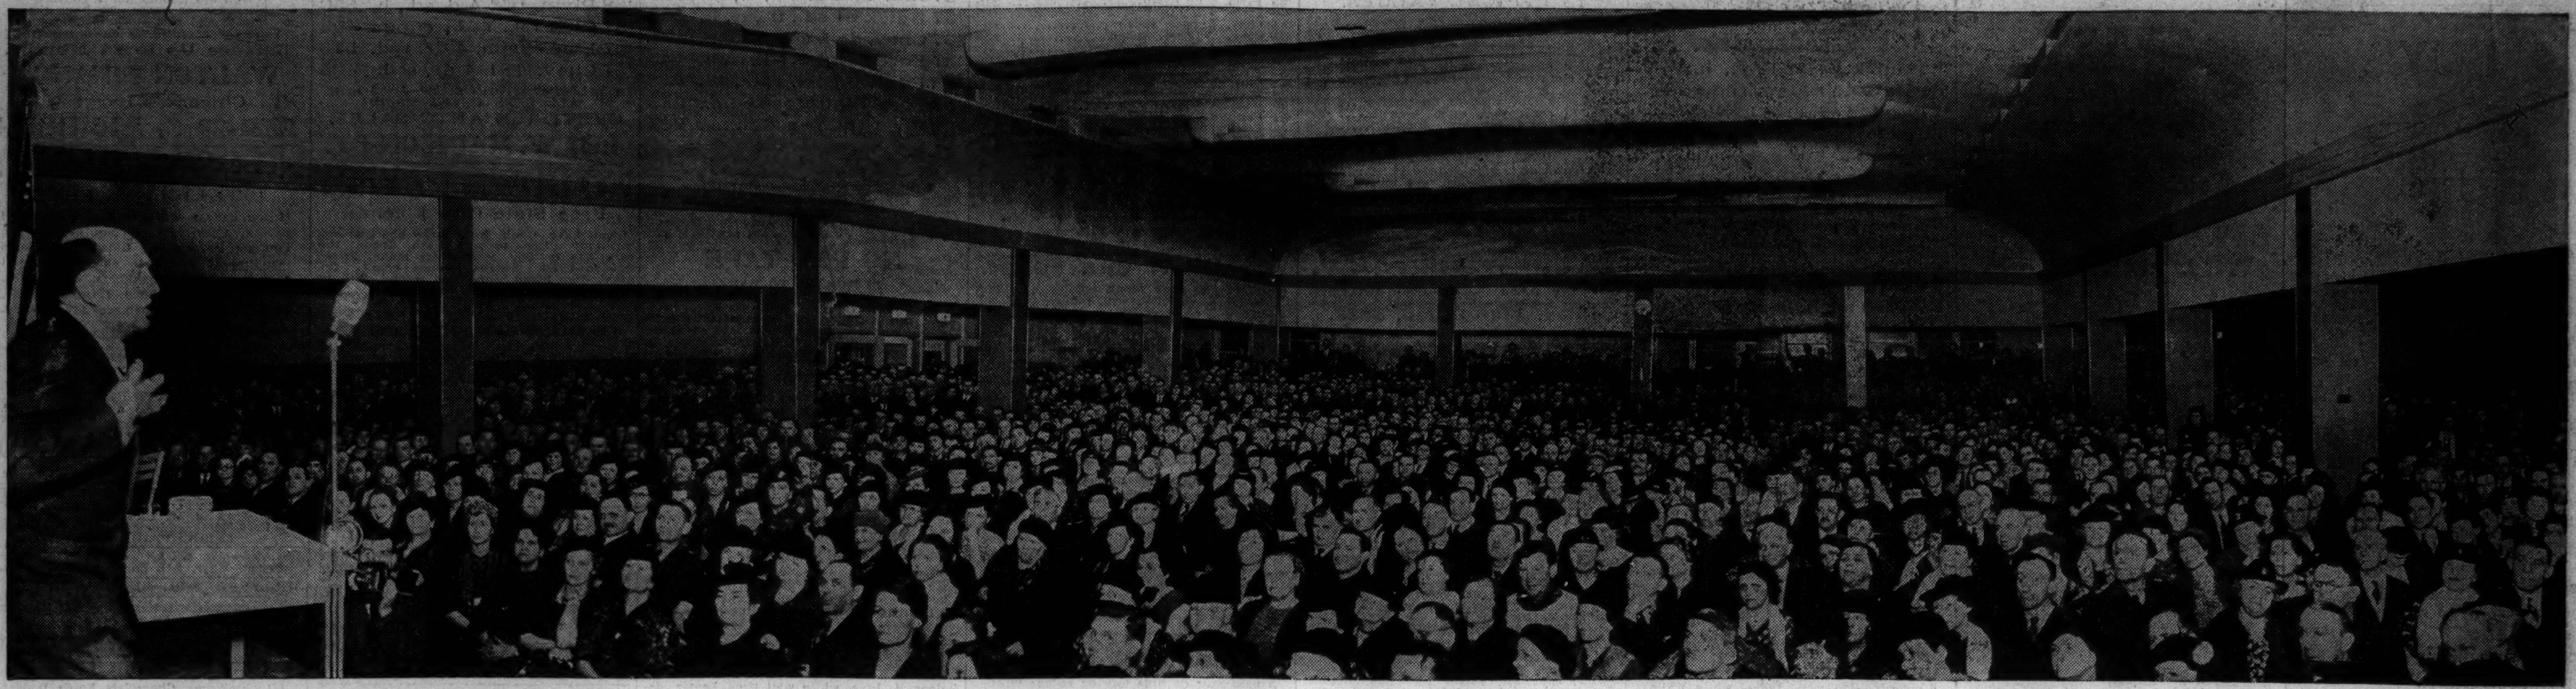
Hitler May Declare "Holy Empire" Today—Enters Prague as Nazis Absorb Bohemia and Moravia



Dr. Jan Masaryk, son of the founder of Czecho-Slovakia, addressing Americans of Czech and Slovak descent, in protest meeting at Pilsen hall, 26th street and Albany avenue, last night. Masaryk advised the listeners to cherish their American citizenship and by their conduct to set an example of free citizens in a free country. Dr. Masaryk was his country's ambassador to Great Britain at the time of the Munich pact, which sought to appease Hitler with Sudetenland.
